

EXTRA! EXTRA!

The annual Fall Meeting in New Orleans is just a couple of weeks away! We look forward to interacting with you at social and science events throughout the week (details below).

Volunteers wanted! Judges are needed for choosing our section's Outstanding Student Presentation awardees. This small time commitment is a crucial contribution to supporting the next generation of Biogeoscientists. Anyone who is not a student is eligible to judge! We invite you to apply here.

Tweet during the Fall meeting, please!

Hello to all AGU B-section tweeps! We highly encourage live tweeting of #AGU17. Please use #biogeo for all tweets related to B-section events and sessions. We'll make sure to amplify your #scicomm by retweeting from @AGUbiogeo. Just make sure to follow AGU's social media guidelines. Reminder: photography and video and/or audio recording of oral sessions, posters, lectures, and keynotes are not allowed.

Looking for volunteers for guest tweeters:

AGU's B-section twitter feed @AGUbiogeo is looking for volunteers to serve as guest tweeters! To liven up our Twitter page, we are seeking B-section members to guest-tweet about their science to 1000+ followers of @AGUbiogeo for 1 week, similar to the rotational science tweeting of @realscientists. Email B-section social media coordinator Jennifer Glass at jennifer.glass@eas.gatech.edu if you're interested in a guest-tweeting rotation, and we'll get you on the schedule!

Early Career Facebook Group: Everyone is invited to join the Facebook group that was started by the Early Career group. Just click on this link to join.
