How Can Fundraising Possibly Succeed In A COVID Environment?

In the last six months, nonprofits pivoted and adapted to uncertainty, a new way of business, and a different social landscape. Hear from your peers about the ways they prevailed under the unique circumstances and found success furthering their mission. We hope you will join AFP Colorado Chapter and AFP Southern Colorado Chapter as we discuss industry success stories and new trends that could be the future of philanthropy.

Panelists:

Scott Lumpkin, Principal, Scott R. Lumpkin & Associates LLC

Diane Stine, Development Director, Colorado Springs Pioneers Museum

Are You Adaptable?

2020 has been a roller coaster of change requiring nonprofits to quickly adjust and be creative, and leaders to find new ways of planning and responding to the needs of their mission and employees. Responding to a crisis and leading through change requires an ability to be adaptive and agile. Learn more about the 5 Principles to Guide Adaptive Leadership in the Harvard Business Review, and continue to lead in your organizations and communities as we forge on this year!

Celebrate Philanthropy!

On November 13th, we are excited to gather virtually to celebrate National Philanthropy Day in Colorado. This year, we celebrate two youth award winners and honor 33 individuals, organizations, and businesses who are working to create change in communities across our great state. See the list of the 2020 honorees!

Join us for this event to:

LEARN how individuals, organizations and businesses across Colorado are creating a kinder, more sustainable and just world
CONNECT with other changemakers who care about philanthropy and our vibrant nonprofit sector
CELEBRATE our two youth award winners and 33 honorees and the difference philanthropy makes
