

Certification PDU Opportunities

Following is an overview of the activities that qualify for professional development units (PDU) and in what amounts to meet requirements for the series of Certified in Family and Consumer Sciences credentials (CFCS, CFCS-HDFS, and CFCS-HNFS); the Certified Personal and Family Finance Educator credential (CPFFE); and/or the Certified Nutrition and Wellness Educator (CNWE).

- Professional development units can be earned only for activities that promote the certificant’s enhanced professional level knowledge and skill directly associated with the competencies embodied in the certification held (competencies identified for the Personal and Family Finance Educator exam for those holding the CPFFE credential; competencies identified for the Nutrition and Wellness Educator exam for those holding the CNWE credential; or competencies identified for the Family and Consumer Sciences composite exam for any of the CFCS series of certifications...CFCS, CFCS-HNFS, or CFCS –HDFS).
- Individuals holding both a CFCS-series certification (CFCS, CFCS-HNFS, or CFCS-HDFS) and the CPFFE or CNWE certification may count an activity’s PDU toward the renewal requirements of both certifications if the activity aligns with the competencies identified for the exam for both certifications (CFCS series and CPFFE or CNWE).
