TITLE: Rocks Roll Downhill: The Role of the Supervisor in Creating & Maintaining a Healthy & Humane Workplace
A talk by Amy Tureen

Monday, October 25, 1pm CST

ABOUT THIS TALK

This presentation will outline the role of the supervisor in cultivating a workplace culture that centers health and wellness. This includes both a discussion of the importance of supervisor self-care and the roles, formal and informal, that supervisors have in establishing and maintaining norms related to wellness, health, and work/live balance within an organization's culture. The importance of transparency and mindfulness as key leadership traits is emphasized throughout.

Amy Tureen is the Head, Library Liaison Program at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. She holds a BA from Scripps College, an MA from Simmons University, and an MLIS from Drexel University. She is currently working on her Ed.D. in Organizational Leadership at the University of La Verne. Amy's research primarily focuses on the various intersections of leadership, wellness, and diversity.
