

To view this article access the Journal of Forensic Nursing here

The author:

Dr. Janice Ceccucci began her work in forensic nursing in 2005 as a SANE nurse. She received her SANE-A and her SANE-P in 2007. She became the coordinator for the Samaritan Hospital SANE program from 2006 – 2010. Dr. Ceccucci completed her masters degree as a family nurse practitioner in 2009 where she transitioned to practice in the emergency department as a nurse practitioner. In 2011, she created Forensic Nurse Practitioners of Schenectady, LLP where she provides services to three child advocacy centers. Her article, “Evaluating Nurse Practitioners Perceived Knowledge, Competence, and Comfort Level in Caring for the Sexually Abused Child” is published in the Jan/Mar 2018 issue of the Journal of Forensic Nursing. Dr. Ceccucci, who holds a Doctor of Nursing Practice from Upstate Medical University, currently works as a nurse practitioner in family practice in Malta, NY. She also continues to perform medical-forensic exams at three child advocacy centers and is an adjunct professor at the State University of New York Polytechnic Institute in Utica, NY.