

ANCOLD Seminar 2013

Retarding Basins Fundamentals

Monday 15 April - Novotel Brisbane, Brisbane
Tuesday 16 April - The Menzies, Sydney
Wednesday 17 April - Sebel Albert Park, Melbourne

Retarding basins are becoming increasingly important elements in urban flood planning throughout Australia, but it is evident that many basins have not been implemented in line with modern day “risk management” approaches.

Accordingly, as part of its professional development program, and in advance of the proposed Guideline on Retarding Basins due out in 2014, the Australian National Committee on Large Dams (ANCOLD) is planning a series of seminars on Retarding Basin Fundamentals.

The seminars are being provided to assist basin owners, and their professional staff and advisors, to plan, implement and operate their basins in a safe and effective manner consistent with various Government and “duty of care” obligations.

Fundamentals will include:

Legislation
Hydrology
Consequence Assessment
Storage Sizing
Flood Capability
Basin Design
Construction
Operation
Maintenance
Emergency Planning

The one day seminars are being presented by leading dam safety and risk management professionals including:

Richard Rodd

Dams consultant with over 40 years experience in dam and basin design, construction, operation and maintenance.

Kelly Maslin

Dams consultant with over 15 years experience in dams and risk management.

Norm Himsley

Dams consultant and member of NSW Dam Safety Committee with over 40 years experience in dam and basin design, construction, operation and maintenance.
