Establish a schedule that explicitly states when assignments are routinely due and when students can expect to get feedback.

Offer clear expectations (of assignments, policies, grading requirements).

Include a variety of materials, beyond printed text, to increase the options of representation and increase engagement.

Examples:
- YouTube videos for extension activities/blogs
- Accessible slide presentations
- Accessible and downloadable PDFs
- Web sites that feature real-world applications of content

Place information about support systems, including accessibility, at the top of your syllabus.

Make it clear that student engagement and motivation matters.
