Speaking of the Economy...

In 2020 as shared public spaces emptied out and people were less visible in the streets, the gaps between the economically privileged and the economically precarious became significantly more visible and impossible to ignore. Read more, and consider what this might mean for philanthropy, in a new article from the New York Times: The Year Inequality Became Less Visible, and More Visible Than Ever.

Member Spotlight

KUDOS! Celebrating the accomplishments of our members.

Kudos to everyone who participated in AFP Programs in this unprecedented and tumultuous year.

To our education, Coffee Chat, RMPI and NPD sponsors for their generosity and partnership. Their contributions allowed us to present timely and meaningful information in non-traditional formats and to recognize those who inspired us with their service to community.

To our mentors and mentees, who, although socially distanced, worked together to share knowledge and experience.

To our board members, committee members and volunteers, who worked hard to provide timely topics to help us learn and grow.

And to our members, for remaining active and keeping philanthropy in Colorado moving forward despite COVID-19.

Let's all wish 2020 farewell and look forward to a brighter 2021!

If you have some great news to share, like a promotion, a new job, or an award received, email us at AFPkudos@gmail.com. Please note this is specifically to celebrate our Members, so no need to send the results of your latest campaign or event
