ACPPA Announces Partnership with The Brown Collective

The Australian Catholic Primary Principals' Association is excited to announce a partnership with The Brown Collective.

The Brown Collective's unique and complementary skill sets are focused on enhancing the performance of individuals, teams and whole organisations.

Their foundational experience lies in educational leadership development, and developing high quality executive leadership programs for sectors and systems, both nationally and internationally.

The Brown Collective is a known and trusted voice in every sector needing expertise in policy and strategy, capacity-building, and sustainable change. (www.thebrowncollective.com.au)

The Brown Collective 6R Leadership Program for Experienced School Leaders

“The program is a response to a range of needs expressed by current school principals through various forms of consultation and engagement. These are the need for Principals to be provided with structured opportunities to reflect and learn with peers at a similar phase of their leadership formation; to add and deepen knowledge, skills and capabilities required to undertake the role of Principal now and into the future; to encourage Principals to explore what they wish they had known before becoming a Principal; to provide a tangible way to enable Principals to thrive in their role.”

This partnership will enable school leaders to apply for a part scholarship of $3 500 toward the cost of participation in the 6R Leadership Program. To apply, click here

ACPPA looks forward to engaging with The Brown Collective and supporting school leaders as a part of this valued partnership.
