April 24, 1989

Dear Colleagues:

Enclosed are the minutes of last summer's meeting of the Asian-American Law Librarians Group in Atlanta. The 1989 Meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 20th, from 4-6 p.m., at Bally's in Reno. The room will be Metro A.

In light of our statement of purpose (see minutes), we are currently planning a program to help us get to know one another better ("to enhance 'communication' and 'to provide...for the exchange...of ideas and information..."). Specifically, we are planning small group discussions on various topics. Currently under consideration are "Research and Publication in the Field of Asian Law", and "Future Directions for the Asian-American Law Librarians Group". If you have other ideas for discussion topics or if you would be interested in leading a discussion group, please let me know as soon as possible.

Unfortunately, things have not worked out for us to co-sponsor the program on "The Japanese Legal System and International Trade" (Wednesday, June 21st, at 9:00 a.m.). Our group will be mentioned from the podium, however, and we have been invited to leave literature about our group at the back of the room. Another program you might want to consider attending is "A New Horizon for International Trade: The Pacific Basin" (Tuesday, June 20th, at 10:30 a.m.).

In addition to meetings, we also plan, if the Group is interested, to have lunch or dinner together at a local Asian restaurant in Reno. (Yes, there are some!) Please plan to join us in Reno, and encourage your friends and colleagues to join us as well!

Sincerely,

William B. McCloy
