

Sustainable Planning Act and Development Assessment

Course overview

This one-day intensive program offers the definitive guide to planning legislation and its impact upon local Governments. This program will provide an opportunity to explore the background to the planning legislation and its implications for planning schemes and infrastructure planning. This program and training manual is the culmination of legal, planning, and development experts produced in conjunction with IPWEAQ.

Designed for

Engineers, Town Planners, Asset Management, Planning and Development Services who are responsible for long term community plans, long term asset plans, PIP's and planning scheme development.

Your presenter

John Cotter - Managing Director, The Flinders Group

John is a Town and Infrastructure Planner who specialises in the planning, acquisition and development of local, state and federal government major planning and infrastructure projects. John has worked with local governments in development of growth management tools including PIP's, ICP's, strategic planning and local growth policy. John advises on corporate advisory, commercial asset frameworks, strategic urban planning, project gateways, procurement modelling, infrastructure delivery and governance. John is a Major Corporate Partner of IPWEAQ and is also part of the Local Government Alliance who are dedicated engineering, legal, planning, accounting and financial firms aiming to partner with local governments in solving growth management.
