Donating $45M gets you in the Philanthropy 50

The Chronicle of Philanthropy has published the list of the 50 biggest donors to charity in 2021. Topping the list are Bill Gates and his ex-wife Melinda French Gates, Mike Bloomberg, and Bill Ackman and his wife Neri Oxman. Number 50 is Doris Kelley Christopher, who founded Pampered Chef.

Who is not on the list? Elon Musk, the world’s richest at $277 billion, whose net worth rose $121 billion in 2021. The NY Times rightfully condemns him in this editorial. The silver and bronze Scrooge awards go to Larry Page (plus $47B) and Larry Ellison (plus $29B).

No, not Oprah, nor Kanye, nor Jordan, nor Jay-Z, nor Tyler Perry, but they are on the list. The richest black American is Robert Smith, the founder, chairman and CEO of Vista Equity Partners, an investment firm. His net worth is estimated at $7 billion. Black History Month

February is Black History Month. We will share a Member Moment each February newsletter introducing black AFP members and the causes they are working on.

Member Moment

Jazmin Brooks, Director of Development, University of Colorado Boulder College of Arts and Sciences | The Center for African and African American Studies

What does your organization do that you are excited about?
CU Boulder’s newly established Center for African and African American Studies is a multipurpose space where scholars, students, artists, activists, and allies come together to study Africa, African Americans, and the African diaspora. I am honored to play a role in advancing CU Boulder’s mission to serve the people of Colorado through its support of the research, achievements, and innovations of African and African Americans.
