WHAT'S NEW THIS YEAR?

Libraries Transform™

Attendees will have an opportunity to learn more about how to participate in and make the most of Libraries Transform™, the new ALA national public awareness campaign – as well as have some fun with it. The new campaign highlights the transformative nature of libraries and the critical role they play in the digital age, including the critical roles of librarians, library staff, vendors and supporters. The focus of the campaign is on what libraries do for and with people rather than on what they have for people. It includes all kinds of libraries – public, school, academic, and special – and their roles in the various communities they serve and of which they are part. The goal of the campaign is to change the conversation and, in so doing, to shine a different light on the compelling case for funding. The campaign launched in Washington, DC, on October 29, 2015. For more information, a toolkit with resources for participation, and an online trends center, please visit <http://www.librariestransform.org>. #librariestransform

Pick up Libraries Transform™ ribbons and window clings at registration; stickers and postcards in the ALA Lounge.

- Don't miss these key future-forward sessions:
 - Libraries Transform™: Understanding Change

Saturday, January 9, 1:00-4:00pm, Boston Convention & Exposition Center (BCEC), 103 Trainers from Kotter International, experts in the process and leadership of change, will lead an interactive session to explore libraries' current context and look ahead to meeting imperatives for Libraries Transform™. Using Dr. John Kotter's renowned 8-step Process for Leading Change – and its core principles – as a backdrop, session participants will have the opportunity to work with colleagues and Kotter International to answer the questions: Where am I in the process of leading change, and what do I need to be doing now to move my library into the future? (sponsored by the ALA Center for the Future of Libraries)

- Libraries Transform™: Civic and Social Innovation

- Civic Innovators – Sunday, January 10, 8:30-11:30am, BCEC 103
- Social Innovators – Monday, January 11, 8:30-11:30am, BCEC 103

Join Boston-based civic and social innovators -- including representatives from Boston's Mayor's Office of New Urban Mechanics, Boston College's Center for Social Innovation, and leaders from non-profits and design firms – for two outward-looking forums exploring the changes happening in our communities. Learn more about the issues Civic and Social Innovators are addressing and the strategies they are employing. These innovations can inspire our efforts to help libraries transform. Sessions are designed for your busy meeting schedules: each day will feature three presentations and attendees are encouraged to drop in as their schedules allow. (Sponsored by the ALA Center for the Future of Libraries and the ALA Office for Diversity, Literacy and Outreach Services)

- Creativity, Innovation and Change: Libraries Transform™ in the Digital Age!

Sunday, January 10, 1:00-2:30pm, Boston Convention & Exposition Center (BCEC) 153AB Join ALA President Sari Feldman and Jonathan Zittrain (Harvard Law School), and others in a conversation about innovative library environments and how we can illustrate our value to decision-makers and influencers. The session will feature work from Harvard's Library Innovation Lab and how it can be leveraged to make our case at the national level through ALA initiatives such as the Policy Revolution, and how you can leverage it to make your case locally through ALA's new public awareness initiative, Libraries Transform™.

- If I Hadn't Believed It, I Wouldn't Have Seen It: Exploring Systemic Racism and Its Implications for Our Lives and Work

Sunday, January 10, 8:00am-noon, and repeated on Monday, January 11, 8:00am-noon, Seaport Boston Hotel, Constitution Room

In this interactive workshop, we will explore how race, systemic racism, and racial privilege have implications for our personal and professional lives. The workshop will provide tools to help us better recognize and address racism and other forms of oppression in our relationships, organizations, and institutions. Presented by Paul Marcus and Donna Bivens (Community Change, Inc.). Sponsored by the ALA Task Force on Equity, Diversity and Inclusion.

- The Center for the Future of Libraries Advisory Group will hold its first meeting on Saturday, January 9, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 255. For additional information, see: <http://www.ala.org/news/press-releases/2015/11/ala-announces-center-future-libraries-advisory-group>

- And, don't miss the #LibrariesTransform photobooth in the ALA Lounge.
- You'll also want to celebrate ALA's 140th Anniversary with cake, Saturday, January 9, 2:00pm. Enjoy the timeline that offers a glimpse of past and present library transformations and share your own transformation landmarks to the record.
- The BluuBeam iBeacon is back! See page 50 in the Meeting Guide & Exhibits Directory for download information.
- Have an accessibility question? Contact Conference Services at 617-954-3950. For additional accessibility information, see page 51 in the Meeting Guide & Exhibits Directory.

"DEEP DIVE" SESSIONS

Being piloted this year, "Deep Dive" sessions are intended for active, participatory learning in an interactive workshop setting. Participation is limited to enable maximum interaction. Presenters and course design meet the standards for official Continuing Education Units (CEUs). The course fee covers direct costs of the course, the CEU process and a mid-morning (or mid-afternoon) refreshment break. Three courses are offered in the initial year. On-site registration will be taken, based on available space.

- We Are ALL User Experience Librarians: Creating Change from the Trenches, Saturday, January 9, 1:00-4:15pm, BCEC 207, sponsored by the Reference and User Services Association (RUSA).

This Deep Dive will focus on user testing and understanding your users' experience through a mix of discussion, presentations, and interactive experiences. Presenters will offer design strategies and tools from throughout the life cycle of a user experience design project, as well as a look at pitfalls to avoid and lessons learned. The workshop will focus on providing attendees with concrete skills and techniques they can apply at their home institutions with relatively little expense or pre-planning. Instructors include: Courtney Greene McDonald (Indiana University), Pete Coco (Weave: The Journal of Library User Experience, and Boston Public Library), Deirdre Costello (University of Michigan), Lauren McKeen (Northwestern University), and Heidi Steiner Burkhardt (University of Michigan).

- Trust and Opportunity: Transforming Lives, Transforming Communities in Mid-Sized Urban Settings, Sunday, January 10, 8:15-11:30am, BCEC 207, sponsored by the ALA Public Programs Office (PPO).

All communities have challenges. Libraries can help conquer them – given the right tools. Learn how two mid-sized, urban public libraries – Hartford [CT] Public Library and Springfield [MA] Public Library – are bringing residents, local organizations and city leaders together to tackle daunting issues, including public safety. Representatives from both libraries will talk about their approach, based on the "turning outward" approach created by The Harwood Institute for Public Innovation. Participants will learn the basics of this approach through a series of interactive exercises, will discuss mid-course correction and outcomes assessment, and hear real-world examples of how community engagement can change the perspective of libraries and their role in their communities.

For more information see: <http://www.eventscribe.com/2016/ALA-Midwinter/fsPopup.asp?Mode=presInfo&PresentationID=127765>

- Creating Out-of-This-World Children’s Science Programming with Free NASA Resources, Sunday, January 10, 1:00-4:15pm, BCEC 107, co-sponsored by the Association for Library Services to Children (ALSC) and the ALA Public Programs Office (PPO).

Participants will have an opportunity to try a variety of NASA hands-on activities for children and their families, which were developed to use in libraries and use inexpensive materials.

Participants will receive guides to upcoming celestial, Earth and NASA mission events, such as International Observe the Moon Night, and learn how to bring these, and other connections, to their communities. The session will be led by Keliann LaConte, informal education lead at the Lunar and Planetary Institute in Texas, and Wini Ashooh, youth services librarian at Central Rappahannock Regional Library in Virginia.

For more information see: <http://www.eventscribe.com/2016/ALA-Midwinter/fsPopup.asp?Mode=presInfo&PresentationID=127763>

- Check out the new Collaboration Point on the Exhibit Floor

Perhaps you’ve run into a colleague and want to discuss a new idea – or maybe you need to recharge your phone? Try the Collaboration Point, booth 2266. Take a break, pick up Orlando information and take an Annual Conference selfie, continue that author chat, add you library to the map.

JOIN THE CONVERSATION

Begin and End your Midwinter Meeting in Conversation:

Midwinter Unconference

Friday, January 8, 9:00am-12:00pm, BCEC 252AB

An Unconference is a participant-guided experience that harnesses the unstructured conversations people usually have between conference sessions into the conference itself. Unlike most conferences where talking heads and group leaders decide what is important, unconferences are organized by the crowd. Unconferences are about sharing the knowledge and passion we have for our profession and taking what we learn into the world to make a difference. Everyone has something to share. Everyone has something to learn. We can all change the world.

Library Camp

Monday, January 11 • 3:00 pm – 4:00 pm BCEC 151B

Want to ask questions, explore options, make recommendations, examine ideas, share inspirations, and reflect on the implications of updates, conversations, and what you’ve learned at Midwinter Meeting? If yes, then the informal Library Camp is perfect for you, and everyone is welcome. Round out your experience in Boston with a stimulating conversation, and come prepared to share your experiences and/or lead informal discussion on whatever you want to talk about.

“News You Can Use” sessions are clustered topically here. See pages 19-22 in the Midwinter Guide & Exhibits Directory for a chronological list.

Data, Research and Standards

- Data Visualization for the Rest of Us: A Beginner’s Guide, Saturday, January 9, 8:30-10:00am, BCEC 253B.
Straight from the 2015 Research Institute for Public Libraries (RIPL, <http://ripl.lrs.org/>), you’ll learn quick and easy tips for displaying your statistics so that they tell a powerful story about your library, whether your data visualization aspirations consist of adding a few Excel charts to a report or designing a complex infographic for your website.
- Curiosity Creates: Research and Best Practices in Creativity Programming for Children, Saturday, January 9, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 253B, sponsored by the Association for Library Service to Children (ALSC).
Engage in a conversation about how libraries encourage children to explore and create through intentional programming and thoughtful use of resources. Erica Fortescue, Associate Director, Center for Childhood Creativity, will present the latest research on creative thinking and recipients of the Curiosity Creates grant will share updates and lessons-learned from their libraries.
- Foundations of Young Adult Success: A Developmental Framework, Saturday, January 9, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 253C, sponsored by the Young Adult Library Services Association (YALSA).
Strong academic skills alone aren’t enough to lead a child to a productive adulthood. What other qualities matter and how can adults nurture them? This session presents a new framework by the University of Chicago Consortium on Chicago School Research. It integrates decades of theory and research and describes what children need to grow and learn, how adults can foster their development, and the obstacles children in poverty and children of color face in achieving their potential.
- Update on Value of Academic Libraries Initiative, Sunday, January 10, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 253C.
Join ACRL’s Value of Academic Libraries Committee for an update session on the Value of Academic Libraries initiative. Learn about a proposed new objective for ACRL’s strategic plan – the Plan for Excellence – to demonstrate how libraries advance issues of equity, access, institutional diversity, and inclusion. In this session, four librarians will present examples of library programs that advance these issues and add value by contributing to university or college goals specifically regarding equity, access to college, and inclusion. See: <http://www.eventscribe.com/2016/ALA-Midwinter/fsPopup.asp?Mode=presInfo&PresentationID=127774>
- ACRL/SPARC Forum – Complying with Emerging Funder Public Access Policies: How Libraries Can Make It All Work, Saturday, January 9, 3:00-5:30pm, BCEC 253C.
There has been a proliferation of high-profile funders announcing policies requiring greater access to research articles and data. From the White House to the Canadian Tri-Agency, to the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, these policies are now moving into the implementation stage. For libraries, the challenge of determining exactly how to make things work is compounded by differences in the requirements across policies and the ability of individual researchers and institutions to make sense of these differences and comply effectively. For additional information, see: <http://www.eventscribe.com/2016/ALA-Midwinter/fsPopup.asp?Mode=presInfo&PresentationID=127773>

- News You Can Use: Riding the NxtWave of School Library Research (AASL_ ESLS), Sunday, January 10, 3:00-4:00pm, BCEC 253B.
Join PhD students in the NxtWave: Leaders for 21st Century School Libraries program. Studies that will be presented include “School Librarians and Censorship: Examining Factors Influencing Selection Decisions” (April Dawkins, University of South Carolina) and “Radical Changes in the Roles of School Librarians” (Lois Wine, Old Dominion University). In addition, there will be updates on AASL’s research initiatives, CLASS and the Community of Scholars. For more information, see: <http://www.eventscribe.com/2016/ALA-Midwinter/fsPopup.asp?Mode=presInfo&PresentationID=127772>
- News You Can Use: Diversity Research Update, ALA Office for Diversity/Literacy/Outreach, Saturday, January 9, 3:00-4:00pm, BCEC 253A.
See description below.
- Update on the ACRL Academic Library Trends and Statistics Survey, Saturday, January 9, 4:30-5:30pm, BCEC 253B.
Robert Dugan, Dean of Libraries, University of West Florida, Chair of the ACRL Academic Library Trends and Statistics Survey Editorial Board, will present an update on the ACRL Academic Library Trends and Statistics Survey.
- How Libraries Fit into Community Education Ecosystems, Monday, January 11, 8:30-10:00am, BCEC 253A.
Lee Rainie, director of Internet, Science and Technology research at the Pew Research Center, will present new research on how people use libraries, the kinds of services and programs people would like from libraries, and how libraries are connected to communication, education and learning environments.
- OCLC Research Update, Monday, January 11, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253C.
Hear descriptions of selected OCLC Research projects on the challenges facing libraries and archives. A question and answer session will follow the presentations.

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion

- News You Can Use: Diversity Research Update, ALA Office for Diversity/Literacy/Outreach, Saturday, January 9, 3:00-4:00pm, BCEC 253A
Get updates from recent ALA-sponsored research focused on issues of equity, diversity and outreach. Additionally, the 2015 Achievement in Library Diversity Research honoree will be announced. The update will include discussions of 2014-2015 research from Dr. Shannon Oltman (“In-depth investigation of LGBT collections in school media centers”) and Sarah Lightner (“Development of Texts that Mediate and Facilitate Diversity in Adolescent Classrooms”). For more information, see: <http://www.eventscribe.com/2016/ALA-Midwinter/fsPopup.asp?Mode=presInfo&PresentationID=127783>
- Library Language Access for Limited English Proficient Patrons, Sunday, January 10, 8:30-10:00, BCEC 253B.
How can public libraries provide meaningful access to the over 25 million people in the U.S. who are Limited English Proficient (LEP)? Hear an update on language access laws, policies and recommendations at the city, state and federal level. Hear about key elements of language access plans that have transformed service delivery in hospitals, government and libraries. Explore how we can leverage staff strengths, technology and data analysis to engage immigrant patrons in all library services. Sponsored by the ALA Office for Diversity, Literacy and Outreach.

- News You Can Use: Celebrating June is GLBT Book Month @ Your Library ... and In Your Community, sponsored by GLBTRT, Sunday, January 10, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253B.
January is the right time to begin planning for library's events for June is GLBT Book Month. Join Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Transgender Round Table officers Peter Coyle, Ann Symons, Deb Sica, and others to learn about this new ALA initiative and participate in a GLBT book month brainstorming session. For more information, see:

And for related programs....

Don't miss this year's Arthur Curley Memorial Lecture, with Lizzie Velasquez, talking about bullying, both in-person and online. Saturday, January 9, 4:00-5:00pm, BCEC Ballroom West.

...also catch Digital Inclusion Now: Policy and Practice, from the ALA Office for Information Technology Policy, Sunday, January 10, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 107AB, to look at the impact of various digital inclusion initiatives, ranging from HUD's ConnectHome to FCC Lifeline to individual city projects.

....plus, catch this session being offered at the POPTOP Stage, in the Exhibit Hall:
We Need Diverse Books, Sunday, January 10, 11:00-11:50am, with Kody Keplinger, Malinda Lo, Adam Silvera, Heidi Heilig and Marieke Nijkamp to discuss diversifying library shelves, one book at a time. Panelists will discuss how their books add to the diversity of children's literature and how best to introduce LGBTQIA+ and disabled characters to library patrons, along with issues of privilege, bias and the need to hear all stories.

....Join ALA President Sari Feldman at the ALA President's Program, featuring NJ Senator Cory Booker, Sunday, January 10, 3:30-5:30pm, BCEC Ballroom West, co-sponsored by the ALA Task Force on Equity, Diversity and Inclusion.

....and, plan to attend the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday Observance and Sunrise Celebration, Monday, January 11, 6:30-7:30am, BCEC 205BC.
Join acclaimed civil rights activist and academic Dr. Mary Frances Berry, ALA Past-President Barbara K. Stripling, and leaders from across the Association, including 2015-2016 ALA President Sari Feldman and ALA Executive Director Keith Michael Fieis to reflect on the inspiration of Dr. King's legacy for our work as library professionals. The theme of this year's celebration is "Hold Fast to Dreams," in honor of Langston Hughes' iconic poem and its inspiration for Dr. King's "I Have a Dream" speech. Coffee and tea will be served, courtesy of longstanding Celebration sponsor World Book, Inc. The event is co-sponsored by the ALA Social Responsibilities Round Table (SRRT) and the Black Caucus of ALA, Inc. (BCALA).

Information Policy and Advocacy

- How you can use WIOA (Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act) to enhance your job preparedness services, Saturday, January 9, 8:30-10:00am, BCEC 253C.

Libraries have the opportunity to partner with adult education and local Workforce Investment Boards (WIBs) to enhance services to community members in need of job readiness and career pathway opportunities.

- Washington Office Update Session: Libraries and Policy Issues on the Forefront, Saturday, January 9, 8:30-10:00am, BCEC 253A.

IMLS Director Dr. Kit Matthew teams up with ALA Washington Office Director Emily Sheketoff to announce the launch of Open E-Books; ALA's Washington leadership team discusses the new education bill and next step for libraries to leverage new funding opportunities; a WiFi policy forecast highlighting opportunities and threats to expand and improve WiFi for librarians and their patrons; and, updates on copyright, privacy and Workforce Innovation and Opportunity (WIOA) issues.

- Washington Office – Breakout Session III: Should There Be a Right to Be Forgotten? Saturday, January 9, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253C, OITP

In the European Union, a user has the right to have links to certain personal information removed from the results of web searches involving his or her name. This “right to be forgotten” in Europe has stimulated robust debates about the appropriateness of such a regime in other countries. Hear the pros and cons and ask questions about possible adoption in the U.S.

- Lessons in Censorship: How Schools and Courts Subvert Students’ First Amendment Rights, Saturday, January 9, 3:00-4:00pm, BCEC 253B.

George Washington University law professor and author Catherine J. Ross will outline the court rulings that define the speech rights of young people in school settings and discuss how schools fail to respect students’ civil liberties and how we can protect free expression without disrupting education. The session is sponsored by the ALA Office for Intellectual Freedom and the Freedom to Read Foundation.

....You may also want to catch the 2015 Robert B. Downs Intellectual Freedom Award presentation to HP Kids Read, Saturday, January 9, 5:30pm, Seaport Hotel, Flagship A Room. HP Kids Read was formed in 2014 by parents at Highland Park (TX) High School in response to challenges by other parents to several books in the school’s curriculum. The group successfully advocated for policies that prevented a small group of parents from altering the curriculum for all students.

Innovating the Future

- WO Breakout Session II – How do you do YouTube? Saturday, January 9, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253B.

The Internet’s favorite repository for cat videos has undergone an unexpected transformation in the last 10 years. Okay, it’s still a repository for cat videos, but more than that, it’s a place of curiosity and community. With this introductory session, ALA’s Washington Office will be hosting a series of panels and workshops to explore how libraries can get started on YouTube. Learn about Curiosity Correspondents, gaining internal support for a YouTube project, and how to make the most of your channel (including community outreach, education and federal advocacy).

- Aspen Dialogue Report: Learn about the Action Guide for Use in Your Community, Saturday January 9, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 253A.

- Amy Garmer, Project Director at the Aspen Institute; John Palfrey, Head of School, Phillips Academy, and author of BiblioTech: Why Libraries Matter More Than Ever in the Age of Google; and, 2012-2013 ALA President Maureen Sullivan will provide an update on the project work and introduce the Action Guide, along with guidance and tips for the effective use of the Dialogue Report and Action Guide.
- The “New” Youth Librarianship: Y(outh) eX(perience), Saturday, January 9, 4:30-5:30pm, BCEC Room 253A, sponsored by the Young Adult Library Services Association (YALSA).
Both the “Re-envisioning the MLS” and the “IMLS Focus Learning in Libraries” reports indicated the need for libraries to consider the learning sciences when developing youth services. This session will demonstrate how design thinking and participatory design are the “new” competencies in youth librarianship. There will also be discussion of the Y(outh) eX(perience) specialization at the University of Maryland’s College of Information Studies to prepare librarians who deeply understand the dynamic contexts of youth and youth services to meet the needs of 21st century teens.
 - LITA Top Technology Trends, Sunday, January 10, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253A
Join a panel of LITA’s technology experts for a don’t-miss discussion of trends and advances in library technology that they believe will have an impact on the library world. Panelists include Jason Griffey (Berkman Center for Internet & Society at Harvard), Jim Hahn (University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign), Jamie Hollier (Anneal, Inc. & Commerce Kitchen), Alex Lent (Mills Public Library), Thomas Padilla (Michigan State University), Rong Tang (Simmons College), and Ken Varnum (University of Michigan). Panelists will also suggest ways that you can take advantage of these trends. For more information about this session, see the Top Tech Trends site: <http://www.ala.org/lita/ttt>
 - New Developments at the Digital Public Library of America, Sunday, January 10, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 253A. As DPLA approaches its 3rd anniversary, important new developments are expanding its mission, its network of libraries, and its partnerships. Hear from DPLA Executive Director Dan Cohen and DPLA staff on these new developments, including work on international rights statements for cultural heritage items, new digital infrastructure for libraries, broader access to ebooks, and additional DPLA hubs across the U.S.
 - Project Outcome: News You Can Use, Sunday, January 10, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 253B.
Learn the latest about Project Outcome, the Public Library Association’s (PLA’s) field-driven outcome measurement initiative, designed to help public libraries understand and share the true impact of essential library services and programs with simple-survey instruments and an easy-to-use process for measuring and analyzing outcomes. Project Outcome Task Force members will also share early results and best practices from survey implementation tests. Find out next steps and how your library can get involved. For more information, see: <http://www.eventscribe.com/2016/ALA-Midwinter/fsPopup.asp?Mode=presinfo&PresentationID=127766>
 - Knight News Challenge on Libraries, Sunday, January 10, 3:00-4:00pm, BCEC 206AB
In March, the Knight Foundation will launch its second Knight News Challenge on Libraries, offering innovative projects a share of $3 million. Learn more about the Challenge’s 2016 focus, get tips on applying, and hear from past winners about how they’re working to advance the future of libraries.
 - Update on DigitalLearn.org: New Features and Modules, Sunday, January 10, 3:00-4:00pm, BCEC 253C, sponsored by the Public Library Association.
Learn the latest on this important resource for libraries and others to provide patrons with access to training modules on basic computer skills. It is also an online hub for digital literacy trainers to share and learn from each other. In 2016, DigitalLearn.org will add modules, translate content to Spanish, improve opportunities for trainers to share and roll out customized registration and learning plan options. Hear how your library can use DigitalLearn.org. For more information, see:

- Math + Literature + Tots + Teens = Mathical Books! Monday, January 11, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253A. The Mathematical Sciences Research Institute (MSRI) of Berkeley teamed up with the Children's Book Council (CBC) to create a prize aimed at inspiring a love of math – pattern, sequence, creative order – in everyday life. Winners in the inaugural year (2015) ranged from a steamy mystery novel whose heroine uses logic to solve puzzles, to a keenly illustrated book interpreting really big numbers, to picture books on counting and sharing. Learn about using these resources to introduce kids to the joy of math.
- New Visions for Academic Library Spaces, Monday, January 10, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253B. Explore new visions for academic library spaces, using Perry Dean Rogers/Partners Architects' work with the UMass Lowell Libraries as a starting point for thinking about the connection between faculty, users, and collections.
- The State of Academic Librarian Spaces, Monday, January 11, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 253A. When an academic library is built or renovated, focus is placed on how to make patron-serving spaces more flexible and adaptable. Work spaces that serve the library's staff often do not receive the same level of design focus. In the face of changing and expanding roles for librarians, the design demands on those spaces is also greater.

...In early? Start with a tour

- Join LITA colleagues for "Makerspaces: Inspiration and Action, Friday, January 8, 8:30am-4:30pm, Pick-Up and Drop-Off Location –For tickets go to:
<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/makerspaces-inspiration-and-action-registration-19968887480>
The tour will include Artisan's Asylum, one of the country's premier makerspaces, with a broad array of tools, workspaces for rent by artists and an extensive array of public classes; and, Parts and Crafts, a makerspace for kids that runs camp, afterschool, weekend and homeschooling programs, all with a philosophy of supporting self-directed creativity and learning. Parts and Crafts is also home to the Somerville Tool Library.

...and Talk with Library Innovators at the Masters Series

- Jason Griffey, "Measuring the Future: How Understanding Your Spaces Can Make Your Library Better for Everyone," Saturday, January 9, 12:30-1:30pm, BCEC 206AB
One of the most valuable assets a library has is the physical building itself – yet aside from gate count, we often have remarkably little information about how it's used. What if you could have a Google Analytics-style dashboard and understanding of what happened in your library yesterday. Come have a discussion about these issues and what you'd like to see from the Measure the Future project (<http://measurethefuture.net>).
- Rebekkah Smith Aldrich, "Sustainable Thinking," Sunday, January 10, 12:30-1:30pm, BCEC 206AB
Libraries must take an active, visible role in building sustainable, resilient and regenerative communities. Our future depends on it. Explore how to infuse the core value of sustainability into everything we do, taking a "whole systems approach" to leading our libraries into the future and building our base of support among those we serve along the way .

- Re-envisioning “Technical Services” to Transform Libraries: Identifying Leadership and Talent Management Practices, Friday, January 8, 8:30am-4:00pm, BCEC 104BC, sponsored by the Association for Library Collections and Technical Services (ALCTS) and OCLC.
How can libraries enhance and reposition their “technical services” operations to drive ongoing library transformation? Scholarly communications, data curation, digital humanities, cooperative preservation, library publishing, collaborative collection management are all new functions that require a talented staff with significant technical expertise, regardless of their titles or reporting structure. Join colleagues to explore how libraries can recruit and cultivate staff who can serve as both leaders and contributors and provide insight into talent management, including identifying and nurturing leaders; succession planning; promoting diversity; and, connecting staff with the best training options throughout their careers. Find more information, speakers and a full agenda at: <http://www.ala.org/alcts/events/mw/2016/vc2> On-site registration is available.
- The Future of Teen Services in LIS Education, Friday, 1:00-4:00pm, BCEC 107AB. (YALSA)
Anyone interested in exploring this vital topic is invited to join YALSA’s Research Committee and The Journal of Research on Libraries and Young Adults (JRLYA) Advisory Board to discuss the recommendations of YALSA’s “The Future of Library Services for and with Teens: a Call to Action” (2014). The session will include a moderated panel, facilitated small group discussions and a forum to explore recommendations of the report, the implications of this new vision for LIS education, and potential solutions.
- Summer Reading Workshop, Friday, 1:00-4:00pm, BCEC 109A. (YALSA)
To stay relevant, libraries need to rethink the traditional summer reading program. This session will provide practical tips and strategies for refocusing towards a broader focus on learning, including digital literacy, STEM, and more. It will also focus on getting out into the community and finding those teens who need libraries the most and explore ways for connecting with other organizations. This event is funded through a grant from the Dollar General Literacy Foundation.
- Leadership & ALSC, Saturday, January 9, 8:30-11:30am, BCEC 153AB
The Leadership & ALSC program will tackle the newly-revised Competencies for Librarians Serving Children in Public Libraries. Attendees will discuss the impact of these new competencies and how to implement these recommended professional standards in their libraries. This event is open to all attendees. Printed copies of the revised competencies will be available at the event.
- Trends Impacting YA Services: Competencies Needed to Provide Teen Library Services of the Future: Survey of Professionals in Learning Labs and Makerspaces, Saturday, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 106 (YALSA)
The presenters investigated the competencies required for professionals to provide teens with resources and services in informal learning spaces, such as Learning Labs and Makerspaces. The study addresses challenges, benefits and goals. This interactive session is hosted by YALSA Past Presidents.
- LLAMA Leadership Development Seminar: The Human Side of Facilitating Organizational Change, Saturday, January 9, 1:00-2:30pm, BCEC 156C
Are you a leader facing large or small changes at your library? Experienced leaders from academic and public libraries will discuss strategies for considering the human factors of initiating and managing change. This interactive program will provide resources to navigate and understand the emotional dynamics of change, methods for communicating your change vision effectively, and assessment tools for measuring outcomes, as well as examples of successes and challenges from actual organizational changes.

- Ask the Preservation Experts at ALA Midwinter, Preservation and Reformatting Section (PARS), ALCTS – Saturday, January 9, 4:30-5:30pm, BCEC 102B

A panel of preservation experts will welcome your questions related to your institution's collection or your own personal collection. Experts are available to advise on a wide range of formats, from books to digital materials. You will also learn from answers to other peoples' questions.

- From Glass Half Empty to Glass Half Full: Evaluating the Current EBook Environment, Sunday, January 10, 8:30-10:00am, BCEC 106 (ALA Office for Information Technology Policy)

Three years ago, major publishers refused to sell ebooks to libraries, few knew how to download an ebook file, and staffs of public libraries were hit with an unforeseen surge of patron interest in ebooks. This session will focus on how things have changed and what libraries can expect in the not-too-distant future. Speakers include: Mark Kuyper (Book Industry Study Group), Andrew Richard Albanese (Publishers Weekly), Kelvin Watson (Queens Public Library), Erika Linke (Carnegie Mellon University) and Carolyn Anthony (Skokie Public Library). Linke and Anthony are co-chairs of the ALA Digital Content Working Group. For more information, see: <http://www.ala.org/news/press-releases/2015/12/glass-half-empty-glass-half-full-evaluating-current-ebook-environment-0>

Join Kathy Rosa, Director, ALA Office for Research; Thomas Padilla, Digital Scholarship Librarian, Michigan State University Libraries; and, Jon Cawthorne, Dean of Libraries, West Virginia University Libraries for a discussion on the changing roles and structures of libraries as they relate to digital humanities research and projects.

- Mashcat panel, Midwinter Forum of the Association for Library Collections and Technical Services (ALCTS), Monday, January 11, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 204AB

While library cataloging and metadata people, software and systems may have a lot in common, there are sometimes barriers to collaboration. Mashcat is a banner under which librarians can gether together to work past those barriers. Mashcat began as a conference in the U.K. focused on building the best possible tools to manage library data. Mashcat activities include a monthly Twitter chat, a Slack channel, a post-Midwinter meeting and forthcoming webinars. At this session, Mashcat regulars Erin Leach, Galen Charlton, Shana McDanold and others will join ALCTS president Norm Medeiros for a moderated panel discussion on fostering collaboration and communication between the data and systems sides of the house.

ADD YOUR VOICE TO THE ALA CONVERSATION

- Office for Diversity, Literacy and Outreach Services Merger Discussion
All interested parties are invited to attend the Diversity, Literacy and Outreach Services All-Committee Meeting on Friday, January 8, 10:00am-noon, Westin Waterfront, Galleria Room. The Office for Diversity and the Office for Literacy and Outreach Services were recently merged into one office. With this merger, it became clear that we would need to reflect on our name and our mission in order to develop a unified purpose. As an office that supports our members and their work, we are looking for broad feedback from all of our stakeholders to join us in shaping the newly merged office. Comments, questions, suggestions and concerns can also be emailed to diversity@ala.org
- Kitchen Table Conversations
We asked for your feedback, and we got it! ALA is influential and great for networking – but we can also be too complex, sometimes bureaucratic, and we send a lot of email. Well, we heard you loud and clear, and we are working on it. Help us stay on track. Through a series of "kitchen table conversations" at the 2016 Midwinter Meeting, attendees will gather to dig deeper into the ALA member experience. Topics may include joining and renewing, reducing email "chatter," and making sure you get the information that matters most to you. You do the talking; we'll be there to listen, learn, and then act. Please participate in the conversation and help us shape a new ALA together. To ensure your seat, please register in advance by visiting <http://vols.pt/Mp9mEN>. All sessions are in Westin, Adams Room. Sessions are currently scheduled 10:30am-noon, 1:00-2:30pm and 3:00-4:30pm on Saturday and Sunday, and 8:30-10:00am, 10:30am-noon, 1:00-2:30pm and 3:00-4:30pm on Monday.

- Public Hearing: Competencies for Special Collections Professionals, Saturday, January 9, 6:00-7:30pm, Westin Copley Plaza, Essex South
Join the ACRL RBMS Task Force to Review Competencies for Special Collections Professionals for an opportunity to share your ideas about this important standard. A final draft can be found at <http://connect.ala.org/node/248263>
- LLAMA Kitchen Table Conversation
Join LLAMA President Jeff Steely and other division leaders for an informal conversation about LLAMA's present and future. Members and nonmembers alike are invited to share ideas and perspectives. Monday, January 11, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 205A

BE INFORMED: HOT TOPICS

Framework for Information Literacy for Higher Education

How has the ACRL Framework for Information Literacy for Higher Education grown and developed over the last year? Join ACRL for the update session Using the ACRL Framework for Information Literacy: Examples and Ideas to learn more about the Framework. The session will explore examples and themes in Framework dialogue and practice. Attendees will also learn about the Framework Advisory Board Action Plan for providing resources to support and encourage librarians in their use and understanding of the Framework. Copies of the new print Framework booklet will be available for attendees. Sunday, January 10, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 153AB.

Public Access to Funded Research

Over the past few years, there has been a proliferation of high-profile funders announcing policies requiring greater access to research articles and data. From the White House, to the Canadian Tri-Agency, to the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, these policies are now moving into the implementation stage. This challenge is compounded by differences in the requirements across policies, and the ability of individual researchers and institutions to make sense of these differences and comply effectively. The SPARC-ACRL Forum, Complying with “Emerging Funder Public Access Policies: How Libraries Can Make It All Work,” will explore ways in which the library community can be instrumental in supporting the compliance efforts. Along with identifying some issues and possible strategies, the panelists will discuss services that are being, or have been created or expanded to help address some of the issues that have been raised. Saturday, January 9, 3:00pm, BCEC 253C.

Right to Be Forgotten

Personal blogs, arrest records, explicit photos and business critiques are now typically published forever. Should individuals have the right to have links to certain personal information removed from web search results? The European Union has decided the answer is yes – but should the United States adopt a comparable policy? ALA’s Office for Information Technology Policy (OITP) will examine this important topic on Saturday, January 9, 10:30-11:30am, BCEC 253C. Laying out the conflict at the heart of this issue, Dan Lee, Chair, OITP Advisory Committee (University of Arizona) noted: “Libraries and librarians preserve and provide access to information. Since RTBF obscures information or essentially hides it from those searching on the Internet, it effectively removes access to information. This poses a challenge to a librarian’s social responsibility to help users find the information they need, and is especially harmful when there is a clear public interest in having access to it. On the other hand, people should have control over the visibility of their own information. Sometimes, there are compelling reasons why access to certain information should be eliminated or minimized. Thus, there is a fundamental tension between the rights of individuals and society.”

USA Patriot Act & USA Freedom Act

The Hill, an inside-the-Beltway news outlet that covers Capitol Hill and lobbying, named the American Library Association – along with Edward Snowden, many in the tech industry (including Google, Apple, AOL, Facebook and Microsoft, among others), and the American Civil Liberties Union as one of the public policy “winners” for passage of the USA Freedom Act, which alters several provisions of the USA Patriot Act, passed in the wake of the September 11, 2001 attacks. There was opposition from both sides of the aisle, with some Republicans pushing to extend the Patriot Act provisions, unchanged, for another five years, and some liberal and libertarian groups seeking to go further in curtailing mass surveillance. The USA Freedom Act imposes new limits on the National Security Agency’s (NSA) collection of domestic phone records and requires new transparency measures, among other changes.

JOB-HUNTING? CAREER PLANNING?

Take advantage of the services of the ALA JobLIST Placement & Career Development Center (no registration required). See pages 40-41 in the Meeting Guide. Check out the new ALA JobLIST at <http://joblist.ala.org>

Placement Center Orientation:	Saturday, January 9, 8:30am
Both employers and job seekers are welcome to attend.
Placement Center Hours:	Saturday, January 9, 9:00am-5:00pm
	Sunday, January 10, 9:00am-5:00pm

Career Counseling: Saturday-Sunday, January 9-10, 9:00am-5:00pm, in the ALA/JobLIST Placement & Career Development Center.

Recharge your career by meeting with a professional career coach. She can guide you in strategizing for the next phase of your career, solving a problem in your current job situation, defining goals, and/or rejuvenating your career. Each one-on-one session is 20 minutes and is completely confidential.

Special Placement Services: (no registration required)

- Check Out a Librarian. Saturday, January 9, 2:00-3:00pm
Are you a job seeker? Looking to find your librarian niche? Want to move up the librarianship ladder – but not sure how? Talk with working librarians who are doing great and interesting things in their careers. All types of libraries will be represented.
- On-The-Fly Mentor, Saturday, January 9, 9:00am-noon; Sunday, January 10, 1:00-4:00pm
Looking for professional guidance and advice. Stop by the Placement Center for the ACRL-University Libraries Section's "On-the-Fly" Mentoring to talk with an experienced librarian about any and all aspects of your career. Mentoring sessions are on a first-come, first-served, drop-in basis.
- Open House/Job Fair, Sunday, January 10, 10:30am-noon
Employers will be available to talk to conference attendees about their institutions. You do not have to be an active job seeker to attend. No appointment is necessary.
- Photography Service, Saturday and Sunday, January 9-10, 9:00am-5:00pm
Need a professional "headshot" photo package? Sign up for an appointment with ALA's conference photography team to have a professional photo taken and a set of digital images created for your use in job applications, social media and other networking opportunities.
- Resume Review Service, Saturday and Sunday, January 9-10, 9:00am-5:00pm
If you need help getting your resume polished, stop by the Placement Center. Discover the best way to show your most recent accomplishments with an updated resume.

Career Development Workshops (CDW): (no registration required)

- "Family Care and Workplace Culture Issues Facing 21st Century Working Women," Saturday, January 9, 9:00-10:30am

Jacqueline Cooke, Regional Administrator, Women's Bureau, U.S. Department of Labor, will focus on women working to support themselves and their families while also caring for themselves, their children, and often their aging parents. While hourly and low-wage employees may experience more challenges with their dual roles, higher wage and salaried individuals also experience situational, economic and cultural challenges. Possible solutions – including flexible hours, telework, advance scheduling, parental leave, sick days, and equal pay will be discussed.

- “Preparing for Today’s Job Market: the Search, the Application, and the Interview,” Saturday, January 9, 11:00am-noon

The number one goal for many of us, whether fresh out of library school or not, is finding a job – not just any job, but a job we like, a job we can grow in, learn from and feel proud of, a job that will propel our careers. But, the process of finding a job can be a difficult one – and, at times, a long and treacherous journey. This hands-on workshop, led by Susanne Markgren, will help you feel more confident in your job search by giving you the tools to organize a search, analyze job listings, write effective, compelling cover letters and resumes, and professionalize your interview game.

- How to Get Your Bounce Back!, Saturday, January 9, 1:30-2:30pm

The quality of your work life and your health are more important than ever – especially if you’re at midcareer where your expertise may be higher but your energy may have taken a dip. Workloads can seem overwhelming – with fewer resources and high expectations. But, you CAN take actions that will make a positive difference. Career coach Caitlin Williams will share easy-to-learn tools and techniques to take care of yourself and revitalize your career at the same time.

- HR Confidential: Insider Tips from Library HR Directors, Sunday, January 10, 9:00-10:30am

Join an informal discussion/Q&A session to gain an insider’s perspective on the recruitment process from experienced HR Directors. Get tips on how to make your application stand out. Find out how to be your own best advocate for professional development and career advancement. Explore negotiation strategies to ensure you get the most out of your offer package. Discussion leaders include Kathryn Kjaer, Head, Library Human Resources, University of California, Irvine, and Dan Hoppe, Director of Human Resources, ALA.

- Professional Etiquette 101, Sunday, January 10, 1:00-2:30pm. This session is full at this point; check on site for possible openings.

Good manners can mean the difference between success and failure in many aspects of life. This interactive presentation will equip you with essential skills to put your best foot forward and avoid making a faux pas. Trainers Beatrice Calvin and Kimberly Redd will provide an extensive tutorial on etiquette skills needed when meeting potential employers, colleagues, or others in professional and social networking settings.

Related Career Development sessions (MW or preconference registration required):

- Assembling a Consulting Toolkit: What You Need to Know to be a Successful Library Consultant, Friday, January 8, 8:00am-4:00pm, BCEC 155, sponsored by the Association of Specialized and Cooperative Library Agencies (ASCLA), Library Consultants Interest Group. [ticketed event]

This workshop will help current and prospective library consultants create a business that is sustainable and useful to the profession.

- Sustainable Staff Development: 5 Steps to Create a Culture of Learning, Friday, January 8, 9:00am-1:00pm, BCEC 156C, sponsored by the Association of Specialized and Cooperative Library Agencies (ASCLA), State Library Development Interest Group. [ticketed event]
This workshop addresses the ongoing need that all libraries face to encourage professional development and growth amongst staff.
- Strategize Me! Personal Career Planning, Friday, January 8, 8:00am-noon, BCEC 104A, sponsored by the Association for Library Collections and Technical Services (ALCTS). [ticketed event]
We participate in strategic planning to chart our organization's future, but how often in our personal careers do we stop and examine where we've been, where we are, and where we're going? This half-day workshop invites participants to explore ways to energize their career paths by giving them tools, ideas, and a renewed sense of focus. On-site registration is available. <http://www.ala.org/alcts/events/mw/2016/vc1>
- Participate in RUSA's Leadership Development and Speed Mentoring Session: Saturday, January 9, 3:30-5:30pm, Hyatt Regency Boston, Adrienne Salon
Join a group of experienced RUSA leaders and engage in a fun, interactive "speed mentoring" session. MLS students, new librarians, and mid-career librarians will have an opportunity to gain leadership advice from a number of senior librarians and RUSA leaders.
