Dear Colleagues:

The program for this summer's meeting of the Asian-American Law Librarians Group continues to take shape. Dr. Chin Kim, Director of the Law Library and Professor of Law at California Western School of Law has agreed to give a short address to kick off our discussion groups on "Research and Publication in the Field of Asian Law". The focus will be on what we as law librarians can do in this area, both as individuals and as a group.

Dr. Kim has published widely during a long and productive career. A Festschrift published in 1987 lists 7 books and over 70 articles written in 7 different languages! Their subject matter encompasses European law, Anglo-American law, the law of several Asian countries, and a myriad of subject areas. His most recent monograph is an English translation of the Criminal Procedure Code of the People's Republic of China.

I hope you will all plan to join us on Tuesday, June 20th, from 4-6 p.m., at Bally's in Reno, room Metro A. Bring your friends, and prepare for a stimulating discussion.

I will be arriving at Bally's in Reno on Friday evening, June 16th. Please feel free to contact me before then or in Reno if you have any questions or suggestions for the group.

Sincerely,

William B. McCloy
