MEMBERSHIP SURVEY

A membership survey form has been included with the newsletter of those members for which we have not received a reply. Please complete the survey form attached to this newsletter and return it to Linda Brannian, ADF&G, CF, 333 Raspberry Rd, Anchorage, AK 99518. Our goal is to prepare a membership directory for distribution at the 1992 annual meeting.

REVISED CONSTITUTION

In 1991 the American Statistical Association revised their constitution and recommended that its chapters review theirs and bring them into compliance. A committee was appointed at the 1991 annual meeting of the Alaska Chapter which then met in April 1992 to prepare a draft constitution. Attached is a revised Alaska Chapter Constitution submitted for ratification by the membership. The major changes involve (1) incorporating the new Affiliate membership, (2) including the current terms for officers, and (3) adding more realistic goals for the number of meetings and newsletters scheduled each year. For comparison, the last version of our Constitution was published in the 1985 Membership Survey. A meeting to vote for ratification of the new constitution will be held June 3, 1992 at 8:30 am in Anchorage in the New Conference Room of the Alaska Department of Fish and Game office, 333 Raspberry Rd. If you can not attend and wish to vote please return the attached ballot.

The following is a course description provided by the office of education of ASA:

ANALYSIS OF BINARY DATA

by

Sir David Cox and Joyce Snell (1989)

Binary data (success, failure; defective, non-defective; survived, died; etc.) arise widely in many areas of science and technology and systematic methods for their analysis are thus of considerable importance. The course reviews methods for studying how the probability of "success" depends on explanatory variables and groupings of material. The course will be largely based on a new and substantially revised and extended edition by both speakers of Sir David Cox's 1970 book on such data, Analysis of Binary Data (Chapman and Hall, 2nd Edition 1989). The discussion will be illustrated with examples from a range of fields of study.

While the main focus of the course is on methods of analysis of immediate use by the applied worker, there will be some discussion of open areas of research. Some familiarity will be assumed with basic statistical notions including the use of maximum likelihood fitting.
