AAPS Executive Director Tina Morris, Ph.D., Addressed Future of Quality Control Testing at Waters Corporation “Fireside Chat”

Arlington, VA—On Monday, March 20, AAPS Executive Director Tina Morris, Ph.D., spoke about the future of quality control testing at an invitation-only launch event hosted by Waters Corporation at Union Trust in Philadelphia.

Morris joined Waters Corporation Vice President/General Manager of QA/QC Fraser McLeod onstage for a friendly discussion about analytical sciences in the pharmaceutical space.

The event served as the launch for Waters Corporation’s new Alliance iS HPLC System and took place during Pittcon.

“The future of QC is critical to the future of global health,” Morris said. “Our colleagues at Waters Corporation understand that and the impact of good analytical science in advancing patient care.”

###

American Association of Pharmaceutical Scientists (AAPS) is a 501(c)(3) non-profit association of more than 7,000 scientists and professionals employed in academia, industry, regulatory, and other research related to the pharmaceutical sciences worldwide. Its mission is to advance the capacity of pharmaceutical scientists to develop products and therapies that improve global health, which members pursue through four peer-reviewed journals and a variety of events in person and online. www.aaps.org