How is Philanthropy Different from Generation X to Generation Z?

Lynnette Adams

Lynnette Adams (M.A. in Public Relations and Organizational Communication) is the director of development at the Community College of Aurora Foundation and Adjunct Faculty Instructor for the Nonprofit Leadership Management Masters at the University of Denver. She has over ten years of experience in fundraising across generations, cultures and interests. Understanding how and why different generations of donors give is an important first step to building strong relationships with donors. Join Lynn, and your fundraising colleagues, for this educational breakfast to learn the nuances of generational differences in philanthropy, and how to engage multiple generations as long-term donors to your cause.

RMPI Needs YOU!

RMPI is our annual fall conference where over 125 fundraising professionals come together for networking and learning. We will be selecting eight speakers for breakout sessions, which will take place on Friday, September 11th (please note that our Keynote Speaker for 2020 has already been selected). Selected speakers will receive one complimentary conference registration (valued at $250), as well as marketing opportunities reaching over 2,000 fundraising professionals. Workshop sessions are 75 minutes long for approximately 15-50* attendees per session. Speaker application must be submitted by March 27, 2020 at 5:00 pm and speakers will be notified regarding their participation by April 17th, 2020.

Prepare Now for Future Opportunities in Development

Nonprofit development professionals with leadership aspirations are encouraged to apply for the next class offered by Institute for Leaders in Development at the University of Denver (ILD). Applications for the Class of 2021 are being accepted through April 3rd, 2020 at 5:00 pm.

More than 170 professionals have already benefited from this unique professional advancement opportunity. Today, graduates are using their new leadership skills to advance their careers and make the nonprofit development sector stronger and more sustainable.

The unique, nine-month program incorporates in-depth classroom experiences, one-on-one mentoring and gives participants the opportunity to work on a development challenge from their own organization. Don't let expenses hinder your professional growth! Apply for The Bob Mesko Scholarship and your program tuition ($500) could be covered!

If you are a change-maker ready to advance your career in the nonprofit sector, apply now! For more information and to apply, visit ildcolorado.org.
