

Kelley Stokes-Samuel Bio

Kelley Stokes-Samuel currently serves as the Donor Relations Manager for the University Library at the University of Michigan--Ann Arbor. Before her work at the University Library, Kelley was the first major gifts officer focused exclusively on fundraising for diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives within U-M's Office of University Development. At U-M, she is also a founding committee lead of the Development Professionals of Color business resource group. A native of Southfield, Kelley previously served as a major gift officer at Wayne State University in Detroit and in several development and communications roles at her alma mater, The George Washington University. She is a 2015 graduate of AFP Greater Detroit's mentorship program and a former member of the chapter's membership committee. She is also a proud member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.
