Dear American Academy of Nursing,

As the Congresswoman for the District of Columbia, it is my pleasure to extend a warm welcome to the American Academy of Nursing on your 40th Annual Meeting and Conference. The District of Columbia is honored to host individuals dedicated to improving the health of individuals living in the District and throughout the country.

The Academy’s focus on “Transforming Health Care: Driving Policy” is sure to yield significant results and enhance the already critical role nurses play in our health care system. Your knowledge and dedication to the nursing profession is appreciated by all.

On behalf of the residents of the District of Columbia, I congratulate the new Fellows on their induction into the American Academy of Nursing. I wish you, and all the Fellows, continued success in all that you do.

Sincerely,

Eleanor Holmes Norton
Member of Congress
Increasingly, nurses are shaping health and health policy in profound ways. At all levels in health care organizations, educational institutions and government agencies, nurses and particularly Academy Fellows are being called upon, or boldly stepping forward, to propose ideas and to play leadership roles in change efforts. Over the past year, Fellows have leveraged their expertise and networks to generate strong policy statements and to initiate action to improve the health and well-being of individuals, communities and populations. Many of these initiatives are described in my President’s Messages in issues of Nursing Outlook.

Our conference this year with its recurring theme of Transforming Health Care: Driving Policy, is particularly timely as it offers an excellent opportunity for Fellows and other colleagues to engage in lively discussions about policy and nursing’s role in shaping it. Dynamic speakers and provocative conversations in the Policy Dialogues will spark new ways of thinking about the issues and generate new ideas for action. Through our plenary sessions, and expanded opportunities for dialogue and debate, as well as our expert panel meetings and social events, we will have opportunities to connect and communicate. At our induction ceremony, we will welcome a new cohort of Fellows who are more than equipped to join us in our work.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I would like to extend thanks for the significant contributions of the many individuals who helped organize this event, including the Annual Meeting Planning Committee — led by Colleen Goode, PhD, RN, NEA-BC, FAAN; Julie Fairman, PhD, RN, FAAN; Debra Toney, PhD, RN, FAAN and our Staff Liaison Jocelyn Cunic.

I look forward to a very stimulating experience over the next few days, and encourage you to take advantage of all the opportunities it offers for connecting with and learning from each other.

Sincerely,

Joanne Disch, PhD, RN, FAAN
President
Welcome to the American Academy of Nursing’s 40th Annual Meeting and Conference. We are looking forward to celebrating our 40th anniversary and excited that you are joining us for this conference in our great capital city of Washington DC! The program is focused on Transforming Health Care and Driving Policy and is designed to demonstrate nursing’s contributions to improving health and implementing policy.

The Annual Conference agenda features highly notable speakers including:

Lieutenant General Patricia D. Horoho, MSN, MS, RN, FAAN, the first nurse and first woman appointed as Surgeon General and Commanding General of the U.S. Army Medical Command, and Director of the third-largest health care system in the U.S, will deliver the keynote address on Veterans Health on Friday.

Diane L. Smalley, RN, BSN, MPH FACHE is the chair of the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE). She is the first nurse to hold this position. ACHE is an international professional society of more than 40,000 healthcare executives who lead hospitals, healthcare systems and other healthcare organizations. Diane is also Regional President of Mercy Oklahoma. She will be giving the keynote address, Moving from Volume to Quality on Saturday.

Two outstanding panels will be presenting. On Thursday the panel dialogue regarding Academy Fellow participation in the important work of the IOM features Afaf I. Meleis, Dean, School of Nursing University of Pennsylvania (IOM Global Forum on Innovation in Health Professional Education), Antonio M. Villarruel, Professor and Associate Dean for Research and Global Affairs, University of Michigan (Roundtable on the Promotion of Health Equity and the Elimination of Health Disparities); Bobbie Berkowitz, Dean, Columbia University School of Nursing (The health of LGBT People: Building a Foundation for Better Understanding) and Marla Salmon, Professor of Nursing and Public Health, University of Washington and IOM Scholar in Residence (The Scholar experience: the journey and the project).

On Friday, the panel dialogue will focus on Innovative Care Models. Presenters include Diane McGinnis, Nurse Practitioner, Rural Frontier Clinic (Nurses — Outside the Box); Carolyn Aoyama, Captain, US Public Health Service (The APRN in Indian Health Service: Their Scope of Practice and Leadership) and Sandra Ryan, Chief Nurse Practitioner, Take Care Health (The Retail Industry — An innovative Care Access Solution).

An exciting feature again this year will be the six Policy Dialogues presented by the Expert Panel members and external experts in the field. The dialogues will address a number of high priority topics — all focusing on bringing the Academy’s voice forward for action. Topics include: When Politics Trumps Science: Violence Prevention; Health Challenges Facing Veterans; Developing Healthy Families; Bringing Down Cultural Barriers to LGBTQ; and Optimizing Mental Health Services in State Exchanges.

In addition, we are pleased to hold a number of Expert Panel meetings.

As in all of our conferences, we will be honoring our Living Legends, Honorary Fellows, and inducting a stellar class of new Fellows who have made significant contributions to the nursing profession.

As Co-Chairs of this event, we are very confident and pleased that this year’s dynamic program will equip you with additional tools to effect positive change in practice, academia, and policy, give you a chance to network with colleagues; and celebrate the accomplishments of Academy leaders and new Fellows!

Warm regards,

Colleen J. Goode

Dear Friends and Colleagues:

What an honor it is to join you at the American Academy of Nursing’s 40th Anniversary. It is with immense anticipation and high expectations that I look forward to engaging discussions with our Fellows and in celebrating the Academy’s many accomplishments.

Our annual policy conference Transforming Health Care: Driving Policy highlights the extraordinary capacity of this profession and organization to make a difference in people’s lives. Your attendance is further testament to your dedication to influencing health policy by dissemination of nursing’s contribution to improved health outcomes and care delivery.

The Academy is grateful for the collective talent of our Fellows that transforms health care policy and practice through nursing knowledge. For the second year, we are presenting six Policy Dialogues to effectively utilize Fellows’ expertise to identify innovative solutions to some of the toughest health care challenges facing our nation. Whether you are a member of an expert panel or not, you are invited to participate fully in these Dialogues and the subsequent policy implementation efforts.

We thank you for your effective involvement in advancing the voice of the Academy. On behalf of the Academy staff, we are grateful for the intensive work of all those involved—planners, speakers, sponsors, and volunteers—to make this policy conference inspiring and successful.

Warm regards,

Cheryl G. Sullivan, MSES
Chief Executive Officer

Carolyn M. Clancy, MD

As a health care leader, Dr. Carolyn Clancy has been a true game changer with substantive impact on the nation’s health. Recently appointed Assistant Deputy Under Secretary for Health for Quality, Safety and Value in the US Department of Veterans Affairs, Dr. Clancy was formerly with the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), executing a vision for health care quality and patient safety that resonates from local to national levels. Dr. Clancy’s longstanding leadership for quality and patient engagement in care demonstrates a professional commitment aligned with nursing values that has enabled and leveraged nursing’s contributions to health care. Her leadership for the comparative effectiveness agenda has expanded the evidence based practice agenda beyond pills and procedures to include the processes of care. Dr. Clancy’s commitment to care quality and patient safety has always included nursing science as a foundation. She directed the groundbreaking Congressionally-mandated annual report on health care quality in America. Through this report, Dr. Clancy’s vision has resulted in meaningful change in care quality and safety that includes the metrics used by states, the federal government, academia, lay media, and health care providers including nurses serving as a key reference point.

Beyond this landmark report, Dr. Clancy has deployed the resources of AHRQ to develop meaningful strategies to address a historically overlooked facet of health care: patient safety. Specific initiatives sponsored by AHRQ have underscored the importance of nursing leadership across the country. For example, by providing technical assistance to more than 260 hospitals to implement Project RED (re-engineered discharge), Dr. Clancy, through AHRQ initiatives and research, has directly influenced hospital investments in consistent levels of nurse staffing and in capacity-building of nursing in delivering effective patient education. Her leadership exemplifies an extraordinary and sustained commitment to improving the quality of care in our nation, using evidence, resources, and tools to support all clinicians in that mission, and always with a direct partnership with patients and families. She received her undergraduate degree in math and chemistry from Boston College and a medical degree from the University of Massachusetts Medical School. Following clinical training in internal medicine, she was a Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation Fellow in general internal medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

After serving as an assistant professor in the department of medicine at the Medical College of Virginia for six years, she joined what was then called the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research (AHCPR; name later changed to AHRQ), and was appointed director in February 2003 and reappointed in October 2009. Dr. Clancy is an elected member of the Institute of Medicine, a Master in the American College of Physicians, and received the prestigious William Graham prize for health services research in 2009.

Rheba de Tornyay Development Fund

To quote Dr. de Tornyay, “We are a small group charged with setting the course for a large and essential profession.” The effectiveness of the Academy, in part, depends on a healthy Development Fund. The Academy’s Rheba de Tornyay Development Fund is challenging each Fellow to establish their presence in the Academy. The ways in which a Fellow’s presence can be felt includes active participation on an Expert Panel or Committee, sponsorship of a New Fellow, Living Legend or Honorary Fellow, or donation of a monetary gift that is at a level meaningful to them. When you consider a gift to a new Fellow, please consider a gift to the Rheba de Tornyay Development Fund. You may donate online at www.AANnet.org/the-rheba-de-tornyay-development-fund, or on-site at the Academy Shoppes Booth.
