SHERRY GLIED, PhD,
NAMED RECIPIENT OF THE
2021 WILLIAM B. GRAHAM PRIZE FOR
HEALTH SERVICES RESEARCH

Congratulations to Sherry Glied, PhD, the 2021 recipient of the William B. Graham Prize for Health Services Research. The Prize was established in 2006 to honor the late William B. Graham, long-time CEO of Baxter International. The Prize is the highest distinction that researchers in the health services field can achieve, and succeeds the Baxter International Foundation Prize for Health Services Research.

In alignment with the Baxter international Foundation’s strategic pillars, the Prize currently focuses on increasing access to healthcare, specifically highlighting how the creation and adoption of health services research has significantly contributed to improved and more accessible health service delivery worldwide.

Sherry Glied was named Dean of New York University’s Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service in 2013. From 1989-2013, she was Professor of Health Policy and Management at Columbia University’s Mailman School of Public Health and Chair of the Department of Health Policy and Management from 1998-2009. On June 22, 2010, Glied was confirmed by the U.S. Senate as Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation at the Department of Health and Human Services, and served in that capacity from July 2010 through August 2012. She had previously served as Senior Economist for health care and labor market policy on the President’s Council of Economic Advisers in 1992-1993, under Presidents Bush and Clinton, and participated in the Clinton Health Care Task Force. She has been elected to the National Academy of Medicine, the National Academy of Social Insurance, and served as a member of the Commission on Evidence-Based Policymaking.
