

Steve Ragan is the Executive Vice President of Hope Network, one of Michigan's largest nonprofits, where he is responsible for development and external relations as well as leadership in Southeast Michigan. Ragan has held a number of key leadership roles locally and nationally. At Focus: HOPE, he led the successful conclusion of their $100 M capital campaign. From 2009 to 2017 he served as chief development officer and then senior advisor to Brad Pitt's Make It Right Foundation. He was the Vice President and later Senior V. P. for University Advancement at Lawrence Technological University and was V.P. for Development and Community Affairs at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Earlier in his career he directed Eastern Michigan University's first comprehensive campaign. Ragan has served as a consultant and advisor to numerous nonprofits in education, anti-poverty, and arts and culture sectors.

Ragan also served as a publicly elected trustee and chairperson of Schoolcraft College, where he was the nation's youngest college governing board chairman.

He received his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and is a graduate of Harvard University's Institute for Management and Leadership in Education.
