We have a great lineup of specialized sessions planned for this year's event. Our popular workshops will continue this year with the themes of:

- Technical Interoperability Standards
- UAV Regulatory Issues
- Modelling & Simulation
- UVS for First Responders
- Wildlife and Resource Monitoring

Special sessions planned for this year's conference are:

- Safety and Security
- Civil Airspace Integration
- UVS Solutions in the Arctic
- Wildlife and Resource Monitoring
- Industrial Solutions
- Sensors and Imagery
- Research & Development
- Surface and Underwater UVS
- Modelling and Simulation
- Training and Qualifications
- Mini and Micro UVS

We will, of course, continue the very successful plenary sessions with presentations from leading UVS users.

The Unmanned Systems Canada Conference continues to be the pre-eminent UVS event of the year combining technical and showcase sessions, and fun-filled social events.

The event schedule is posted on the Unmanned Systems Canada website along with links to the on-line conference registration. If you are interested in submitting a presentation for the technical sessions or renting exhibit space, please contact us or visit our web site.

Don't miss Unmanned Systems Canada's 8th National Conference as Canada's talented unmanned vehicle systems community gathers to celebrate another year of exceptional progress and growth..

In keeping with our mandate to bring UVS technology to all parts of Canada, in 2010 we are bringing this world class event to Montréal, Quebec where we hope to achieve "Innovation through Communication".

The Unmanned Systems Canada conference is a truly international affair that is now one of the largest gatherings of the unmanned systems community worldwide. At our past conferences, new and powerful ideas flourished as attendees from the Canadian government, academia, and industry, along with our many international friends, had the opportunity to meet, network and tell their stories. Numerous new partnerships have been launched in the halls and lounges of past meetings. This year will certainly stimulate even more innovation.

So don't be disappointed, register today as Unmanned Systems Canada goes to Montréal to spread "Innovation through Communication".

To have your organization associated with this premier event, there are various Exhibition and Sponsorship Opportunities available at the Unmanned Systems Canada Web site: www.unmannedsystems.ca
