[company] including all affiliates and subsidiaries ("[company]", “us” or “we”) [2] thanks you for choosing one of our products (the “Product”). This End-User License Agreement (this “Agreement”) is a legal document that contains the terms and conditions under which limited use of certain Software (as defined below) that operates with the Product is licensed to you. [3]

PLEASE READ THIS AGREEMENT CAREFULLY BEFORE INSTALLING OR USING THIS PRODUCT.

BY CHECKING THE BOX OR CLICKING THE BUTTON TO CONFIRM YOUR ACCEPTANCE WHEN YOU FIRST INSTALL THE SOFTWARE, YOU ARE AGREEING TO ALL THE TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT. [4] ALSO, BY USING, COPYING OR INSTALLING THE SOFTWARE, YOU ARE AGREEING TO ALL THE TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT. IF YOU DO NOT AGREE TO ALL OF THESE TERMS, DO NOT CHECK THE BOX OR CLICK THE BUTTON AND/OR DO NOT USE, COPY OR INSTALL THE SOFTWARE, AND UNINSTALL THE SOFTWARE FROM ALL DEVICES THAT

[2] There is no defined term of “Company” in this agreement. Throughout, the company is referenced by name and occasionally its affiliates when appropriate. Many EULAs do have the company as a defined term.

[3] Also notice, the licensee is only referred to as “you” in this opening recital, and should likely be altered if the licensee is a company, although this will depend on the kind of license granted (footnote [10]). You is subsequently defined (footnote [9]).

[4] To ensure the users are legally bound by the terms, the EULA must be presented in a manner that forms a legally enforceable contract. You want to ensure that the user has notice of the EULA and affirmatively or implicitly agrees to the terms. The preferred EULA is a clickwrap license, where the EULA is presented to the user who clicks a button to indicate the user read and agrees to be bound by the terms of the agreement presented. Other methods of user acceptance of the EULA terms include active steps taken by the user, such as installation, copying, or use. Because users may not read the entire EULA, the acceptance section should be in the beginning of the agreement to provide clear notice to the user prior to any user action. Software marketplaces or websites may provide links to the EULA without affirmative acceptance. Some courts have found these licenses to be unenforceable. Because the EULA is often non-negotiable, the terms are typically highly preferential to the licensor. Licensees who are large corporate parties for enterprise use.

This product is Software licensed to you by [company] and, where applicable, by [company’s] suppliers. “Software”[7] means any and all firmware programs and associated files provided with respect to the Product; any and all software programs, applications or “apps” and associated files provided with respect to the Product; all modified versions of and upgrades or improvements to such programs (such as those provided via web-based updates), all subsequent versions of such programs, and all copies of such programs and files. Software does not include any Open Source Software (as defined below).[8]

By “you,” we mean the purchaser, recipient or other end user of the Product containing the Software or the purchaser, recipient or other end user of the Software on a standalone basis. “You” may also mean a person who has downloaded the Software from an authorized website, such as [insert webpage address] or from an authorized application market or store, such as Apple’s App Store or Google Play (each such application market or store is might need to consider more neutral terms. In this kind of agreement please note that it is important to consider provisions on law and jurisdiction (See note [37]) because there are consumer laws that provide for certain technical requirements for electronic agreements in order to be valid such as storage, identification through an account and the like. If you are drafting EULA’s you might want to consider the laws at least of the main jurisdictions where users are expected to be located.

[5] An opt-out provision is included, informing the user that the user may avoid acceptance of the agreement by not installing, copying or using the software.

[6] Similar to footnote [5], but covers an opt-out provision for software that is part of a product purchased from a retailer.

[7] This is a broad definition of software. Consider revising. By having it apply to “and associated files provided” it may be leaving the definition open ended.

[8] This EULA applies also to modified versions of the software as well as updates. However, the agreement does not include open source software. It should be up for discussion to include or exclude open source in the agreement. Of note, there is usually no specified acceptance procedure for an open source license.

[9] “You” is further defined in this section, which may be altered if the licensed end user is a company which allows use by one or more persons within. Issues such as apparent authority should also be considered, for example by including a representation that the person

1. LICENSE GRANT. [company] hereby grants you the right to use: (i) where your Product is not a “Small-Medium Business or SMB” branded Product, for your personal, non-commercial purposes; or (ii) where your Product is a “Small Medium Business or SMB Product, for your personal or commercial use; copies of the Software in object code form on devices that you own (or, in the case of firmware, one copy of the firmware in object code form solely on the Product relating to the firmware). As part of this license, you may (A) operate the Software in the manner described in the user documentation for the Software; (B) where the Software is provided for download onto a personal computer or mobile device, make as many copies of the Software as you reasonably need for your own use (this does not include firmware); and (C) permanently transfer all of your rights to use the Product (including but not limited to the Software) to another person, so long as that person also agrees to be bound by this Agreement, and following such transfer you stop using the Product and the Software.

You can find the user documentation for the Software on the “Support” page of the applicable [company] website.

2. LICENSE RESTRICTIONS. The Software is licensed, not sold, to you. You only have the non-exclusive right to use the Software in accordance with this Agreement. You may not (i) modify, adapt or otherwise create derivative works from the Software, the Product containing the Software or user documentation (except as may be permitted by an applicable open source license) without receiving prior written consent from [company] to make any such modifications: (ii) lease, sublicense, resell, rent, loan, accepting the agreement is authorized to do so on behalf the company.

[10] This limits the operation of the licensed software to a manner described in the user documentation provided for the software. A hyperlink to the user documentation is provided in the next paragraph. This would allow the licensor the update the operation limitation after execution of this EULA. EULAs commonly limit the license to only those uses which are specified. The EULA will also vary by content and services. For instance, some software is installed and used, but other software may provide content that is refreshed regularly (news, e-commerce). This annotated EULA includes different rights related to the commercial use and the number of devices where it may be installed. When distribution channels are the same for all kinds of licenses it might be necessary to establish in the grant such differences. However, when the identification of the kind of license paid by the user can be technically determined it might be better to establish a different EULA for each kind of license. In any case, the grant must be adapted in order to address all the license variants applicable to the software. Of note, this paragraph may be altered by adding the common preface: “Subject to Terms and Conditions specified herein...”

[11] Allows the licensee to make as many copies as needed for their own use.

[12] This EULA is transferable to another party so long as the other party agrees to be bound by this agreement and the original licensee ceases to use the product and software. If the license is for both hardware and software, it may make sense to make the EULA transferable only in conjunction with the resale of the equipment.

[13] This section explicitly states which rights are reserved by the licensor that are not granted to the user. Because users often think that they are “buying” a product, clarification of the fact that the product is licensed and not sold is very important for enforcement.

redistribute, or otherwise transfer (except as expressly permitted above), whether for commercial purposes or otherwise, the Software or user documentation; (iii) reverse engineer, disassemble, decrypt or decompile the Product or the Software or otherwise try to reduce the Software to a human-readable form, except where and only to the extent that such activity is permitted by applicable law or where [company] is required to permit such activity under the terms of an applicable open source license; (iv) remove or alter any copyright, trademark or other proprietary notices contained in the Software or user documentation[16]; (v) use the Product, Software or user documentation to develop a competing hardware and/or software product, or otherwise in any manner not set forth in this Agreement or the user documentation; (vi) if the Software is firmware, copy the firmware (other than one backup copy for archival purposes only), use it on a multi-user system or operate it separately from the Product onto which it is embedded; (vii) use the Software to transmit software viruses or other harmful computer code, files or programs, or to circumvent, disable or otherwise interfere with security-related features of the Software; (viii) use the Software to collect or harvest any third party’s personally identifiable information, to send unauthorized commercial communications or to invade the privacy rights of any third party; or (ix) use the Software for any unlawful purpose, and/or in any manner that breaches this Agreement. All rights not expressly granted to you by [company] under this Agreement are hereby reserved by [company]. You will not acquire such rights, whether through estoppel, implication, or otherwise.

[YOU ARE EXPRESSLY PROHIBITED FROM DISCLOSING THE SOFTWARE TO ANY PERSON OR ENTITY OR PERMITTING ANY PERSON OR ENTITY TO

Corporation, No. 17-1448 (Fed. Cir. 2018) which found that field-of-use restrictions do not create a contractual obligation on the part of the licensee not to exceed the defined scope. As result, the licensor cannot terminate the agreement for cause in response to the licensee exceeding the scope of the field-of-use restriction (although the licensee may be exposed to claims of IP infringement). Accordingly it may be desirable to include an express covenant not to exceed the defined scope.

[15] This provision is tied to the “object code” license. If source code is provided, additional considerations regarding open source software and third-party notices are relevant to distribution. Note that the drafting is careful in identifying that the rules for open source parts of the software have different rules and emphasis is added to the respect to applicable law or open source licenses.

[16] Such notices relate to the company’s ownership of IP. This is expanded in section 7, but is good to have it stated in the license restrictions.
3. APP SOFTWARE RESTRICTIONS. If you have downloaded the Software from an App Store, you are also subject to any terms of use of that App Store. Such terms of use may prohibit you from doing some of the things you are permitted to do under this Agreement, or permit you to do some of the things you are prohibited from doing under this Agreement. In addition, application of the App Store’s terms of use may result in other terms of this Agreement not being applicable to the Software or applying in a different way than this Agreement states. If your use of the Software is subject to an App Store’s terms of use, then in the event of any conflict or ambiguity between the terms of this Agreement and such App Store’s terms of use, the App Store’s terms of use will govern, but only to the extent necessary to resolve such conflict or ambiguity, and the terms of this Agreement will otherwise remain in full force and effect.\footnote{9} Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, by using the Software, you acknowledge and agree that it is solely your responsibility to understand the terms of this Agreement, as well as the terms of use of any App Store that may be relevant to the Software or the Product.

4. UPGRADES AND UPDATES. While [company] is not required to do so, [company] may provide you with upgrades or updates to this Software. This Agreement will govern any upgrades provided by [company] that replace and/or supplement the original firmware and/or Software, unless such upgrade is accompanied by a separate end user license agreement, in which case the terms of that end user license agreement will govern. If you decide not to download and use an upgrade or update provided by [company], you understand that you could put the \footnote{9} The extent of confidentiality language included in a software EULA depends upon the type of software and conditions of its use. Some software providers may want to allow the user to permit others access to the software, where that new user would fall under the EULA. Note that confidentiality of highly sensitive source code can be handled through a separate signed confidentiality agreement.

\footnote{18} The user is still subject to the terms and conditions of the App Store if obtained there, and in the case of an ambiguity, the terms of the App Store will govern. App Store is defined as Google or Apple’s app stores in the definition of “You”. Typically app stores provide themselves content under an open source license for their iOS or Android systems and because these are inherent to two main distribution channels for devices that are also tied to such systems. The drafter knows where these ambiguities might lie and therefore provides for express provisions that will allow compliance of such licenses and avoid breach through this agreement. It is therefore advisable to include all apps that require other distribution channels and also think of including similar express provisions of governance of open source software in general (see footnote [22]) contain Open Source Software (as defined below). This license does not apply to Open Source Software contained in the Software. Rather, the terms and conditions in the applicable Open Source Software license shall apply to the Open Source Software. Nothing in this Agreement limits your rights under, or grants you rights that supersede, any Open Source Software license. You acknowledge that the Open Source Software license is solely between you and the applicable licensor of the Open Source Software. You shall comply with the terms of all applicable Open Source Software licenses, if any. License and copyright information for the Open Source Software are disclosed in the Product documentation, within the “Support” tab on [company] websites and within the “Contact Us” section on [affiliate] websites. [company] is not obligated to provide any maintenance or support for the Open Source Software or any Product Software that has been modified by you pursuant to an Open Source Software license.

“Open Source Software” means any software or software component or technology that is subject to an open source license. Open source licenses are generally licenses that make source code available for free modification and distribution, but can also apply to technology received and distributed solely in object code form. Examples of open source licenses include: (a) GNU's General Public License (GPL) or Lesser/Library GPL (LGPL); (b) the OpenSSL License; (c) the Mozilla Public License; (d) the Berkeley Software Distribution (BSD) License; and (e) the Apache License.

Therefore, you must treat the Software like any other material protected by laws and treaties relating to international property rights and in accordance with this Agreement.[25]

8. THIRD PARTY PRODUCTS AND SERVICES. The Software may contain links or other features that make it easier for you to visit or log-in to independent third-party websites (“Linked Sites”). These features are provided solely as a convenience to you. Linked Sites are not under [company’s] control, and [company] is not responsible or liable for and does not endorse the content or practices of such Linked Sites, including any information or materials contained on such Linked Sites. You will need to make your own independent judgment regarding your interaction with these Linked Sites. You hereby waive and release any legal claim you might have against [company] with respect to these sites or third-party products or services, and your use of these sites, third-party products or services.[26] We encourage you to read the terms and conditions and privacy policy of each third party website that you choose to visit.

[25] This section protects the licensor’s intellectual property. It favors the licensor in that the IP is not defined and requires the user to treat the software as being protected by IP law. In a software environment, particularly where there is open source software involved the developments by users will likely be compromised in more than one way. Typically this kind of agreement therefore is open and leaves space to apply general IP law on authorship or inventorship and subsequently on ownership. However, because software is copyrightable in most jurisdictions, the user is obliged to treat it generally as a proprietary material regarding IP rights, as software will be subject to copyrights by simply materializing it in a support.

[26] This section limits the liability of licensor for user visiting or using Linked Sites.

10. TERM. This Agreement is effective when you click on the “I Accept” button, or when you in any other way use, copy or install the Software, which will constitute your acceptance of, and agreement to, this Agreement. Once accepted, this Agreement remains in effect until terminated. The limited license in this Agreement will be automatically terminated if you fail to comply with any of the terms and conditions in this Agreement. You agree that upon such termination, you will immediately destroy all programs and documentation that relate to the Software, including all copies made or obtained by you, and otherwise cease use of the Software. If the Software has been installed on a personal computer or mobile device, you must uninstall the Software immediately. If the Software is software or firmware embedded on a Product, you must stop using the Product. All provisions of this Agreement except for Section 1 and the limited warranty in Section 12 (the first paragraph) will survive termination.

EXCLUSIVELY AND FINALLY BY BINDING ARBITRATION ADMINISTERED BY JAMS, A NATIONALLY RECOGNIZED ARBITRATION AUTHORITY, PURSUANT TO ITS CODE OF PROCEDURES THEN IN EFFECT FOR CONSUMER-RELATED DISPUTES. YOU UNDERSTAND THAT WITHOUT THIS PROVISION YOU WOULD HAVE HAD A RIGHT TO LITIGATE A DISPUTE THROUGH A COURT BEFORE A JURY OR JUDGE, AND THAT YOU HAVE EXPRESSLY AND KNOWINGLY WAIVED THOSE RIGHTS AND AGREE INSTEAD TO RESOLVE ANY DISPUTES THROUGH BINDING ARBITRATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THIS SECTION.

(B) ARBITRATION PROCEDURES AND FEES. PRIOR TO SUBMITTING A CLAIM FOR ARBITRATION, EITHER PARTY SHALL FIRST NOTIFY THE OTHER PARTY TO TRY TO RESOLVE THE DISPUTE. IF THE DISPUTE IS NOT RESOLVED WITHIN 60 DAYS OF SUCH NOTIFICATION, THEN THE CLAIM WILL BE SUBMITTED FOR ARBITRATION. THE ARBITRATION OF ANY DISPUTE OR CLAIM SHALL BE CONDUCTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE THEN CURRENT AND APPLICABLE RULES OF JAMS AS MODIFIED BY THIS AGREEMENT. THE ARBITRATION SHALL OCCUR BEFORE A SINGLE ARBITRATOR, WHO MUST BE A RETIRED JUDGE OR JUSTICE, IN ONE OF SIX REGIONAL VENUES CONSISTENT WITH THE VENUE PROVISION BELOW. ANY DECISION OR AWARD BY THE ARBITRATOR RENDERED IN AN ARBITRATION PROCEEDING SHALL BE FINAL AND BINDING ON EACH PARTY, AND MAY BE ENTERED AS A JUDGMENT IN ANY COURT OF COMPETENT JURISDICTION. ANY ARBITRATION SHALL BE CONFIDENTIAL, AND NEITHER YOU, NOR [company] NOR THE ARBITRATOR MAY DISCLOSE THE EXISTENCE, CONTENT OR RESULTS OF ANY ARBITRATION, EXCEPT AS MAY BE REQUIRED BY LAW OR FOR PURPOSES OF ENFORCEMENT OR APPEAL OF THE ARBITRATION AWARD.
