AAPS AWARDS GUIDE

AAPS AWARDS PROGRAM OVERVIEW

In alignment with its mission to advance the ability of pharmaceutical scientists to develop products and therapies that improve global health, AAPS brings attention to, and celebrates, the most impactful science as well as the scientists who serve as role models in the pharmaceutical science community.

The AAPS Awards are an enduring tradition that recognizes the scientists, leaders, and volunteers who have shaped the pharmaceutical sciences and AAPS.

AWARDS

AAPS recognizes science and scientists in three areas that relate to its mission:

■ Science & Innovation

- Distinguished Pharmaceutical Scientist (1)
- Outstanding Manuscripts (3)
- Best Abstracts (top 10%)
- Best Posters (3)

■ Service

- AAPS Distinguished Service (1)
- Pharmaceutical Global Health Award (1)

■ Leadership

- Global Leader (1)
- Emerging Leader (1)
- Student Chapter Awards (3)

OTHER HONORS

Although every effort is made to ensure each award is presented annually, AAPS is not required to present awards for a given category in any given year. Should no qualified candidates be selected for an award, it will not be presented in that year.

- AAPS Fellow | Learn more at www.aaps.org/Fellows.
- The Dale E. Wurster Research Award in Pharmaceutics
Presented biannually, learn more at www.aaps.org/awards.
- Alice E. Till Advancement of Women in Pharmaceutical Sciences Recognition | Learn more at www.aaps.org/awards.

AWARDS GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The following requirements apply to all awards. Many awards have additional specific criteria described later in this guide.

All award nominations are submitted electronically as directed by AAPS at www.aaps.org/awards.

Nominations submitted by other means will be rejected without review.

AAPS strongly recommends contacting AAPS at awards@aaps.org well in advance of any deadline for clarification about a particular award's requirements. AAPS will not grant waivers for applications that are incomplete or incorrect because of a misunderstanding on the part of the applicant.

THE FOLLOWING REQUIREMENTS APPLY TO ALL AWARDS:

- Completed nomination packages as described under each specific award must be received by AAPS by published deadlines. Nomination packages must be submitted online to AAPS using the designated awards website. Incomplete packages, or packages submitted after published deadlines, will be rejected without review by AAPS.
- Selection committees will only consider qualified nominees with complete nomination packages. AAPS staff vet each nomination package against the stated requirements for the award before releasing it to a selection committee. Packages that do not meet the qualifications for nomination or that are incomplete are rejected.
- Candidates will only be considered for one enterprise-level award during a given awards cycle. If multiple nomination packages are received, the candidate will be asked to select only one award for which they will be considered.
- All candidates must submit a completed AAPS Professional Conduct Disclosure Form with their nomination package. Candidates and nominees must disclose matters that are resolved as well as matters that are still pending. Self-disclosure does not mean automatic disqualification of the candidate or nominee. However, each disclosure will receive a confidential review and follow-up discussion if there are areas of concern. See Appendix 1 to review the form.
- Whenever possible, award packages receive a blinded review. For example: author information is hidden for the judging of poster and abstract-based awards to ensure impartial evaluation.
- Volunteers sitting on a selection committee must declare any conflict of interest to the AAPS Awards Committee Chair and be recused. A conflict of interest exists if the volunteer leader has a relationship with the candidate, or an otherwise conflicting situation, such as sharing an employer or having endorsed the candidate in the past.
- Recusal is not optional. Recusal means the volunteer holding the conflict cannot:
 - Comment on the candidate during deliberations
 - Vote, or otherwise help in the selection of the recipient
- AAPS may replace the recused committee member with a new volunteer to ensure a robust and unbiased process.

- Volunteers serving on the AAPS Awards Committee may not participate in the development of any nomination packages. This includes writing endorsement letters, reviewing drafts of packages, or any other activities that would contribute to a nomination package.
- AAPS Board of Directors Members may not participate in the development of any nomination packages (e.g., writing endorsement letters and reviewing drafts of packages). The AAPS Board of Directors approves all recipients and is involved in the appeals process for decisions, and so cannot participate in the nomination process in any way.
- Board members who were involved in a nomination before taking a seat on the Board must declare their conflict to the AAPS President and be recused from participation in any business related to that award.
- Recipients are selected by dedicated selection committees per award as specified in this guidance. Selection committee members are identified and seated before any review of submitted nomination packages. Reviewing and voting is conducted independently by members using a ranking system based on award criteria. The rubric for ranking is reviewed and agreed to by the selection committee before the review of any nomination packages. Aggregate ranking results are reviewed by the selection committee to select recipients, if any. Final recommendation by the selection committee must be supported by the majority of the selection committee.
- AAPS Board of Directors members may not serve on any selection committee or otherwise participate in the initial screening and selection of recipients.
- With the help of AAPS staff, the AAPS Awards Chair, or the Chair's designate on a particular selection committee, will document the decision about each candidate. The documentation will be used in notifications to both successful and unsuccessful candidates.

- With the help of AAPS staff, the AAPS Awards Chair will forward a slate of recommended recipients to the Board of Directors for final approval. It will be accompanied by a report summarizing the recipient selection rationale, and comparing the recipients' demographics to the demographics of the organization.
- With the help of AAPS staff, the AAPS Awards Chair will notify all candidates of the decisions on their nominations. Notification will include information about why a package was accepted or rejected, as appropriate.

AAPS AWARDS GUIDE

SCIENTIFIC CONTRIBUTION & INNOVATION AWARDS

DISTINGUISHED PHARMACEUTICAL SCIENTIST AWARD

ENTERPRISE LEVEL

PURPOSE:

AAPS' highest-ranking award, the Distinguished Scientist Award, is a lifetime achievement that recognizes an individual who has made substantial contributions to the pharmaceutical sciences that have had a lasting impact. The focus of those achievements is research and advancement of science.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

AAPS' Distinguished Scientists are individuals who have worked for many years in a given research area, developing a body of work over their lifetime. Evidence of this achievement is demonstrated with significant publications in peer-reviewed journals and posters; completed patent applications; published white papers; and other materials that, taken together, describe a lifetime of significant work. Although not a requirement, many AAPS Distinguished Scientists are already AAPS Fellows at the time of their award.

Number Presented Annually: 1

Presentation: PharmSci 360 opening general session or similar

Award:

- Award plaque
- Up to 4 complimentary hotel nights in the hotel of AAPS' choosing
- Reimbursement for flight costs up to $750 domestic or $1,200 international
- Complimentary registration at PharmSci 360 for three years beginning with year of receipt

Expectations for Recipient: Recipients must attend PharmSci 360 and participate in the Awards Program presentation to accept this honor. They are also expected to make themselves available to help celebrate the presentation, which may include giving interviews and making presentations as requested by AAPS before, during, and after PharmSci 360. Potential recipients who cannot accommodate these expectations should not apply.

Nomination Type: Self, peer, or committee of peers

Qualifications for Nomination:

- Member of AAPS for at least 3 consecutive years
- AAPS member at time of nomination
- 15 or more years working in pharmaceutical sciences as documented in a Curriculum Vitae or résumé

Enterprise-level AAPS award recipients will not be considered for additional enterprise-level awards in consecutive years

Nomination Package:

- Curriculum Vitae/résumé
- 2-3 letters of recommendation
- Short written statement from nominator
- 2-5 minute video of nominee giving a statement on the importance of their work to developing products and therapies that improve global health
- Completed nomination form, which includes summary of accomplishments and notes career highlights
- Recent photo appropriate for publication
- Nominee's AAPS member ID number
- Nominee's contact information

Selection Committee:

- AAPS Awards Committee Chair or designate
- 3 members of the AAPS Awards Committee
- 1 AAPS Fellow
- 1 prior recipient of the award
- 1 member volunteer recruited using an open-call process for those who meet requirements specified by the Awards Committee chair

Selection Process:

The Awards Committee will consider the following:

- Scientific research and impact on the scientific field, technology, and/or products
- Quality of publications/citations
- Contributions to the pharmaceutical sciences through reviews, white papers, etc.
- National/international awards
- Elevation to AAPS Fellow

OUTSTANDING MANUSCRIPT AWARDS

ENTERPRISE LEVEL

PURPOSE:

The Outstanding Manuscript Awards recognize outstanding contributions to original research published in the following AAPS journals: The AAPS Journal, AAPS PharmSciTech, and Pharmaceutical Research.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

Authors who have published a manuscript in the journal that is deemed to have had a high impact on the pharmaceutical sciences community.

Number Presented Annually: 1 per journal (3 total)

Presentation: PharmSci 360 Opening General Session or similar

Award:

- Award plaque
- Complimentary registration to PharmSci 360 in year of receipt for lead author or their designate
- Expectations for Recipient: Recipients (or designee) must attend PharmSci 360 and participate in the Awards Program presentation to accept this honor

Nomination Type: Selection by each specific journal's chief editor

Qualifications for Nomination: Publication in specific journal during specified period.

Enterprise-level AAPS award recipients will not be considered for additional enterprise-level awards in consecutive years

Nomination Package: Downloads and citations during a fixed 2-year period, provided by AAPS staff to chief editor.

Selection Committee: Individual chief editors make the selection for their journal based on objective metrics (downloads and citations) and the editor's judgement about impact and value of the manuscript. Chief editors are free to consult with their editorial boards as they wish.

Selection Process: Editors review downloads and citations during a fixed 2-year period. Preference is given to original research but is not required for consideration.

BEST ABSTRACT AWARD

PURPOSE:

AAPS selects the best abstracts from hundreds of submissions for display at PharmSci 360 each year. The Best Abstract Awards bring attention to the most exciting research to be found in the posters, based on abstracts that are submitted and screened before the event.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

An AAPS member who has submitted one of the top-rated abstracts for PharmSci 360.

Number Presented Annually: Top 10% of abstracts based on highest screener ratings for each of the following categories:

- Graduate students
- Postdoctoral candidates
- Young academic scientists with fewer than 3 years in academia
- Young industrial scientists with fewer than 3 years in industry
- AAPS members who do not meet the criteria for one of the above categories

Presentation: PharmSci 360

Award: Signs or other visuals in the Solution Center (Exhibit Hall) directing attention to the winning posters.

Expectations for Recipient: Participation in PharmSci 360 poster program in year of receipt.

Nomination Type: Highest ranked abstracts as determined by screeners during AAPS' blinded poster screening process that have been authored by qualified candidates are automatically forwarded for consideration.

Qualifications for Nomination:

- Must be an AAPS member at time of poster submission
- Must be the single lead author of the abstract
- Abstract must be ranked by screeners in the top 10% of abstracts for one of the following groups:
 - Graduate students
 - Postdoctoral candidates
 - Young academic scientists with fewer than 3 years in academia
 - Young industrial scientists with fewer than 3 years in industry
 - AAPS members who do not meet the criteria for one of the above categories

Nomination Process: AAPS will automatically identify candidates and verify their qualifications, then advance nominees to AAPS Awards Committee. Candidates do not complete an application form.

BEST POSTER AWARD

PURPOSE:

The top posters presented at PharmSci 360 are selected for recognition because of the importance scientifically impactful posters have in advancing the pharmaceutical sciences. Abstracts that are selected for poster presentation at PharmSci 360 offer a key mechanism for scientists to share the recent results of their research with the scientific community. Timely communication of research can have a significant impact on the thoughts and actions of other researchers.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

An AAPS member who is the presenting author of a top-rated poster for PharmSci 360.

Number Presented Annually: 3 total

Presentation: PharmSci 360

Award: Acknowledgement during the PharmSci 360 opening session; highlighted in PharmSci 360 attendance materials, such as the mobile app; an opportunity to present the winning poster in addition to the scheduled presentation given to all posters at the meeting.

Expectations for Recipient: Participation in PharmSci 360 poster program in year of receipt; presentation of poster at times scheduled by AAPS.

Nomination Type: AAPS will automatically identify candidates from the AAPS Best Abstract Award recipients. Candidates do not complete an application form.

Qualifications for Nomination:

- Must be an AAPS member at time of poster submission
- Must be the presenting author of the poster
- Poster must be submitted by deadline according to the submission process AAPS requires for poster authors

Selection Committee: The Screening Committee includes the Abstract Screening Committee and the Awards Committee Chair and Vice Chair. Candidates do not complete an application form.

Selection Process:

- Posters are subset based on Best Abstracts and categorized by Track
- Abstract Screening Chairs and Sub-Chairs select the top 3 posters for their Track
- All top posters are ranked by the full Selection Team, which includes the AAPS Awards Committee Chair, AAPS Awards Committee Vice Chair, AAPS Abstract Screening Committee Chairs and Sub-Chairs
- The top three (3) highest ranked posters are awarded the "Best Poster Award"

AAPS AWARDS GUIDE

LEADERSHIP AWARDS

GLOBAL LEADER AWARD

ENTERPRISE LEVEL

PURPOSE:

The Global Leader Award recognizes a leader working in pharmaceutical science, technology, engineering, or education whose contributions to the pharmaceutical sciences community have resulted in an outstanding positive impact on education and/or public health. AAPS recognizes these leaders both as a means to support their work, and to encourage pharmaceutical scientists around the world to keep driving toward treatments and cures that improve life for all global citizens.

Many countries face severe challenges in meeting the healthcare needs of the weakest members of their citizenry, but have limited, or even no, funding or capability to conduct pharmaceutical research. A few scientists have the vision, passion, and commitment to advance the development of drugs and therapies that begin to help these people.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

A member of the pharmaceutical sciences community (academia, industry, regulatory, or other) whose leadership and effort have had a significant and broad impact on the availability, use, and/or benefit from needed therapies domestically or internationally.

Number Presented Annually: 1

Presentation: PharmSci 360 Opening General Session or similar

Award:

- Award plaque
- Up to 4 complimentary hotel nights in the hotel of AAPS' choosing
- Reimbursement for flight costs up to $750 domestic or $1,200 international
- Complimentary registration at PharmSci 360 for three years beginning with year of receipt

Expectations for Recipient: Recipient must attend PharmSci 360 and participate in the Awards Program presentation to accept this honor. They are also expected to be available to help celebrate the presentation, which may include giving interviews and making presentations as requested by AAPS before, during, and after PharmSci 360, as well as authoring articles or commenting for publications. Potential recipients who cannot accommodate these expectations should not apply.

Nomination Type: Self, peer, or committee of peers

Qualifications for Nomination:

- Member of AAPS for at least 3 consecutive years
- AAPS membership at time of application

Enterprise-level AAPS award recipients will not be considered for additional enterprise-level awards in consecutive years

Nomination Package:

- Curriculum Vitae/résumé
- Biography highlighting candidate's impact on the pharmaceutical community in at least one of the following areas: public awareness, access/availability, use, and/or improved benefit from therapies
- 2-3 letters of endorsement
- Nominator's statement
- Recent photo appropriate for publication
- Nominee's AAPS member ID number
- Nominee's contact information

Selection Committee:

- AAPS Awards Committee Chair or designate
- 3 members of the AAPS Awards Committee
- 1 AAPS Fellow
- 1 prior recipient of the award
- 1 member volunteer recruited using an open-call process for those who meet requirements specified by the Awards Committee chair

Selection Process:

The Awards Committee will consider:

- Impact of scientific contributions on the pharmaceutical sciences
- Product, or process innovation, as demonstrated by patent applications and approvals
- Recognition globally, as demonstrated by participation in scientific boards around the world, or other evidence that the pharmaceutical community, both industrial and academic, acknowledges the individual
- Significant contribution to pharmaceutical education and/or public health as demonstrated by work in policy development and successful drug approvals
- Significant interaction in and impact on regulatory environments, as demonstrated by collaborative contributions across departments, companies, industries, fields, and/or countries
- The committee will vote to select a recipient

EMERGING LEADER AWARD

ENTERPRISE LEVEL

PURPOSE:

The Emerging Leader Award recognizes scientists and pharmaceutical professionals who are early in their careers—regardless of whether they work in an academic, industrial, government, or another setting—who have made a significant impact through the pharmaceutical sciences that promotes public health. AAPS sees these young scientists as future global leaders and wishes to encourage their work by bringing attention to it, and to hold them up as an example to other early career scientists.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

A scientist or pharmaceutical professional in the early stages of their career who has significantly advanced pharmaceutical science and/or has innovatively applied the principles of pharmaceutical science to promote public and/or global health.

Number Presented Annually: 1

Presentation: PharmSci 360 Opening General Session or similar

Award:

- Award plaque
- Up to 4 complimentary hotel nights in the hotel of AAPS' choosing
- Reimbursement for flight costs up to $750 domestic or $1,200 international
- Complimentary registration in year of receipt

Expectations for Recipient: Participation in PharmSci 360 in year of receipt and participation in the Awards Program presentation to accept this honor.

Nomination Type: Self, peer, or committee of peers

Nomination Package:

- Curriculum Vitae/résumé
- Biography highlighting candidate's impact on public health through the pharmaceutical sciences
- Nominator's statement
- 1-3 letters of endorsement (optional)
- Recent photo appropriate for publication
- Nominee's AAPS member ID number
- Nominee's contact information

Qualifications for Nomination:

- Must be an AAPS member at time of nomination
- Must be no more than 8 years from beginning a full-time, paid, early professional career in academia, industry, and/or regulatory (excludes doctoral, post-doctoral, intern or residency positions)

Enterprise-level AAPS award recipients will not be considered for additional enterprise-level awards in consecutive years.

Selection Committee: The AAPS Awards Committee

Selection Process:

The Awards Committee will consider:

- Candidates' breakthrough innovation or discovery, with emphasis on the long-term potential of that breakthrough
- Importance of breakthrough
- Innovation of discovery
- Long-term potential of impact / breakthrough
- Urgency of execution
- How quickly the innovation benefited patients

The committee will vote to select a recipient.

STUDENT CHAPTER AWARD

PURPOSE:

AAPS recognizes Student Chapters that have provided exceptional service and outreach during the course of the year. Examples of service and outreach include: offering scientific sessions and professional development education and training; participating in community and charitable social events; collaborating with other schools, chapters, or industry on a project; promotional efforts for the chapter.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

An AAPS Student Chapter that has provided exceptional service and outreach.

Number Presented Annually: Up to 3

Presentation: By chapter leadership at a chapter meeting

Award:

- Award plaque
- Announcement at PharmSci 360 during appropriate student activities
- $1,000 for each awarded chapter to be used to support programming for the chapter
- AAPS-sponsored visit from an AAPS Fellow, Distinguished Scientist Award recipient, Global Leader Award recipient, or Distinguished Service Award recipient

Expectations for Recipient:

- Participation in AAPS' efforts to bring best practices to other Student Chapters
- Creation of a video about the Student Chapter that will be shared with the public

Nomination Type: Self-nomination by leaders of Student Chapter

Qualifications for Nomination:

- Must not have won this award in the past 24 months
- Must be a chartered AAPS Student Chapter
- Must have submitted a complete chapter roster to AAPS on time in the prior year
- Must have 10 AAPS student members in good standing at time of application
- Must have chapter's executive committee (i.e., President, Vice President, Treasurer, and Secretary) on file with AAPS at time of application
- Must have a faculty advisor who is an AAPS member in good standing at time of application

Applicant qualifications will be verified by AAPS Membership and Customer Service Department prior to application review.

Nomination Package:

Completed online form, including:

- Description of services and outreach efforts
- Number of members in the chapter
- Student Chapter member roster list
- Number and description of programs offered by the chapter during the 12 months preceding the application deadline
- Minimum of 1 letter of endorsement from a senior pharmaceutical professional and AAPS member, currently working in academia or industry, who is not the faculty advisor

Selection Committee:

- The AAPS Awards Committee
- 1 AAPS member who participated in a chapter that has previously won the award

Selection Process:

The Selection Committee seeks examples of extraordinary service and outreach as listed below:

- The frequency of the chapter's efforts
- The creativity of the chapter's efforts
- Service (sessions, training, events)
- Outreach

The committee will vote to select a recipient.

AAPS AWARDS GUIDE

SERVICE AWARDS

AAPS DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

ENTERPRISE LEVEL

PURPOSE:

The AAPS Distinguished Service Award brings recognition and public appreciation to a member for a lifetime of service to AAPS. Distinguished Service Award recipients are held up as an example of the inclusive, collaborative volunteer leadership AAPS encourages.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

An individual who has contributed significantly and consistently over a long period of time to benefit AAPS in achieving its mission. Contributions may include, but are not limited to, exemplary volunteer leadership at several levels of the organization; consistently organizing and participating in workshops, short courses, webinars, and e-courses; and other efforts for AAPS that go well beyond simply fulfilling an assigned role.

Number Presented Annually: 1

Presentation: PharmSci 360 Opening General Session or similar

Award:

- Award plaque
- Up to 4 complimentary hotel nights in the hotel of AAPS' choosing
- Reimbursement for flight costs up to $750 domestic or $1,200 international
- Complimentary registration in year of receipt

Expectations for Recipient: Recipient must attend PharmSci 360 and participate in the Awards Program presentation to accept this honor. Participation in the promotion of volunteering within AAPS, whether by helping author an article, assisting with presentation of a webinar, etc. Recipients who are unwilling to be seen as the "face" of volunteering at AAPS should not apply.

Nomination Type: Self, peer, or committee of peers

Qualifications for Nomination:

- At least 5 consecutive years of membership in AAPS
- AAPS member at time of nomination (emeritus and other membership types are acceptable)

Enterprise-level AAPS award recipients will not be considered for additional enterprise-level awards in consecutive years.

Nomination Package:

- Curriculum Vitae/résumé
- Biography emphasizing extraordinary elements of service to AAPS
- List of contributions to AAPS, including roles held, programs developed, etc.
- Recent photo appropriate for publication
- 2-3 letters of endorsement
- Nominator's statement
- Nominee's AAPS member ID number
- Nominee's contact information

Selection Committee: The AAPS Awards Committee

Selection Process:

- Consistent, active, many-years-long involvement in AAPS
- Efforts that consistently exceed the requirements and expectations of any role

The following are examples of the type of work the committee expects to see described in nomination package:

- Involvement and contribution as a volunteer leader serving at several levels of the organization over the candidate's tenure as an AAPS member (committee chair, Board of Director member, section leader, AAPS Communities leader, etc.)
- Duration of involvement with AAPS
- Strength of leadership
- Efforts to grow membership through personal outreach
- Overall impact on AAPS and its membership
- Demonstration of efforts to support AAPS growth and strategic initiatives
- Providing quality service to members through the development of AAPS programs and services
- Personal involvement in developing long-term relationships with significant donors and industry partners
- Personal efforts to promote the pharmaceutical sciences
- Work in policy making through AAPS, such as developing responses to guidances

The committee will vote to select a recipient. If no qualified candidates meet the high-level of service AAPS seeks to recognize with this award, the award will not be given in that year.

ENTERPRISE LEVEL

PURPOSE:

The Pharmaceutical Global Health Award recognizes AAPS members for their impact on their communities, both in the United States and abroad, through humanitarian work that may or may not involve the pharmaceutical industry, but which does improve public or global health.

IDEAL RECIPIENT:

An AAPS member who has made a local or international humanitarian impact through their personal efforts to improve public or global health, and/or to aid in disease prevention and cures. See Examples of Qualifying Activities below for more guidance.

Number Presented Annually: 1

Presentation: PharmSci 360 opening general session or similar

Award:

- Award plaque
- Up to 4 complimentary hotel nights in the hotel of AAPS' choosing
- Reimbursement for flight costs up to $750 domestic or $1,200 international
- Complimentary registration in year of receipt

Expectations for Recipient: Recipient must attend PharmSci 360 and participate in the Awards Program presentation to accept this honor. Recipient is expected to support promotion of AAPS by writing articles, giving interviews, etc., as asked.

Nomination Type: Self, peer, or committee of peers

Qualifications for Nomination:

- Member of AAPS for at least 3 consecutive years
- AAPS member at time of nomination

Enterprise-level AAPS award recipients will not be considered for additional enterprise-level awards in consecutive years.

Nomination Package:

- Curriculum Vitae/résumé
- Biography describing candidate's service and its impact
- Recent photo appropriate for publication
- 2-3 letters of endorsement (optional)
- Nominator's statement
- Nominee's AAPS member ID number
- Nominee's contact information

Examples of Qualifying Activities

The Awards Committee anticipates that successful candidates for this honor will exhibit sustained engagement in one of the following activities, or comparable activities:

- Sustained leadership of a fundraising campaign that supports lifesaving global health efforts
- Significant contributions to a program such as Doctors Without Borders to provide aid to populations in distress
- Impactful disease prevention education in low-income areas to reduce outbreaks of diseases.
- Sustained efforts to prevent illness in survivors of a natural disaster
- Strong evidence of leadership in collaborations in global healthcare
- Championing research and development that results in new products that directly benefit people in developing countries in collaboration with their place of employment.
- Conducting research that had a significant impact on treating a disease predominate in developing countries
- Volunteering a significant amount of time to provide impactful, basic education related to pharmaceuticals in a low-education region of the world, including low-income areas of the United States
- Leading a challenging project to start a pharmacy department, build pharmaceutical science research facility, or build a manufacturing site that benefited a local low-income area in the United States or any other country
- Successful, sustained effort to navigate local regulations and/or distribution challenges to bring quality medicines, or more of them, to low-income communities
- Championing and/or hosting training opportunities for pharmaceutical science professions in low-income regions of the world

Selection Committee: The AAPS Awards Committee

Selection Process:

The Awards Committee will consider the following:

- Humanitarian work (candidate's personal work to affect public and global health, with a focus on efforts to support disease prevention and cures, as well as the number of people affected by the candidate's efforts)
- Scope of impact
- Potential or evidence for a lasting impact
- Uniqueness of story; emotional impact
- Demonstrations of best attributes of AAPS membership (selflessness, high standards, etc.)
- Moral and ethical approach to the work

The committee will vote to select a recipient.

AAPS AWARDS GUIDE

APPEALS

Appeals of the rejection of nomination must be submitted in writing by email to awards@aaps.org within seven days of notification of the rejection being sent to the nominator. Appeals submitted by other means will not be considered.

Upon receiving an appeal, AAPS will:

- Notify the chair of the AAPS Awards Committee
- Seat a 3-person panel consisting of members of the AAPS Board of Directors
- Present the panel with
 - The criteria of the award
 - The application AAPS received for the award
 - The documentation of the selection committee's reasons for its decision
 - The appellant's statement appealing the decision

The panel will then consider whether the Selection Committee's actions were correct, and if not, the correct remedy. The panel's decision is final.

AAPS will notify the appellant, the chair of the AAPS Awards Committee, the AAPS Board of Directors, and others as necessary of the decision.

AAPS encourages appellants and other volunteers involved in an appeal to use discretion in deciding where, when, and with whom to discuss the appeal. AAPS wishes to protect both the integrity of the AAPS Awards Program and the reputations of all the involved parties.

RESCINDING AN AWARD

Regardless of the award, all recipients are expected to uphold the standards of the pharmaceutical scientist profession as outlined in the AAPS Professional Code of Conduct, the AAPS Conflict of Interest Policy, the AAPS Code of Ethics, the AAPS PharmSci 360 and Event Attendee Code of Conduct, the AAPS Professional Code of Conduct Policy, and other policies and statements approved by the AAPS Board of Directors. Policies are posted at www.aaps.org/policies.

The AAPS Awards Committee may recommend, and the AAPS Board of Directors may decide, to rescind a recipient's award(s), even years after it has been presented, should the recipient be found to have violated one of the aforementioned policies or to have violated the ethics of their profession. In the event that a call to rescind is brought forward, the recipient will be notified and given the opportunity to make a statement to the Board of Directors. The Board's decision is final.

AAPS AWARDS GUIDE

PROPOSING A NEW AWARD

The AAPS Awards Committee receives, reviews, and completes development of all proposals for new AAPS Awards. Although the AAPS Board of Directors makes the final decision in creating an award, it is with the advice of the AAPS Awards Committee, which administers all awards.

Individuals and groups may submit proposals that include the following information. AAPS staff are happy to help organizers complete these questions and improve the quality of the proposal submitted to the Awards Committee.

The Awards Committee may reject an application; accept it and recommend it to the AAPS Board of Directors; or work with an applicant to revise an application until it is acceptable. Applicants should expect to collaborate closely with staff and the Awards Committee on any proposed award.

■ DEADLINE FOR SUBMITTING AN AWARD PROPOSAL

Completed proposals must be received at awards@aaps.org by August 1 in order to be incorporated into the following year's awards program.

Contents of the Award Proposal

To be considered, each proposal must include:

- Proposed title
- Statement of purpose for the award that aligns with AAPS' mission and the Awards Program vision described above
- Description of the ideal recipient
- Recommended number of recipients to select annually

- Recommended application process, including:
 - Whether the award will allow self-nomination or if the package must come from someone other than the nominee
 - What must be included in the nomination package
 - When the award should be presented
- Candidate qualifications, which determine whether an individual can apply for the award at all. Candidates not meeting the qualifications will not be considered. Qualifications are generally an easily ascertained fact about the nominee. Examples of qualifications include:
 - "The nominee has been working in the field for 5 years"
 - "The nominee must be an AAPS member at the time of nomination"
- Selection criteria that will be applied to all qualified candidates. AAPS recommends 3-5 key criteria. Examples of selection criteria include:
 - Documented accomplishments in a field
 - Letters of endorsement
- An outline of a proposed selection process, including a description of the types of individuals AAPS should seat on a selection committee and what they will consider in reaching their decision.
- Recommended elements of the recognition, including monetary, travel, plaque/certificates, etc.
- Expectations for recipients after receipt of the award (e.g., providing interviews, appearance at PharmSci 360).

To propose an award, AAPS strongly recommends contacting AAPS at awards@aaps.org early in the development process. AAPS staff will advise organizers in the development of their proposal.

Financing a New Award

In order to ensure that every award contributes to the enduring tradition of AAPS Awards, organizers must provide a financial plan for an award that would require funding each year to cover costs such as reimbursement for airfare or an honorarium. To support an award year over year that costs $2,500 or more annually, organizers should plan to create an endowment of at least $150,000. AAPS will not advance proposed awards that have financial backing for a limited number of years, or that are funded at corporate discretion.
