Greetings

American Academy of Nursing
2016 Transforming Health, Driving Policy Conference

October 20, 2016

As Mayor of the District of Columbia, I am pleased to extend greetings to the American Academy of Nursing and congratulations to this year’s 164 new inductees, on the occasion of your 2016 Transforming Health, Driving Policy Conference.

The American Academy of Nursing serves the public and the nursing profession by advancing health policy and practice through the generation, synthesis, and dissemination of nursing knowledge. This annual policy conference identifies ways nurses are transforming health and building a better care delivery system.

This event also showcases the extraordinary work nurses are undertaking to drive policy changes that meet the health needs of individuals and populations.

I thank each of you for the impact you have made to help enhance the quality of life of others.

On behalf of the residents of the District of Columbia, I wish you a successful event.

EACH YEAR DURING OUR POLICY CONFERENCE, THE ACADEMY EXPLORES AN ISSUE OF CRITICAL IMPORTANCE TO THE HEALTH OF OUR NATION. THIS YEAR WE LOOK AT THE ECONOMICS OF HEALTH FROM MULTIPLE PERSPECTIVES. WHAT ARE THE ECONOMIC CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES IN ASSURING A HEALTHIER NATION WHILE REDUCING HEALTH CARE COSTS?

The American Academy of Nursing is engaged in a number of initiatives that continue to harness opportunities to assure a healthier nation and reduce the costs of health care. The Institute for Nursing Leadership, Raise the Voice Edge Runners, Have you Ever Served?, Council for the Advancement of Nursing Science, Choosing Wisely, our advocacy around toxic stress in childhood, our continued focus on the determinants of health, our new partnerships on primary care redesign, care coordination, health equity, and the policy statements and briefs from our Expert Panels—they all play a critical role in moving our vision of transforming health policy and practice.

This year’s conference explores issues related to the economics of health and health care from the perspective of policy, practice, and leadership. The topics are consistent with our strategic goals and are designed to engage and excite you! We aim to bring to the podium individuals who have contributed to the conversation about health economics along with a variety of opportunities to participate in the very popular Policy Dialogues and attend meetings of our Expert Panels. We also look forward to hosting a conversation about the Academy’s strategic plan. We are excited to welcome our new cohort of fellows who have already had a significant impact on nursing and health care. And now they will join us in advancing health policy and practice through nursing knowledge.

Your Board of Directors look forward to great conversation and fellowship. Please join me in thanking them for their hard work on your behalf over the past year. I also want to acknowledge our Academy staff led by CEO, Cheryl Sullivan. And, finally a sincere thank you to our Conference Planning Advisory Committee led by Susan Albrecht, PhD, CRNP, FAAN and G. Adriana Perez, PhD, ANP-BC, FAAN. I look forward to seeing you all over the next few days. We will learn together!

Sincerely,

BOBBIE BERKOWITZ

Welcome to the American Academy of Nursing’s 2016 Annual Policy Conference!

Our colleagues on the conference planning advisory committee join us in greeting you for this celebration of the Academy’s culture of recognition, engagement, and philanthropy. We are excited to welcome 164 new fellows, as we gather to celebrate and learn about nurses’ contributions to improving health and implementing policy.

This year’s policy conference includes well rounded topics with national leaders. Thursday afternoon’s opening keynote and moderated conversation will be presented by Margaret Flinter, PhD, APRN, FAAN, and Susan Reinhard, PhD, RN, FAAN. Together they will be speaking on the topic Care Transformation: The Business Case. Thursday afternoon’s interactive plenary Panel will focus on Economic Implications of Childhood Poverty. Friday’s interactive plenary panels will examine A Futuristic View of Nursing and Health Care Economics and Innovative Models in Quality and Payment. Stuart Altman, PhD, will provide the closing keynote presentation Addressing Health Inequities within an Environment of Entitlement Reform.

Health Behavior Expert Panel members continue facilitating the popular 5-minute Healthy Interludes at the end of each education session.

This year’s Policy Dialogues once again address high priority topics identified with input from Expert Panels. Panel members then collaborated in planning the six sessions:

- Assisted Suicide/Aid-in-Dying: What are Nurses to Do?
- Registered Nurses: Partners in Transforming Primary Care
- Million Hearts: Enhancing Healthy Lifestyle Behaviors in Nurses and Improving Population Health
- From Asian Flu to Zika Virus: Local and Global Policy Perspectives on Emerging Infectious Diseases.

Thursday evening, we honor our esteemed Living Legends—Linda Burnes Bolton, Ann Wolbert Burgess, Colleen Conway-Welch, Joyce J. Fitzpatrick, and Martha N. Hill—for their extraordinary contributions to nursing and healthcare. Saturday, the Academy inducts and welcomes a stellar class of new fellows into our community of excellence.

We invite and look forward to your candid feedback about your experience at the 2016 American Academy of Nursing Health Policy Conference.

Warm Regards,

SUSAN A. ALBRECHT, PhD, ANP-BC, FAAN
Chair

ADRIANNA G. PEREZ, PhD, ANP-BC, FAAN
Co-Chair
Dear Friends and Colleagues:

Welcome to the American Academy of Nursing’s 43rd annual meeting and national policy conference.

Transforming Health, Driving Policy is our focus as we improve the quality of life for individuals and families and build healthy communities. Your attendance is further testament to your dedication to influencing health policy by dissemination of nursing’s contribution to improved health outcomes and care delivery.

This year’s conference is shining a spotlight on the economics of health care. The plenary sessions emphasize the recognition of the extraordinary capacity of this profession and organization while addressing critical issues of value, effectiveness, demand, priorities, challenges, and opportunities. The collective talent of our fellows can impact the generation and implementation of policy strategies to improve the health of the public.

For the fifth year, six Policy Dialogues utilize fellows’ expertise to identify innovative solutions to some of the toughest health challenges facing our nation during a time of limited federal and state resources. You are invited to participate fully in these Dialogues whether you are a member of an expert panel or not. Extraordinary nurse leaders demonstrate the power of collaboration to enable nurses to lead change to promote health.

We thank you for your active involvement in advancing the voice of the Academy at the national, state, and local levels. On behalf of the Academy staff, we salute the planners, speakers, sponsors, volunteers, and attendees who make this policy conference inspiring and successful. We want you to celebrate the Academy’s new fellows, engage in the conference policy sessions, and take time to network with colleagues.

Warm regards,

CHERYL G. SULLIVAN, MSES
Chief Executive Officer
Disclosures to Participants

► PURPOSE

The participants will be able to identify ways nurses are transforming health and building a better care delivery system.

► LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Attendees at this conference will self-report their intent to apply their knowledge about the economics of healthcare and the strategies needed to influence health policy in the pursuit of membership on governmental and institutional boards and committees.

2. Leaders attending this conference will self-report their intent to encourage and support their colleagues and students in the pursuit of positions on governmental and institutional boards and committees.

► CONTACT HOURS

Participants may earn a total of 12 contact hours for speaker, panelist, and poster sessions.

Contact hours will be awarded separately for each component.

Successful completion for obtaining contact hours for presentations requires attendance for full presentations.

Successful completion for obtaining contact hours for viewing posters requires attending full 30 minute segments. 0.5 contact hours will be awarded for each segment attended.

Contact hours are awarded by the American Academy of Nursing upon completion of an evaluation form. A link to the form will be provided following the event.

► CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

No event planner or scheduled speaker has disclosed a relevant conflict of interest.

The American Academy of Nursing is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

Opening Keynote: Care Transformation: The Business Case

Margaret M. Flinter
PhD, APRN, FAAN, FAANP, c-FNP

Margaret M. Flinter is the Senior VP and Clinical Director of the Community Health Center, Inc., (CHCI) a statewide federally qualified health center serving 150,000 patients from its primary care centers across Connecticut, while leading practice transformation initiatives across the country. A family nurse practitioner since 1980, she has held progressive roles in the organization as both primary care provider and executive leader as CHCI transformed from a free clinic to one of the country’s largest and most innovative FQHCs. In 2005, she founded CHCI’s Weitzman Center for Innovation, now the Weitzman Institute, which is CHCI’s research, innovation, and quality improvement arm. Dr. Flinter also serves as the national co-director of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation’s Primary Care Teams: Learning from Effective Ambulatory Practices (LEAP) project, which is studying exemplar primary care practices across the country. She has led the national development of a model of post-graduate residency training programs for new nurse practitioners and established the National Nurse Practitioner Residency and Fellowship Training Consortium as an independent organization to serve as an accrediting organization for such programs. Dr. Flinter is the Principal Investigator for HRSA’s National Cooperative Agreement on Clinical Workforce Development. Since 2009, she has co-hosted, along with CHCI’s CEO Mark Masselli, a weekly radio show, "Conversations on Health Care", which connects people with issues of health policy, reform, and innovation, and speaks widely on topics related to primary care transformation.

Dr. Flinter received her BSN from the University of Connecticut, her MSN from Yale University, and her PhD at the University of Connecticut. She is a fellow of the American Academy of Nursing and the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners, and an alumna of both the National Health Service Corps Scholars and the Robert Wood Johnson Executive Nurse Fellows Programs.

Susan C. Reinhard
PhD, RN, FAAN

Susan C. Reinhard is a Senior Vice President at AARP, directing its Public Policy Institute, the focal point for public policy research and analysis at the state, federal and international levels. She also serves as the Chief Strategist for the Center to Champion Nursing in America, a national resource center created to ensure America has the nurses it needs to provide care in the future.

Dr. Reinhard is a nationally recognized expert in health and long-term care policy, with extensive experience in conducting, directing and translating research to promote policy change. Previously, she served as Professor and Co-Director of Rutgers Center for State Health Policy, directing several national initiatives with states to help people with disabilities of all ages live in their communities.

As Deputy Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services, Dr. Reinhard led the development of policies and nationally recognized programs for family caregiving, consumer choice and community-based care options. She is a former faculty member at the Rutgers College of Nursing, an American Academy of Nursing fellow and a National Academy of Social Insurance member. She holds many governance positions, including Chair of the Center for Health Policy Development/National Academy for State Health Policy. Dr. Reinhard holds a master’s degree in nursing from the University of Cincinnati and a PhD in Sociology from Rutgers University.

Opening Keynote Moderator:

Randy A. Jones
PhD, RN, FAAN

Randy A. Jones, PhD, RN, FAAN is a tenured Associate Professor at the University of Virginia School of Nursing, where he is the Baccalaureate Program Director.

Dr. Jones’ research and publications focus on health disparities, prostate cancer, chronic illness, and decision-making. He has received funded research grants from organizations such as the National Institutes of Health (NIH), Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, American Cancer Society, and the American Nurses Foundation. He is currently an investigator on three NIH grants, which focuses on the effectiveness of a prostate cancer screening tool, development of a patient-centered interactive preventive health record, and telemedicine in diagnostic screening.

Dr. Jones is a member of several boards and a recipient of numerous honors, including being a fellow in the American Academy of Nursing (AAN), Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF) Nurse Faculty Scholar Alumnus, National Advisory Committee (NAC) member for the RWJF Clinical Scholars Program, NAC member for the AAN’s Institute for Nursing Leadership, Southern Nursing Research Society Researcher of the Year in Minority Health, and the National Black Nurses Association Institute of Excellence Scholar.

Dr. Jones is committed to promote the enhancement of higher education, research, health policy, and clinical practice within the United States and internationally. ▲

Interactive Plenary Panel: Economic Implications of Childhood Poverty

Charles Homer is the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Human Services Policy, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation in the US Department of Health and Human Services. He has dedicated his career to strengthening the systems that advance the wellbeing of children and families and promote equity.

Dr. Homer co-founded the National Institute for Children’s Health Quality (NICHQ) in July 1999, and served as the organization’s president and CEO until coming to HHS in 2015. He led NICHQ to focus not only on clinical quality, but also on the conditions that contribute to issues such as childhood obesity and infant mortality. He is an Associate Clinical Professor of Pediatrics at Harvard Medical School and of Social and Behavioral Science at the Harvard School of Public Health. Dr. Homer has a record of distinguished service at both state and federal levels, having served on the third US Preventive Services Taskforce, the Secretary’s Advisory Committee on Heritable Disorders in Newborns and Children as well as numerous panels devoted to child health, health care and quality measurement. ▲

Sandee McClowry, PhD, RN, FAAN is a Professor at New York University and is the developer of INSIGHTS into Children’s Temperament. INSIGHTS is an evidence-based, comprehensive intervention that enhances the social-emotional development and academic skills of young children and the behavior management skills of their teachers and parents.

INSIGHTS is based on temperament theory and features four common personality types as exemplars: Coretta the Cautious who is shy, Gregory the Grumpy who is high maintenance, Fredrico the Friendly who is social and eager to try, and Hilary the Hard Worker who is industrious.

Although temperament is not amendable to change, adult responses are, and greatly influence children’s behavior. In their respective INSIGHTS’ programs, teachers and parents learn the ideal combination of warmth and discipline strategies that match a child’s particular temperament. Children also benefit from understanding that individuals differ in their responses to daily life situations due to their temperaments. In their classroom program, the children learn empathy skills and problem-solving strategies to resolve their dilemmas with parents, teachers, and peers.

Dr. McClowry has received more than $8 million in funding primarily from the National Institute of Nursing Research and the Institute of Nursing Research. She was the principal investigator of the three randomized clinical trials that tested the efficacy of INSIGHTS in economically disadvantaged communities in New York City. The findings demonstrate that INSIGHTS reduces children’s behavior problems, improves their academic skills, enhances parenting, and increases teachers’ classroom management.

During 2013-14, Dr. McClowry was a Fulbright Scholar in Jamaica where she adapted the program for use in Jamaican schools. An INSIGHTS in Jamaica Centre continues to disseminate the program around the island. In addition, INSIGHTS has been piloted in rural Appalachia and is being readied for a randomized clinical trial in rural Nebraska.

Dr. McClowry has been a member of the American Academy of Nursing since 1995 and became an Edge Runner in 2007. She is also the President and CEO of INSIGHTS Intervention, LLC, a start-up company whose mission is to foster the social, emotional, and behavioral development of children, especially those whose families have limited financial resources. More information is available at https://insightsintervention.com. ▲
As Deputy Surgeon General, Rear Admiral (RADM) Sylvia Trent-Adams advises and supports the Surgeon General regarding operations of the U.S. Public Health Service (USPHS) Commissioned Corps and in communicating the best available scientific information to advance the health of the nation. She served as the Chief Nurse Officer of the USPHS from November 2013 through May 2016. In this role, she advised the Office of the Surgeon General and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) on the recruitment, assignment, deployment, retention, and career development of Corps nurse professionals.

RADM Trent-Adams has held various positions in HHS, working to improve access to care for poor and underserved communities. As a clinician and administrator, she has had a direct impact on building systems of care to improve public health for marginalized populations domestically and internationally.

Prior to joining the Office of the Surgeon General, RADM Sylvia Trent-Adams was the Deputy Associate Administrator for the HIV/AIDS Bureau (HAB), Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA). She assisted in managing the Ryan White HIV/AIDS Treatment Extension Act of 2009 (Ryan White HIV/AIDS Program). The $2.3 billion program funds medical care, treatment, referrals and support services for uninsured and underserved people living with HIV disease as well as training for health care professionals.

RADM Trent-Adams began her career in the Commissioned Corps of the USPHS in 1992. She has published numerous articles, participated in research studies, and presented to a variety of domestic and international organizations and professional groups. Prior to joining the USPHS, RADM Trent-Adams was a nurse officer in the U.S. Army. She also served as a research nurse at the University of Maryland. RADM Trent-Adams also completed two internships in the U.S. Senate where she focused on the prospective payment system for skilled nursing facilities and scope of practice for nurses and psychologists. She has served as guest lecturer at the University of Maryland and Hampton University. Her clinical practice was in trauma, oncology, community health, and infectious disease. She has also served as the Chair of the Federal Public Health Nurse Leadership Council, and the Federal Nursing Service Council.

RADM Trent-Adams received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Hampton University, a Master of Science in Nursing and Health Policy from the University of Maryland, Baltimore, and a Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Maryland, Baltimore County. She became a Fellow in the American Academy of Nursing in 2014.

Cheryl G. Sullivan is Chief Executive Officer for the American Academy of Nursing. She is the chief spokesperson and liaison on behalf of the Academy with the executive and legislative branches of the U.S. government, major policy organizations, the media and foundations.

Throughout her career, Sullivan was instrumental in the development of significant health care related legislation and provided leadership in government and university administrations and fundraising. Formerly, she served as the Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy for U.S. Senator Evan Bayh, working with organizations and opinion leaders throughout the country to provide leadership in evaluating current federal policy and identifying and analyzing new initiatives. Sullivan served as Vice Chancellor for External Affairs for Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis, one of the nation’s largest urban universities. She served as the principal advisor on social service policy to two Governors as Cabinet Secretary of Indiana’s largest agency, the Indiana Family and Social Services Administration. In addition, she was the National Issues Director during the Gore/Lieberman 2000 presidential campaign.

Sullivan served on numerous national committees, including the Children and Families Committee of the American Public Welfare Association and the Executive Board of the National Council of Governors’ Policy Advisors. She was appointed to the Indiana Juvenile Law Commission, the Human Resource Investment Council and the Board of the Office of Women’s Health.

Sullivan received a BS in Biological Sciences from the University of Maryland and a MSES degree from Indiana University. She completed the State and Local Program for Senior Executives at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

Interactive Plenary Panel: A Futuristic View of Nursing and Healthcare Economics

Jeffrey C. Bauer
PhD

Jeffery C. Bauer is an internationally recognized health futurist and medical economist. As an independent industry thought leader, he forecasts the evolution of health care and develops practical approaches to improving the medical sector of the American economy. He is widely known for his specific proposals to create efficient, effective health care through multi-stakeholder partnerships and other initiatives focused in the private sector.

As a consultant, Dr. Bauer has assisted hundreds of provider, purchaser, and payer organizations with strategic planning and performance improvement initiatives. He served as Vice President for Health Care Forecasting and Strategy for ACS, a Xerox Company, from 1999 to 2010. His own consulting firm, The Bauer Group, specialized in consumer-focused strategic planning and clinical affiliation agreements for multi-hospital networks from 1984 to 1992. In addition, Dr. Bauer was a full-time teacher and administrator at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center in Denver from 1973 to 1984, where he held appointments as associate professor and Assistant Chancellor for Planning and Program Development. He also served for four years as Health Policy Adviser to Colorado Governor Richard D. Lammi. From 1992 to 1999, Dr. Bauer was a visiting professor in Administrative Medicine at the Medical School of the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

He received his Ph.D. in economics from the University of Colorado-Boulder. He graduated from Colorado College in Colorado Springs with a B.A. in economics and completed a certificate in political studies at the University of Paris (France). During his academic career, he was a Boettcher Scholar, a Ford Foundation Independent Scholar, a Fulbright Scholar (Switzerland), and a Kellogg Foundation National Fellow. He is an honorary fellow in the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners. Dr. Bauer lives in Chicago, where he displays his paintings in local art galleries. He is an avid fan of music and a Governing Member of the Chicago Symphony Association.

Jack Needleman
PhD, FAAN

Jack Needleman is Professor and Chair of the Department of Health Policy and Management at the UCLA Fielding School of Public Health. He has over 40 years of experience in health policy, health services research and health economics. Dr. Needleman has extensive experience in the design and conduct of research on the quality and cost of health care, health care system economic performance, health care payment, and community impacts of health care. For over a decade, Dr. Needleman’s research has focused on quality and staffing in hospitals, quality measurement, and on the evaluation, and the design of performance improvement activities. He has examined the factors influencing the successful implementation and sustaining of quality and process improvement. He was lead evaluator for the Robert Wood Johnson initiative Transforming Care at the Bedside and serves on the Steering Council for the NIH-funded Improvement Science Research Network. Three of his first authored papers on quality of care, nursing and patient outcomes, and the business case for nursing are designated by the Agency for Health Care Research and Quality as patient-safety classics, and his expertise in quality measurement and analysis of quality of care has been tapped by the National Quality Forum (where he served on the Standing Committee on Cost and Resource Use Measures and the Committee on Linking Cost and Quality Measures), the Joint Commission, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, AHRQ and others. He has been recognized for his research with election to the National Academy of Medicine (formerly the Institute of Medicine), selection as an honorary Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing, and receipt of the first Academy Health Services Research Impact Award. Dr. Needleman received his PhD in Public Policy from Harvard University.
Barbara J. Safriet served as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Lecturer in Law at Yale Law School from 1988 to 2007. In addition to her academic administrative duties, she taught seminars on Health Law & Policy and The Regulation of Health Care Providers. She is currently teaching as a Visiting Professor of Health Law at Lewis & Clark Law School in Portland, Oregon.

Professor Safriet has published and lectured extensively on topics of administrative and constitutional law, issues of health care professionals’ licensure and regulation, and health care workforce problems. Her principal health policy publications include Federal Options for Maximizing the Value of Advanced Practice Nurses in Providing Quality, Cost-Effective Health Care (IOM commissioned paper for The Future of Nursing: Leading Change, Advancing Health, Appendix H 2010), Changes to Healthcare Professionals’ Scope of Practice: Legislative Considerations (Monograph 2006), Closing the Gap Between Can and May in Health Care Providers’ Scopes of Practice 19 Yale Journal On Regulation 301 (2002); Health Care Dollars and Regulatory Sense: The Role of Advanced Practice Nursing 9 Yale Journal On Regulation 417 (1992); and Impediments to Progress in Health Care Workforce Policy; License and Practice Law, 31 Inquiry 310 (1994).

Professor Safriet earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics from Goucher College, a Juris Doctor degree with honors from the University of Maryland School of Law and a Master of Laws degree from Yale Law School.

Adriana Perez is an Assistant Professor of Nursing and Senior Fellow, at the Leonard Davis Institute of Health Economics at the University of Pennsylvania, School of Nursing. He research promoting healthy aging in older Latinas has been funded by the National Hartford Center of Gerontological Nursing Excellence (NHCGNE), NIH/NINR individual NRSA, National Coalition of Ethnic Minority Nurses, and St. Luke’s Health Initiative. As a result of her work and because of the high relevance to environmental health policy, she was selected as a Congressional/Health and Aging Policy Fellow (2011-2013) supported by the Atlantic Philanthropies and Centers for Disease Control & Prevention.

Currently, Dr. Perez serves as PI for two grants, including: the “Hispanic Nurses Educating Multicultural Communities on the Affordable Care Act,” funded by the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services through the “Partnerships to Increase Coverage in Communities,” initiative; and “Physical Activity to Promote Cognitive Health Among Older Latinas,” funded by the NIA/NIH under Award Number P30AG043097, at the University of California Davis, Latino Aging Research Resource Center.

Dr. Perez’s commitment to addressing health disparities is evident in her work with the Future of Nursing: Campaign for Action. She consults with state action coalitions in developing sustainable diversity action plans. Adriana was awarded the 2014 Dr. Janie Menchaca Wilson Award for Outstanding Leadership from the National Association of Hispanic Nurses, the 2014 Phoenix Business Journal Health Care Hero Award, and Arizona first’s cohort of Leadership in Action Award by the Arizona Action Coalition. She is a Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing, serves as chair of the Academy’s Expert Panel on Aging and member of the UnitedHealth Group External Advisory Board, Center for Clinician Advancement. Dr. Perez is a board-certified Adult Nurse Practitioner at Mercy LiFE, providing community based long-term care for diverse, frail elders who reside in North Philadelphia.

Dr. Perez received her PhD (2009), MS (2004), and BSN (2000) from Arizona State University, College of Nursing & Health Innovation where she also completed a Claire M. Fagin Postdoctoral Fellowship, funded by the NHCGNE (2011).

Tammy Peterman is the Executive Vice President, Chief Operating Officer and Chief Nursing Officer for the University of Kansas Health System. She began her nursing career at The University of Kansas Hospital, and in 2001, was appointed Chief Nursing Officer. In 2007 she was appointed Executive Vice President, Chief Operating Officer and Chief Nursing Officer. Under her leadership, the hospital became the first Kansas-based hospital to receive Magnet designation in 2006, and received Magnet re-designation in both 2011 and 2016. The University of Kansas Hospital has been recognized for ten consecutive years in U.S. News and World Report’s Top Hospitals List.

Ms. Peterman serves on various nursing organizations both locally and nationally. She holds a clinical assistant professor appointment in the University of Kansas School of Nursing and a courtesy assistant professor appointment in the Department of Health Policy and Management at the University of Kansas School of Medicine. Ms. Peterman received her Bachelor and Master’s degrees in Nursing from the University of Kansas.

In 2006, Ms. Peterman received the Distinguished Alumni Award from the University of Kansas School of Nursing. In 2007, she received the Nurse of the Year Award for Administration from the Kansas State Nurses Association. In 2012, Ms. Peterman was also a recipient of Ingram’s Magazine Heroes in Healthcare Award. She will be inducted as a Fellow in the American Academy of Nursing on October 22, 2016. ▲

Edward S. Salsberg has been a national leader in health workforce research, policies and data for 30 years. He is currently Director of Health Workforce Studies at the Health Workforce Institute at George Washington University and on the faculty at the GW School of Nursing. He is a frequent speaker across the country and has authored and co-authored numerous reports and papers on the health workforce.

Mr. Salsberg successfully established and managed three health workforce research centers. From 2010 to 2013, Mr. Salsberg was the founding director of the National Center for Health Workforce Analysis in the US Department of Health and Human Services which was authorized by Affordable Care Act. Prior to that Mr. Salsberg established and directed the Center for Workforce Studies at the Association of American Medical Colleges (2004 to 2010) and the Center for Health Workforce Studies at the School of Public Health at the University at Albany of the State University of New York (1996 to 2004). All three health workforce centers have been leaders in providing information on the supply, demand, distribution and use of the health care workforce and they have pioneered approaches to collecting health workforce data. From 1984 until 1996, Mr. Salsberg was a Bureau Director at the New York State Department of Health.

Mr. Salsberg was a member of the IOM Committee for Assessing Progress on Implementing the Recommendations of the Institute of Medicine Report The Future of Nursing: Leading Change, Advancing Health. He is currently a member of the Board of Directors for the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP). He frequently posts on health workforce issues and data on the Health Affairs Blog. Mr. Salsberg received his Master’s in Public Administration from the Wagner School at New York University and will be inducted as an Honorary Fellow in the American Academy of Nursing on October 22, 2016. ▲

Eileen M. Sullivan-Marx, is the Dean of the New York University College of Nursing and the Erline Perkins McGriff Professor of Nursing. She assumed the deanship at NYU in 2012 after a distinguished career at the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing where she was the Shearer Endowed Term Chair, Professor of Scholarly Practice, and Associate Dean for Practice & Community Affairs. She is a distinguished nursing leader, educator and clinician known for research and innovative approaches in primary care, testing methods of payment for nurses particularly with Medicaid and Medicare, sustaining models of care using advanced... practice nurses locally and globally, and developing health policy in community-based settings. With a strong belief in the integration of practice, research, education, and interdisciplinary team work, Dr. Sullivan-Marx has built and sustained models of team care including a private family practice, growing a Program of All Inclusive Care for Elders (PACE) and launched numerous older adult team programs in academic centers and at the Philadelphia Veterans Administration Medical Center. Dr. Sullivan-Marx has been on numerous community planning and advisory boards. She has served as Chair of the Pennsylvania Commission on Senior Care Services in 2008, as a member of the Philadelphia Emergency Preparation Review Commission in 2006, and as an American Political Science Congressional Fellow and Senior Advisor to the Center for Medicare & Medicaid Services Office of Medicaid and Medicare Coordination in 2010, just after passage of the Affordable Care Act. As part of this position, she worked to bring promising models of care to scale such as the PACE Programs. She is a former member of the American Academy of Nursing’s (AAN) Board of Directors and is currently an AAN Edge Runner. Dr. Sullivan-Marx is a Fellow in both the New York Academy of Medicine and the Gerontology Society of America. Of note, she was the first nurse to serve as the American Nurses Association representative to the American Medical Association’s Resource Based Relative Value Update Committee and did so for 11 years, demonstrating through research that nurse practitioner and physician work can be valued equally in that payment structure.

She has received are the international Sigma Theta Tau Honor Society Best of Image research award (1993) and its Hippensteel Founders Award for excellence in practice award (2011), the Springer Publishing Research Award, and the Doris Schwartz Gerontological Nursing Research Award. She is a Distinguished Alumni of the University of Rochester School of Nursing and the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing.

Paula Milone-Nuzzo serves as Dean and Professor at The Pennsylvania State University College of Nursing. During her tenure at Penn State, she has administratively advanced the nursing program from a department in the College of Health and Human Development to an independent School of Nursing, and recently to one of Penn State’s 17 Colleges. Over the last decade, the College’s budget has grown six-fold, largely through entrepreneurial initiatives including new program development and outreach activities. The College of Nursing is home to over 100 faculty members, 40 staff members and approximately 3,000 students located across the 13 Penn State campuses within the Commonwealth. The College of Nursing offers baccalaureate, masters and doctoral education programs.

A Fellow of Hospice and Home Care within the National Association of Home Care, and a Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing, her professional interests include home health care, health policy and workforce issues. She has written or co-written numerous articles and books on home care and workforce development and has received funding from the National Institute of Aging, the National Center for Nursing Research, the U.S. Department of Labor and other sources in support of her research. She also has been invited to present her research findings and provide her expertise to more than 150 groups throughout the world.

Dr. Milone-Nuzzo is the current Chair of the Pennsylvania Action Coalition Advisory Board, an arm of the Robert Wood Johnson Future of Nursing Campaign for Action. In this role, she works collaboratively with health care leaders to achieve the recommendations in Pennsylvania that are detailed in the IOM Future of Nursing Report. Appointed by Governor Rendell, she was a member of the Leadership Council for the Pennsylvania Center for Health Careers. She is currently a member of the Mount Nittany Health System, Chairs the board of the Mount Nittany Medical Center and is Past-Chair of the Mid-Centre Chapter of the American Red Cross. She is currently the Treasurer of the American Academy of Nursing. Awards received include the Outstanding Achievement Award from the Connecticut Association for Home Care, the Book of the Year Award (for Home Care Nursing: An Orientation to Practice) from the American Journal of Nursing, the Nightingale Award for Nursing Excellence, Distinguished Colleague Award from the Pennsylvania Higher Education Schools of Nursing and the Distinguished Alumnus Award from the University of Connecticut.

Dr. Milone-Nuzzo graduated magna cum laude from Boston College with a bachelor’s degree in nursing and earned her master’s degree in community health nursing and a doctorate in higher education administration from the University of Connecticut. She has completed postdoctoral studies with the Hartford Institute on Gerontological Research.

Closing Keynote: Addressing Health Inequities within an Environment of Entitlement Reform

Stuart H. Altman, PhD

Stuart H. Altman, Sol C. Chaikin Professor of National Health Policy at The Heller School for Social Policy and Management, Brandeis University, is an economist with five decades of experience working closely with issues of federal and state health policy within government, the private sector, and academia. He has demonstrated leadership in health care through service on numerous government advisory boards on both the federal and state levels, including service as the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation/Health at the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare from 1971 to 1976; as Chairman of the Prospective Payment Assessment Commission (ProPac) from 1984 to 1996; and in 1997 as an appointed member of the National Bipartisan Commission on the Future of Medicare. Currently, Dr. Altman chairs the Massachusetts Health Policy Commission as part of the state’s attempt to moderate the growth in healthcare spending. Dr. Altman has also been recognized as a leader in the health care field by Health Affairs and by Modern Healthcare. In 2014 he was awarded the Graham Life Time Achievement Award in Health Services Research by the Association of Health Administration Programs. He has served on the Board of Directors of several for-profit and not-for-profit companies, and he is a member of The Institute of Medicine and chairs the Health Industry Forum at Brandeis University. He is a published author of numerous books and journal articles, the most recent, Power, Politics and Universal Health Care: The Inside Story of century-Long Battle. Dr. Altman served as Dean of the Heller School from 1977 to 1993 and from 2005 to 2008. He also served as interim President of Brandeis University from 1990 to 1991.

Closing Keynote Moderator:

To quote Dr. de Tornyay, “We are a small group charged with setting the course for a large and essential profession.”

The effectiveness of the Academy, in part, depends on a healthy Development Fund. The Academy’s Rheba de Tornyay Development Fund is challenging each Fellow to establish their presence in the Academy.

The ways in which a Fellow’s presence can be felt include active participation on an expert panel or committee, sponsorship of a New Fellow, Living Legend or Honorary Fellow, or donation of a monetary gift that is at a level meaningful to them. When you consider a gift to a new Fellow, please consider a gift to the Rheba de Tornyay Development Fund. You may donate online at www.AANnet.org or on-site at the Academy Shoppes.
