Northeastern University, a preeminent global, experiential, research university seeks an experienced, visionary leader as its next Dean, School of Nursing.

Nested within the Bouvé College of Health Sciences, the School of Nursing awards a wide range of programs from baccalaureate through doctoral degrees, including Philosophy (PhD) and Nursing Practice (DNP) and several certificate programs. The School currently has over 1,000 undergraduate and graduate students and 48 full-time faculty across the Boston, Burlington, and Charlotte (NC), campuses. In addition to the School of Nursing, the Bouvé College is also comprised of the schools of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences; Community Health and Behavioral Sciences; and Clinical and Rehabilitation Sciences.

Minimum requirements include a PhD, DNP, or EdD in nursing or a related field; a record of distinguished teaching and research; prior administrative experience, preferably within an academic setting; proven success in external funding; eligibility to obtain RN licensure in Massachusetts and credentials that merit appointment at the rank of full professor in nursing. The next Dean will possess the vision and the communication, management, and leadership skills to ensure operational excellence and sustainable growth and differentiation of the School of Nursing.

Located in the heart of Boston and a leader in interdisciplinary research, community engagement, and the integration of classroom with real-world experiential learning, Northeastern University offers a comprehensive range of undergraduate, graduate, and workforce development programs.

Inquiries, nominations, and applications are invited. Applications should include a cover letter and curriculum vitae and be sent via email to NortheasternNursing@wittkieffer.com. Inquiries may be addressed to Joyce De Leo, Ph.D. at 630-575-6177, or Claudia Teschky at 630-575-6172, the WittKieffer consultants supporting this search.
