Speaker

Edward Robertson

Edward has been a leader in developing risk management methods for a number of years. He is the author of British Columbia Government's Enterprise Risk Management Guideline based on his experience refining risk assessment and implementation with departments, public corporations, commissions and agencies in British Columbia, Government of Yukon, and Government of Saskatchewan. He has presented his results at the RIMS ERM Summit, and published in Risk Management Magazine. Edward provided advice and risk facilitation services to the Vancouver Olympic games Organizing Committee, Camosun College, and a number of large government ministries.

How You Will Benefit

By attending this workshop, executives and others responsible for developing and implementing ERM will learn to:

Improve organizational decision-making and the bottom line with the necessary support and resources essential for an ERM program

Accurately assess your organization's risk management needs and customize a program suitable for its unique challenges

Develop a written ERM Action Planner that outlines the specific questions you need to answer in order to sell, design and implement ERM

What You Will Cover

Overview and advantages of ERM

Establish internal and external contexts of risk culture, and sustainable development of ERM and strategic planning

Identify, analyze and evaluate risk using exposure analysis and uncertainty modeling

Select and implement appropriate risk management techniques, i.e. mitigation, crisis communication, risk financing and alternative risk transfer options

Monitor results and review plan to ensure corporate governance and compliance

Communication with internal and external stakeholders

Comprehensive ERM business case study

CRM E Exam

The cost of the exam is $300 US. Once participants complete the workshop they can register for the exam on the RIMS website. You must complete the workshop before you can register for the exam.

(Exam consists of 60 multiple choice questions and 4 short answer questions and is 90 minutes. There will be 4 testing windows during the year. The first will be at the end of March so participants can take the exam while the material is fresh in their minds.)
