Speech and Presentation Techniques

Friday, Oct. 16, 2009
1:30 p.m. to 4:45 p.m.

You've been asked to present a report at the next staff meeting. Do you:

- Bribe a coworker to present the report
- Plan to call in sick that day
- Get a new job
- Prepare and deliver a great presentation using the techniques learned in Robin's seminar

Robin uses his education, association involvement, management experience and most recent training experiences to help you properly prepare and deliver a speech or presentation that will insure better results. Robin will take the fear out of public address and group communication.

Robin is living his adulthood dream! In 1996 he left the corporate world to share his story with people from nonprofit organizations to Fortune 500 companies. Robin has a Bachelor of Science degree with an emphasis in interpersonal communications. While in college, he was a two time All-American gymnast, floor exercise champion and gymnast of the year.

Robin has been recognized by America's Outstanding Names and Faces and the Who's Who Registry of Rising Young Americans in Business and Society. In 1993, he was inducted into his University's Athletic Wall of Fame.

Tailor made presentations, being easy to work with and an "Exceeds Expectations" vision are a few reasons why, today, Robin travels the country as a Keynote Speaker and Entertainer.

Saturday Morning Sessions

Social Networking: What it is, who's using it & why

Presenter – Susan Finco
President and Owner

Social media is the hot topic. But exactly what is it? Who's using it? And why? What does it mean to you and your business? Leonard & Finco Public Relations has done extensive research and has compiled some basic information about social media and networking. Susan's presentation will give you some ideas about what might work for you and how to move forward.

Succession Planning

Presenter – Pat Falkenhagen CPS
Wisconsin Division President

Every day of our lives, in some way or another, we experience the opportunity to lead or to follow. In order for each of us to be successful in our professional and personal lives, it is essential that we are able to recognize the qualities of a good leader, to be an active contributing member of the team, and to know when to lead and when to follow.

Succession planning is a process to help define who our future leaders are and how to help them reach their fullest potential. Succession planning allows us to move away from the reactive process of pleading with individuals to fill officer positions to the proactive system of locating the right individuals to fill those roles.

This session will

1. Provide an overview of the qualities of leaders and what you can do to cultivate those qualities.
2. Analyze succession planning steps to lay the foundation for the future of your chapter.
3. Discuss mentoring as a tool for leaders.

Approval pending for 1 recertification point for each session.

Saturday Afternoon Sessions

The Power of Commitment -
Are You a Chicken or a Pig? (There IS a good answer!)

Presenter – Lynne Woida CPS/CAP
Past Chapter President

What are you committed to at home? At work? Within IAAP? Share in a practical and fun way to explore the Power of Commitment within your professional and personal circumstances. Lynne will identify three hallmark qualities of commitment, how to put it into practice in everyday life, and how to use those qualities to overcome obstacles. Expect some voluntary audience participation, but we promise you won't be required to oink or lay an egg.

Workshops (choose one):

Course #1
Resumes and Interviews

Presenters – Laura Despins, CPC, Division Manager
Mary Rismeyer, CTS, Senior Employment Specialist

"I was perfect for that job! If I could have just gotten an interview, I could have shown them!" The resume gets you the interview and the interview gets you the job! Do you want a competent resume that keeps you in the pack of competent candidates, or one that makes you worth a second look? What do you say when the interviewer asks...."Tell me about yourself?" What is the best way to answer a Behavioral Interview question? Attend our Resume Writing and Interviewing Tips presentation and gain insights on how to get noticed in this market of high unemployment.

Course #2
Green Meeting Planning

Presenter – Jodi Goldbeck
Meeting & Event Management Instructor

In this presentation, we will explore sustainable initiatives, green choices and how to develop a sustainability strategy for meetings. Being "green" no longer means just recycling paper and water bottles. It is a conscious decision to implement best practices to minimize the negative impact on the environment. After leaving this session, you will have a new perspective on the term "Going Green" and be able to incorporate many of those ideas into the meetings that you plan.

Approval pending for 1 recertification point for each session.
