LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Congratulations to our SIG for receiving the “Outstanding Community” designation for 2017! This designation celebrates the exceptional work of AIS Communities and their contributions toward supporting the mission of AIS through the advancement of knowledge and the promotion of excellence in the practice and study of information systems. I would like to thank all the SIG members who participated in the 12th International Research Workshop on IT Project Management (IRWITPM) held this past December in Seoul, Korea. We received many great submissions to our workshop and I am thankful to everyone who helped with the event. This year we are sponsoring a track at AMCIS 2018 which will be held in New Orleans, Louisiana. We are looking forward to seeing the presenters and track chairs at the conference. As for our 13th IRWITPM, we will be in sunny San Francisco, California for the pre-ICIS workshop in December 2018. Look for announcements and submission details coming soon. Again, I would like to thank you all for your continued support. Please reach out to me, or any of our officers, with any ideas or questions that you have. I look forward to seeing and hearing from you in the coming year!

Dawn Owens, Ph.D.
SIGITProjMgmt President

Election Results from the Secretary and Membership Chair

This year, two leadership positions were up for election: Secretary and Membership & Community Relations Chair. These positions were voted on electronically after our virtual general meeting on December 15th, 2017.

Secretary: The Secretary is the chief administrative officer of the SIG and shall perform all duties that pertain to the office of Secretary and that may be assigned by the President and the Executive Board. The following SIG member was unanimously elected: Gaurav Shekhar, University of Texas at Dallas.

Membership and Community Relations Chair: The Membership and Community Relations Chair is responsible for matters related to the SIG membership as well as developing community support for SIGITProjMgmt. The position of Membership and Community Relations Chair was retained by Cecil Chua, The University of Auckland.

Summary of the 12th Annual IRWITPM

We held our twelfth consecutive annual International Research Workshop on IT Project Management and I am so excited that we can continue our tradition of excellence as we promote, encourage, and discuss research in the domain of IT project management. Thank you do all who participated. We heard from 5 research presentations which include both Research in Progress and Completed Research. There was great networking and a nice dinner in the evening to wrap up the night. Congratulations to Fred Niederman, Thomas W. Ferratt, and Eileen M. Trauth who earned the Best paper award on their submission titled “On the Co-Evolution of Information Technology and Information Systems Personnel.”
Upcoming Events

AMCIS 2018 Track on IT Project Management

We are so excited to be sponsoring a track at AMCIS again this year. Our track on IT Project Management has 3 mini-tracks as follows – IT Project Management, Leadership and Security, Agile. Author notifications will be sent out soon. We hope to see at the sessions. For more information visit the AMCIS 2018 website: http://amcis2018.aisnet.org.

13th Annual IRWITPM

We are proud to sponsor the 13th International Research Workshop on Information Technology Project Management (IRWITPM). The workshop will feature research papers and one or more panels that focus on problems that cut across many IS/T Project Management areas. The workshop will be held as an all-day meeting in San Francisco, California in conjunction with ICIS 2018. There will be a single track to maximize interaction and participation. Submission Deadline: September 1st, 2018. Questions about the workshop or submissions can be directed to Workshop Program Co-Chairs, Dawn Owens (dawn.owens@utdallas.edu), Alanah Mitchell (alanah.mitchell@drake.edu) (or Stacie Petter (stacie_petter@baylor.edu)).

IJISPM - INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND PROJECT MANAGEMENT

http://www.sciencesphere.org/ijispm
EiC: João Varajão, University of Minho, Portugal

Mission:
The mission of the IJISPM - International Journal of Information Systems and Project Management - is the dissemination of new scientific knowledge on information systems management and project management, encouraging further progress in theory and practice. The IJISPM publishes leading scholarly and practical research articles that aim to advance the information systems management and project management fields of knowledge, featuring state-of-the-art research, theories, approaches, methodologies, techniques, and applications. The journal serves academics, practitioners, chief information officers, project managers, consultants, and senior executives of organizations, establishing an effective communication channel between them.

Description:
Published four times per year, in the last week of each trimester, the IJISPM offers wide ranging and comprehensive coverage of all aspects of information systems management and project management, seeking contributions that build on established lines of work, as well as on new research streams. Particularly seeking multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives, and focusing on currently emerging issues, the journal welcomes both pure and applied research that impacts theory and practice. The journal content provides relevant information for researchers, practitioners, and organizations, and includes original qualitative or quantitative articles, as well purely conceptual or theoretical articles. Articles are selected for publication based on their relevance, rigor, clarity, novelty, and contribution to further development and research. Authors are encouraged to submit articles on information technology governance, information systems planning, information systems design and implementation, information technology outsourcing, project environment, project management life-cycle, project management knowledge areas, criteria and factors for success, social aspects, chief information officer role, chief information officer skills, project manager role, project manager skills, among others. IJISPM has open access, having the users the right to read, download, copy, distribute, print, search, or link to the full texts of the published articles, if not for commercial purposes. The journal does not charge authors, readers or institutions for publication or access.
