Let’s Learn & Grow

The savvy nonprofit development professional knows that fundraising is a lot more than just writing grants or holding events. It is cultivating individual donors, nurturing networks, building relationships, clearly communicating your mission, and motivating people toward action. It’s thinking outside the box to consider new ways to attract resources; it’s assuming abundance over scarcity; it is being bold and being patient, at the same time.

The 2022 AFP Kentucky Conference is designed for the entire philanthropic community. Whether you’re a volunteer or an executive director, a grant writer or a grant maker, an experienced development director or a new program manager – you’ll find valuable learning and networking at this conference. All individuals who participate or are looking to better understand the grand task of philanthropy are encouraged to attend.

Alice Ferris
Kentucky local Alice Ferris is an agent for social change who has spent her career engaging in community-based initiatives as a convener, speaker, trainer, writer, and consultant. Tanya will discuss how our nonprofits can embrace inclusion, diversity, equity, and access (IDEA).

Tanya Torp
Kentucky local Tanya Torp is an agent for social change who has spent her career engaging in community-based initiatives as a convener, speaker, trainer, writer, and consultant. Tanya will discuss how our nonprofits can embrace inclusion, diversity, equity, and access (IDEA).

During lunch, we will share space with Alice Ferris, who will be helping us dive into our ikigai—the Japanese concept that means your “reason for being”—and our continued resilience as a sector. Alice is the founding partner of Goalbusters, received her CFRE in 1999, her ACFRE in 2010, and brings with her more than 30 years of nonprofit experience, not counting her “top cookie salesperson” honors in McFarland, Wisconsin.

Workshops:
We will have four break out sessions with 16 topics to choose from, covering all aspects of Philanthropy including capital campaigns, social enterprise, planned giving and more!
