

Dean of Nursing, Florida State College at Jacksonville

Florida State College at Jacksonville has an immediate opening for a Dean of Nursing. The Dean of Nursing plans, administers and advances the instructional program(s), curricula, and provides for an environment which fosters positive attitudes, recognition, creativity, incentives, and opportunities for personal and professional growth among faculty and staff for the Bachelor Science in Nursing, Associate Degree Nursing and Practical Nursing programs. The Dean of Nursing ensures national accreditation of the Bachelor Science in Nursing, Associate Degree Nursing and Practical Nursing programs by the National League of Nursing Accrediting Commission and/or other pertinent accrediting bodies and serve as the formal liaison between the nursing program and the community at large, and health care agencies to secure quality clinical sites.

FSCJ seek a Dean of Nursing who can mentor and guide faculty to design and develop new courses and programs; review and decide outcome of student appeals and complaints within established policies and procedures. Manage the applicable provisions of the negotiated faculty collective bargaining agreement. Maintain high standards of nursing education as the college expands the program to meet the needs of the local workforce.

The Dean of Nursing will be an effective leader with excellent communication and collaboration skills and strong analytical and problem-solving skills. At a minimum the ideal candidate will possess a Master's degree from a regionally accredited institution with a concentration related to the assigned instructional/student service area(s) supplemented by at least two (2) years of supervisory and/or teaching/counseling experience in higher education at the two (2) or four (4) year college level. The preferred candidate will have a Ph.D., D.NSc., Ed.D., or equivalent from a regionally accredited college or university supplemented by three (3) years of teaching and three (3) years of administrative experience in a college setting.

Compensation is commensurate with education and experience and includes a competitive base salary and an excellent benefits package that includes affordable health, dental and vision insurance plans, participation in the Florida Retirement System (FRS), College provided term life insurance and long-term disability (LTD) coverage, a generous leave package, as well as many other benefits.
