

Director of Communications: The RI Community Food Bank seeks a director of communications to develop a communications strategy for the Food Bank and execute that strategy through marketing, public relations, media relations and digital communications activities. Write key publications, including press releases, newsletters, annual report, flyers, brochures, etc. Manage the Food Bank's website and social media strategy. Support communications needs of other Food Bank departments. Represent the Food Bank at outside events and speaking engagements. This position reports to the Chief Philanthropy Officer and is an active part of the development team. Experience managing external communications strategies and implementation for a high profile organization, and bachelor's degree in communications, journalism, English, or related field required. The salary range is $70,000-$100,000. See full job description at www.rifoodbank.org.

Send cover letter and resume to: Maribeth Cirelli, Director of Administration, RICFB, 200 Niantic Avenue, Providence, RI 02907 or e-mail to resumes@rifoodbank.org. No phone calls please. The RICFB is an equal employment opportunity employer.