CoreNetGlobal UK appoints new President

The new President Elect for CoreNet Global's UK Chapter was announced at last month's CoreNet's annual summer party as Philip Cohen, Manager of Global Corporate Real Estate Strategy and Transactions at leading global insurance company AIG. Philip will take over from the current President, James Maddock of DTZ, in January 2016 and will act as President for 12 months.

Philip Cohen, commented: "The last year has been an exciting time for the corporate real estate community with the economy showing real signs of recovery. The mindset of many corporates has shifted towards growth both in terms of revenue and headcount although there still remains a strong focus on cost with greater efficiencies being derived via the greater use and reliance on technology. All of these changes mean that those in the corporate real estate sector face increasing challenging demands in both meeting the both the physical and financial demands of their customers."

"My role over the next year will be to ensure we continue to provide members with high quality real estate knowledge, professional development and an effective and enjoyable networking forum. Corporate real estate is continuously evolving and it will be my role to keep our members up to date with the latest trends, best practices, strategies and solutions."

This year will see London host the CoreNet Global Summit which will provide members an opportunity to learn from the wide range of educational seminars and network with like-minded experts from around the world. For more information visit:
