Open Nursing Positions

The University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing, one of 12 Schools in a highly ranked institution, is dedicated to the integration of interdisciplinary research, education, and practice. Ranked as the best nursing school in the world the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing advances the entire profession, from research & education to practice & policy. We invite PhD prepared individuals to apply to the standing faculty (tenure track and clinician educator) at junior and senior ranks. We also invite individuals with terminal doctoral degrees (e.g., PhD, DNP) to apply to the associated faculty (research and practice tracks) at junior and senior ranks. Postdoctoral training or academic experience is preferred. Rank and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The School of Nursing seeks to recruit faculty with expertise in promoting the health of diverse populations, in managing complex care needs, in precision science, data science, and implementation science to meet our overarching priorities and to contribute to the health of individuals, families, and communities.
