

Wendell is the Vice President of Omni Chanel Marketing at PIP New England. For the last thirty-four years he has worked with companies and individuals helping to make their dreams come true. The relationships he's made and the people who have touched him have sustained him in the highly competitive field of marketing, printing and direct mail.

He has served as a deacon in the Diocese of Springfield for the past 11 years at the Blessed Sacrament Parish in Holyoke. About fifteen years ago, he felt called to serve his faith community. A deacon in the Catholic faith is an ordained minister who serves the poor and marginalized in our society with a focus on the local parish boundaries, which for him is Holyoke, MA.

For the past eight years, Wendell has served on the Board of Directors for the Take and Eat Ministry in Western MA. In this capacity he is the director of the Springfield Area Take and Eat efforts. Wendell felt called to serve in this capacity after a mission trip to Haiti when his eyes were opened to the need of the elderly in his own neighborhood, particularly homebound elders in Western MA. His membership in the Association of Fundraising Professionals and service on the Board of the AFP--Western MA Chapter has helped him gain expertise in raising funds for the Take and Eat Ministry.

As a board member of the Postal Customer Council of Western MA for the past 24 years, Wendell has helped to educate and inform the public about the United States Postal Service, providing training, information and a strong connection between the mailing industry and the postal service. The PCC partnership program motivated him to serve on the PCC Board and he is committed to the effort to work with the USPS to help it grow and to continue to be a vital and accessible service for all.
