AVOIDING ZOOM BURNOUT

Dani Brecher Cook, NMRT Networking Director

Even in the best of times, running a good meeting and participating fully can be a challenge. And in our current times, with meetings moved online due to a global pandemic (with the additional stress of the current protests against police brutality), it takes an extra layer of care and intentionality to hold an effective meeting. And yet, we are in meetings ALL THE TIME (Zoom fatigue is a real thing).

This week's digest of resources focuses on resources for facilitating productive online meetings and contributing in online spaces.
