Christopher Friese, PhD, RN, AOCN, FAAN

Christopher Friese, PhD, RN, AOCN, FAAN, was selected as a 2018-2019 Emerging Leader in Health and Medicine by the National Academy of Medicine (NAM). The Emerging Leaders are early- to mid-career professionals selected by NAM leadership to engage in a variety of activities over a three-year term. The program facilitates opportunities for mentorship and innovation among the participants, NAM members, and experts across sectors. |

Dr. Friese is the Elizabeth Tone Hosmer Professor of Nursing and Director, Center for Improving Patient and Population Health, at the University of Michigan. His focus is on measuring and improving the quality of cancer care delivery. He was inducted into the Academy in 2012.
