

What's New / President Update

Dear fellow ACRP Canadian Clinical Researchers:

I am both honored and excited to serve as the President of the ACRP Canadian Chapter. It has been quite an exciting year for the Canadian Chapter! The Canadian Chapter was the 2017 recipient of the Chapter Excellence Award in Education and Training, which is awarded to the ACRP Chapter that significantly fostered the clinical research profession by providing stellar education and training programs and offerings to members. Throughout 2016, the Canadian Chapter held a variety of events including webinars, conferences in Montreal and Toronto, and networking opportunities for our Chapter members and professionals across the country. We would like to thank the Canadian Chapter Executive Committee for their dedication and ongoing support in delivering high quality networking and educational opportunities for our Chapter members.

What will the next year bring? Our goal for 2017 is to continue to improve the value of Canadian Chapter membership by increasing the number of opportunities and events for our members across the country. As well, we aim to grow our membership base so that we can provide access to networking and educational content for even more Canadian clinical research professionals.

The support of our Canadian Chapter members is instrumental to our success and is the sole reason for our Chapter's existence. I would like to extend a huge thank you to our members for your continued support!

Sincerely,

Angela Besanger RD, CCRC, CCRA
