

Carolyn Stevens-Wood – Bio, July 2023

Carolyn Stevens-Wood is a Director at the Young Americans Center for Financial Education where she focuses on nonprofit and corporate partnerships. She has over 10 years of experience at nonprofit organizations in multiple markets in addition to experience in the corporate sector with brands including Procter & Gamble and Coca-Cola. She studied psychology at McGill University and Griffith University and recently completed a Certificate in Corporate Social Responsibility and ESG Strategy at the University of Colorado.

Carolyn is an enthusiastic social impact professional and advocate for corporate philanthropy and volunteer engagement to help tackle pressing community issues. She serves on the Board of the Colorado Chapter of AFP, the Associate Board of Girls on the Run of the Rockies, and co-chairs the Professional Development CSR Alum Group for UC Boulder.

Jennifer Forman - Bio, July 2023

Jennifer Forman is the ESG Program Lead and a member of the Global Impact team at Splunk, a global technology company. She has been developing social impact and equity initiatives for nearly two decades as a consultant and senior leader at global corporations and national nonprofit organizations.

Jennifer teaches the Certificate in ESG Strategy offered by the Center for Ethics and Social Responsibility at the University of Colorado's Leeds School of Business. She holds professional certifications in Corporate Social Responsibility (University of Colorado) and GRI Standards for Sustainability Reporting (GRI Academy).

Jennifer is an avid proponent of corporate purpose, workplace diversity, equity & inclusion, and integrating environmental and social sustainability practices into all facets of business. Recently, Jennifer served as the Director of Corporate Citizenship at PopSockets where she developed an award-winning, global social impact initiative and managed a multi-million dollar philanthropy budget. Earlier in her career Jennifer was Vice President of Marketing & Development for two national nonprofit organizations.