

American Academy of Nursing transforming health care policy and practice through nursing knowledge

March 22, 2011

Geropsychiatric Nursing Collaborative (GPNC) Releases Video: “Discover Mental Health: The Forgotten Piece in Elder Care”

Washington, DC (March 22, 2011) – Addressing the inevitability of nurses caring for older adults with mental health and substance abuse issues, the American Academy of Nursing’s Geropsychiatric Nursing Collaborative (GPNC) released a new short video: “Discover Mental Health: The Forgotten Piece in Elder Care.”

The video conveys that while not every student will become a geropsychiatric nurse, almost all nurses at some point in their careers will care for older adults with mental health issues. Therefore, nurses will need the requisite knowledge, skills and compassion to improve the quality of life for this most challenging, rewarding and neglected population.

See below for the embedded video.

Please share your thoughts regarding this video by taking this five-question SURVEY

###

The American Academy of Nursing (www.aannet.org) anticipates and tracks national and international trends in health care, while addressing resulting issues of health care knowledge and policy. The Academy’s mission is to serve the public and nursing profession by advancing health policy and practice through the generation, synthesis, and dissemination of nursing knowledge.