

Thursday Thoughts

Deadline for RMPI Speaker Applications Today

Today is the last day to apply to speak at this year's AFP conference, Rocky Mountain Philanthropy Institute! Fundraising professionals are looking for new ways to connect with funders and navigate a new normal. If you have developed practices, strategies, or share-worthy new modes of operating, apply today to help advance nonprofit service in the Colorado community.

You Need Your Board to be Top Notch Fundraisers

Every nonprofit board member can play a unique and important role in recruiting donors and friends to the cause. This is always essential, but more so now than ever with resources stretched thin and needs greater than ever. Join AFPCC in an interactive session on May 6th to learn how to mobilize board members to their fullest fundraising potential, and ensure they have fun doing it! You'll walk away with a menu of creative options for transforming your board into a top-notch fundraising team and the confidence to take the next step.

Leslie Allen and Ann Goldman, Front Range Source

Presenters are Leslie Allen and Ann Goldman. Leslie and Ann co-founded Front Range Source to provide fundraisers with the tools and inspiration to raise more money for their great causes. Leslie is director of development at Conservation Colorado and chair of the board of the Community Foundation Boulder County. Ann is the owner and principal of Ann Goldman Consulting, Inc., a member of the board of AFP Colorado Chapter, and co-chair of the Rocky Mountain Philanthropy Institute. Together, Leslie and Ann have more than 60 years of fundraising experience as staff, board members, and consultants. They know what you're going through because they've been there!
