“What are your “thinking faces” and other non-verbal cues telling others and how can you ensure you are sending the right message?”

Are Your Non-Verbals Betraying You?

We will dive into the world of non-verbals and discover whether or not your non-verbal communications are driving your co-workers, bosses and opportunities away. We all have “I’m thinking” faces and likely have some “life experience lines” in our complexion to show for it. What are your thinking faces and other non-verbal cues telling others and how can you ensure you are sending the right message?
