

Dan Segal

A soug ht-after instructor of Greenland technique, Dan Segal has taught, demonstrated, and lectured at Greenland kayaking events throughout the United States over the past decade and a half. Paddlers from all over the world -- including Greenland -- have come to work with him. Indulging a life-long passion for small boats, Dan has been the managing editor of both the Small Boat Journal, and The Yacht magazine. He's sailed hundreds of boats, traditional and modern, large and small, often reviewing them in print. However, his passion for Greenland kayaking eclipsed his love of sailing. His time on the water now is mostly spent in a replica of a kayak collected by Dutch whalers in the 17th century.
