AVP & Responsible Executive,
Clinical Research, HCA

Program Description:

Healthcare and clinical research reform in the United States is constantly moving forward. Monumental shifts created by new laws and administrative efforts will undoubtedly cause both direct and indirect impacts on the clinical research industry.

This session highlights the multiple activities that are expected to have an impact in an attempt to help the audience decipher what it may mean to their research operations and their subjects. This presentation will address the most recently enacted legislation/regulations as well as items in current play, which include overview of topics such as the 21st Century Cures Act, updates on Medicare payment rules, various laws on expanded access and state's "Right To Try", OHRP's Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, new rules concerning research with dried newborn blood spots, IRS issues on patient stipends and much more.

Upon completion of this Webcast, attendees should be able to:

1. Review impact of healthcare and clinical research reform in the U. S. on research operations and study subjects.
2. Describe current and most recently enacted U. S. legislation/regulations.
3. Summarize both direct and indirect impacts on the clinical research industry.
