Planning for a Post-COVID Future

In the early days of the coronavirus pandemic many nonprofits scrambled to work within a new reality – remote work, emergency communications, shifts in funding priorities and increased community needs. Six months later we've settled into a new routine, but the landscape continues to shift. As we head into the end of the year and start looking towards the future, AFP Canada offers Ten Steps to Planning a Post-COVID Future.

Last Call for NPD Submissions: Everyone Can Be a Philanthropist

This is the final week to honor one or more individuals, organizations, and businesses working to create change in our communities for National Philanthropy Day!

So what exactly makes an individual, organization or business someone to celebrate? Consider who in your network fits one or more of these unique areas:

- Ongoing commitment to philanthropy and/or social justice and creating positive change in the community
- Innovative work related to COVID-19 and supporting our community in these unprecedented times
- Unsung community based heroes as well as prominent leaders
- Honorees from throughout Colorado who represent the diversity of our sector and communities across the state

We can't wait to share the stories of honorees at our November 13th virtual event. Until then, join us in celebrating philanthropy; submit a nomination today!
