Opportunities to Earn Early Childhood Education Credentials and Degrees

Are you interested in going to college and earning a credential or degree in early childhood? Many supports are available, and higher education navigators can help you access them.

If you are currently working – or previously worked - in child care, preschool, Head Start or family child care in Illinois, opportunities are available to go to school with the supports you need to help you be successful.

Financial assistance is available for eligible teachers, assistants, directors and others to cover all tuition and fees and for other potential expenses, such as books, transportation, and child care at many of Illinois' colleges and universities.

Illinois higher education institutions are redesigning to make it easier for you, the early childhood workforce, to enroll in programs created for you, through classes that are available when and in the format that works best for you. They are also hiring mentors to help you enroll in programs and be successful.

If you would like to be connected to a Higher Education Navigator who can walk you through the available opportunities, please complete the following survey and return to the local Child Care Resource and Referral Agency listed above with Attn: Higher Education Navigator.
