

Douglas Manigault III, DSW, MSW, CFRE
Development Director
IHN at Alpha House

Biography:

Dr. Douglas F. Manigault III (he/him) is an expert relationship manager and seasoned fundraising leader. He has spent the last 10 years raising funds for small, large, and national nonprofits. He has successfully raised over $25-million from individuals, foundations, corporations, government agencies, and community organizations. Douglas currently serves as the Development Director at Interfaith Hospitality Network (IHN) of Washtenaw County dba Alpha House.

A certified fundraising executive (CFRE), Douglas is aware of how to use the major gift framework to secure funding from anyone. He regularly presents locally and at national conferences on the unique features of social workers as fundraisers, fundraising rooted in racial justice, and being a successful development director. He has also written about fundraising and currently teaches a Grant Writing and Fundraising course to Master of Social Work (MSW) students at the University of Michigan School of Social Work.
