Message from Division Chair

Hello All International Management Division Members!

Welcome to the 2024 Academy of Management Annual Meeting! We look forward to reconnecting with old friends and making new ones in Chicago. The conference’s theme is “Innovating for the Future—Policy, Purpose, and Organizations”, which is especially relevant to the International Management Division (IM) domain, which includes the contribution of management to addressing evolving global social and environmental challenges.

We have an exciting program lined up for the 2024 meeting, thanks to the tremendous efforts of PDW Chair Ilya Cuypers and Program Chair Klaus Meyer. In this newsletter, they will share the highlights of the program, which is now available online. But let me give you some appetizers that will be detailed in the next pages of the newsletter.

Ilya has put together an amazing pre-conference program with the Development Workshops scheduled on Friday and Saturday, and the Divisional Consortia on Sunday. Thank you, in particular, to the leaders of the Doctoral Consortium (Jing Li and Charlie Stevens), the Junior Faculty Consortium (Joao Albino-Pimentel and Srividya Jandhyala), the Meet the Editors session (Stephanie Wang) and the Paper Development Workshop (Daphne W. Yiu and Pei Sun) for all their efforts in organizing these important activities that are foundational to the development of our division’s future.

On Friday, do not miss out on the PhD Social at the Hyatt Regency Hotel and the PDW Social, the Chicago Architectural Cruise, which can be booked online through the AOM website! The pre-conference program will close with the Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar Award session on Sunday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:00 pm, following the division consortia, to recognize the recipient of this year’s award recipient, Yadong Luo.
Message from Division Chair (Cont'd)

Klaus did a huge job organizing the division’s conference program, which included symposia and paper sessions covering a wide array of topics in International Management. The scholarly program highlights include sessions featuring nominees for best paper awards and finalists for the D’Amore-McKim Northeastern University Best Dissertation Award. Join us at the Awards Session on Monday from 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm, where the IM Division award will be handed out. An innovation to this year’s program is the IM Plenary on Tuesday from 8:00 am to 9:00 am, which features the recipients of the division’s professional awards: Jackson Lu (IM Division FIU Business Emerging Scholar Award), Nakiye Boyacigiller (IM Division AmorePacific Outstanding Educator Award), Elizabeth Rose (IM Division Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award). We look forward to seeing you at the famous IM Division Scholarship and Engagement Gala Event on Monday from 8:00 pm to 11:00 pm at House of Blues Chicago.

Given the positive feedback we received last year, we’ll have the online IM Division Business meeting on July 25 at UTC 1 PM (EDT 9:00 am/CEST 3:00 pm) in advance of the main AOM conference. The meeting, which will be recorded for those who are not able to attend, is a great occasion to get together and learn about the IM Division activities. The Committee chairs will report on their activities and are eager to have your feedback to better serve you in the future. The IM Division runs through the efforts of a remarkably large number of volunteers. Treasurer Malika Richards does an amazing job of watching over our division’s finances and serving as a key interface with AOM Headquarters. Antonina Bauman, our communications officer, does a lot of work behind the scenes to keep us informed about the division’s activities. The IM Division owes huge debts of gratitude to all members of our various committees, which are chaired by Bill Newburry (Professional Awards Committee), Randi Lunnan (Research Award), Joao Albino-Pimentel (Dissertation), Carl Fey (Teaching), Alex Settles (Membership Drive), Noman Shaheer (Research Method), Afshin Hamrabadi (Doctoral Student) and Denise Dunlap (Scholarship and Engagement), who will pass the leadership of the Committee to Sorin Krammer after her long-term amazing service to the division. Thanks, Denise!

If you are interested in joining this group of wonderful IM Division volunteers, please let EC members know or contact committee chairs. Meanwhile, attend the Business Meeting and learn what is in the cooking!

We could not accomplish this much without our generous sponsors. We are deeply grateful to AmorePacific, CEIBS, Florida International University, George Washington University CIBER, Georgetown University McDonough School of Business, Hong Kong University of Science and Technology, Hyundai Motor, Northeastern University D’Amore-McKim School of Business, and the University of South Carolina for their support of various awards. Thank you so much to all of our sponsors!

On a personal note, I would like to thank the members of the Executive Committee, Bill Newburry, Nandini Lahiri, Klaus Meyer and Ilya Cuypers, with whom I have had the pleasure of working over the last year. We have accomplished a lot together, not least the revision and approval of the IM Division Domain, Constitution and Bylaw amendments (see next page) with nearly 100% majority of the IM members participating in the voting. It has been a truly dream team! After the conference, Bill will rotate off the EC – but it is good to know that he will not go far, as he will still be involved as a member of the Professional Awards committee. I really appreciate Bill for his professionalism and commitment to the IM Division as a member of the EC for the past five years! At the same time, the EC will gain a new member – please join me in welcoming Srividya Jandhyala, who will be the PDW Chair for the 2025 AOM conference in Copenhagen.

Last but certainly not least, I want to acknowledge the IM Division members from around the world, who contribute to the division's success in a myriad of ways, from submitting and presenting their ideas to serving as reviewers to helping create the community that characterizes our division. Thank you!

I look forward to seeing many of you at the AOM Meeting in Chicago!

Grazia Santangelo
Chair, International Management Division
2024 AOM International Management Division Domain Statement

The general objective of the International Management Division of the Academy of Management is to promote scholarship and advances in the field of international business, including management in a broad range of both profit and nonprofit organizations. The Division brings together a global community of scholars researching and teaching management themes with a cross-border or cross-cultural dimension, including not only traditional management topics, but also the contribution of management to addressing evolving global social and environmental challenges.

Scholarship that focuses on a single country and has no international issues or implications is not within the purview of the IM division. Members of the IM community conduct research on themes such as:

- the cross-border management of operations, including multi-country, multi-unit, strategy formulation and implementation;
- the cross-border differential impact of cultural, social, economic, technological, political, and other institutional forces on strategies, organizational forms, and management practices;
- evolving forms and management practices in cross-border business using physical and virtual channels supporting international business activities;
- the international competitiveness of entrepreneurs, firms, industries, and nations;
- comparative management studies involving two or more countries;
- the impact of multinational enterprises on the societies in which they operate, and their contribution to global challenges such as social inequalities and climate change.
Meet Srividya Jandhyala

Please congratulate Srividya Jandhyala on being elected to the Academy of Management (AOM) International Management (IM) Division Executive Committee.

Srividya will begin a five-year term on the IM Division Executive Committee in August which starts with the role of Division PDW Chair (2024-2025), Division Program Chair (2025-2026), Division Chair Elect (2026-2027), Division Chair (2027-2028) and Immediate-past Division Chair (2028-2029).

Thank you to our current Past Division Chair William Newburry for coordinating this year’s election, and to everyone who supported the election process.

Srividya Jandhyala is an Associate Professor of Management at ESSEC Business School. Prior to joining ESSEC in Singapore, she served on the faculty of the George Washington University in Washington, DC. She was previously a Fung Global Fellow at Princeton University and received her PhD in Management from The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. Her research focuses on global strategy, geopolitics, and non-market strategy in the international context. Her work has been published in journals such as Journal of International Business, Strategic Management Journal, and Administrative Science Quarterly, Journal of World Business, Journal of Conflict Resolution, World Development, and Strategy Science. She currently is an Associate Editor at Global Strategy Journal and serves on the editorial review boards of Strategic Management Journal, Academy of Management Journal, and Strategic Organization.

Srividya has been an active member of the IM division for more than 15 years. Over this time, she has been the winner of the IM Division best paper award as well as 3-time finalist of IM Division best paper awards in international corporate governance and international business and policy. Srividya serves on the IM Division Research Committee and has (twice) organized the IM Division sponsored Paper Development Workshops. She is the co-chair of the IM Division Junior Faculty Consortium for AOM 2024.
2024 IM Division Professional Achievement Awards

The IM Division recognizes lifetime achievement in international management scholarship with the Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar Award.

The Division Amore Pacific Award recognizes continuous excellence and innovation in teaching international management, at all levels and in a global context.

The Division Outstanding Service to Global Community Award recognizes continuous excellence in serving the international community.

The Division FIU Business Emerging Scholar Award recognizes the contribution to international management scholarship by a junior scholar, defined by having completed their Ph.D. (or equivalent) within the previous eight years, at the time of nomination.

The awards are selected by the division’s Professional Awards Committee, chaired by the Past Division Chair and consisting of the three past chairs and two recent winners of the IM Division Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar Award. This year the committee was comprised of William Newburry (Chair, 2023 IM Division Chair), Tatiana Kostova (2023 Eminent Scholar), Don Lessard (2022 Eminent Scholar), Katherine Xin (2022 IM Division Chair) and Jaeyong Song (2021 IM Division Chair). The IM Division thanks them for their fantastic efforts overseeing our division’s professional awards selection process.

The division is very grateful to the following organizations for the sponsorship of awards: Hyundai Motor, Amore Pacific, FIU Business.

Please see our Professional Achievement Award Winners honored in the following sessions:

Sunday, August 11 - 16:30 to 18:00 - IM Division Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar Session Honoring Yadong Luo along with commentaries by Sam Park, Ari Van Assche and Stephanie Wang - Hyatt Michigan 3

Monday, August 12 - 18:00 to 19:30 - IM Division Awards & Recognition Session - Hyatt Michigan 1B

Tuesday, August 13 - 9:00 to 9:00 - The Future of International Management: Conversations with Professional Award Winners Honoring Jackson Lu (IM Division FIU Business Emerging Scholar Award), Nakiye Boyacigil (IM Division AmorePacific Outstanding Educator Award), and Elizabeth Rose (IM Division Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award) – Hyatt Roosevelt 3A
We are pleased to announce that Dr. Yadong Luo of University of Miami has been selected as the 2024 IM Division Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar! Join us during the AOM Meeting for a special session where Dr. Luo’s work will be recognized, scheduled for Sunday, August 11.

Dr. Yadong Luo holds the Emery Findley Distinguished Chair and is Professor of Management at the University of Miami Herbert Business School. He is a fellow of the Academy of Management (AOM) and the Academy of International Business (AIB).

With a prolific output, Dr. Luo has authored over 20 books and more than 200 research articles, including over 60 in UT-Dallas Journals-listed publications. His work spans a broad range of subjects, from global strategy and cooperative alliances to cross-cultural management and emerging market businesses. Dr. Luo’s outstanding contributions to international management have garnered widespread recognition, establishing him as one of the leading scholars in international management, according to various rankings. His numerous honors include the JIBS 50th Anniversary Gold Medal, the AOM Educator Award, the University of Miami’s Lifetime Achievement Award, and the Axiom Gold Medal for his recent book “The Digital Multinationals” (MIT, 2022). His work has significantly enhanced the understanding of various cutting-edge topics in international business, such as the internationalization of emerging market firms, global co-opetition, geopolitical risks, and digital globalization. This is further evidenced by his impressive H Index of 112 and over 55,800 citations on Google Scholar.

Please join us in congratulating Yadong Luo as the 2024 recipient of the IM Division Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar Award!
We are pleased to announce that Dr. Nakiye Boyacigiller of Sabanci University has been selected as the 2024 IM Division AmorePacific Outstanding Educator! Please meet Dr. Boyacigiller and other Professional Award winners on Tuesday morning at the AOM Plenary session.

In 2018, Boyacigiller was appointed as an Emeritus professor by Sabanci University and retired later that year. Boyacigiller was a Professor of International Management and a former Dean of the Sabanci School of Business at Sabanci University. She was elected a Fellow of the Academy of International Business (AIB) in 2007. Prior to joining Sabanci as dean, she was on the faculty of San Jose State University for 17 years.

Dr. Boyacigiller has held leadership positions in several professional and academic organizations including most importantly her roles as President of the AIB (2015-16) and Chair of the International Management Division of the Academy of Management in (1996-97). She has served the AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business) as a member of its Board of Directors and European Advisory Council (2012-2014). In addition, Prof. Boyacigiller has served on the advisory boards of WU (Vienna University of Economics and Management), CIIM, the Cyprus International Institute of Management and GIBS of the University of Pretoria in South Africa. She served two terms on the board of Turkish Philanthropy Funds and continues to support their work.

She is the proud mother of two daughters and is blessed with two granddaughters.

Please join us in congratulating Nakiye Boyacigiller as the 2024 recipient of the IM Division AmorePacific Outstanding Educator Award!
We are pleased to announce that Elizabeth L. Rose of Indian Institute of Management Udaipur has been selected as the recipient of the 2024 IM Division Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award!

Elizabeth L. Rose is Research Chair Professor of Business Policy and Strategy at the Indian Institute of Management Udaipur, having previously worked in New Zealand, the US, the UK, and Finland. Beth's research – at the intersection of international business, international entrepreneurship, and strategy – addresses various aspects of how firms internationalize and compete across borders. She is especially interested in the internationalization activities of firms from emerging markets.

Beth is a Fellow of the Academy of International Business (AIB) and the Australia and New Zealand International Business Academy (ANZIBA). She was named the 2019 Woman of the Year by the Women of the AIB (WAIB).

Beth has held leadership roles in several academic professional organizations, including the AIB, the Strategic Management Society, and the Academy of Management. These roles have given her the opportunity to work with academic associations, especially in Africa and South Asia, where she has enjoyed engaging with junior scholars to develop and extend their research capabilities.

Currently, Beth is Co-Editor-in-Chief of Academy of Management Collections, a member of the senior editorial team of Journal of International Business Studies, and the Associate Editor of AIB Insights. She serves as Vice President of the Board of the European Institute for Advanced Studies in Management (EIASM).

Please join us in congratulating Elizabeth L. Rose as the 2024 recipient of the IM Division Outstanding Service to the Global Community Award!
We are pleased to announce that Dr. Jackson G. Lu of Massachusetts University of Technology (MIT) has been selected as the 2024 IM Division FIU Business Emerging Scholar!

Jackson G. Lu is the Sloan School Career Development Associate Professor at the MIT Sloan School of Management. He received his PhD from Columbia Business School in 2018. He currently serves as a Senior Editor for Organization Science, a Senior Editor for Management and Organization Review, and an Associate Editor for Journal of Personality and Social Psychology.

Jackson studies culture and globalization through two distinctive research streams. His first research stream examines the “Bamboo Ceiling” experienced by Asians despite their educational and economic achievements in the United States. His second research stream elucidates how multicultural experiences (e.g., working abroad, intercultural relationships) shape key organizational outcomes, including leadership, creativity, and ethics.

Please join us in congratulating Jackson G. Lu as the 2024 recipient of the IM Division FIU Business Emerging Scholar Award!
With great pleasure, we are announcing the shortlisted candidates for the IM Division paper awards at the AOM 2024 conference. All shortlisted papers will be featured in dedicated award sessions during the conference; the winners will be announced at the awards ceremony on Monday at 6 pm.

The IM Division Best Dissertation Award Committee had a very eventful year! We held a webinar where the 2023 finalists discussed their dissertations, shared their experiences, and offered advice on applying for the award. They also highlighted the importance of this accolade to their careers. More importantly, we successfully completed the process of selecting the best dissertation in international management for 2024! We received a large number of high-quality applications from newly minted doctors from around the world and from various areas of international management. The selection process was challenging due to the number and quality of applications, but we are very excited about the future of international management research.

Congratulations to the finalists of the 2024 dissertation award!

Soni Jha (Ph.D., Temple University) “Essays on Productivity Consequences of Foreign Direct Investment Connectivity,” Purdue University Fort Wayne.

Please attend the IM Division Best Dissertation Award Session, scheduled on Monday, August 12, from 4:15 pm to 5:45 pm, in the Michigan 1B room of the Hyatt hotel, to learn more about these four fascinating dissertations!

Many thanks to the committee members, Anne Jacqueminet, Catie Magelssen, Stewart Miller, Shameen Prashantham, and Sebastian Reiche, for their hard work in evaluating all the applications.

João Albino-Pimentel, Chair, IM Division Best Dissertation Award Committee
We have an exciting lineup for our PDW program with a set of sessions that speak to the diverse interests of the IM Division’s membership. The PDWs are scheduled on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

On Friday, we start with a session on \textit{Geopolitics in International Management Research} at 9.30 am, followed by a session on \textit{De-Coupling, Divesting, De-Internationalization} at noon. In the afternoon, we have the first of two PDWs organized by the Teaching committee. This session on \textit{Teaching about Globalization and International Business: A Global Value Chain Perspective} starts at 2 pm. Concurrently, we will have another interesting session that looks at \textit{Theories of State Capitalism}.

To end Friday on a lighter note, we have two social events. You can mingle with other IM division members while experiencing a great overview of Chicago’s iconic architecture from the river on a 90-minute boat tour departing at 6 pm. Please register via the AOM website ahead of time because seats are limited (details and how to register and the boarding time will be communicated by e-mail and other AOM IM Division’s communication channels). For PhD students there is an additional social event that starts at 7 pm at the Hyatt Regency (registration required).

On Saturday, we have a packed day with six PDWs: At 9 am we start with a PDW on \textit{Reviewing Papers in IM: The Power of Constructive Reviews} followed by a PDW on \textit{Environmental Sustainability and International Business Research} and one on \textit{Platform and Ecosystem Strategy in a Global Context} (both starting at 11.30 am). At 2 pm, we have a PDW on \textit{Environmental Sustainability: Hot Topic or Hot Air?} and the second PDW organized by the Teaching committee: \textit{Teaching International Business (IB) in an AI World}. Last, we will have the \textit{IM Division Paper Development Workshop} starting at 2 pm (Organized by Daphne Yiu and Pei Sun; Participation is based on being accepted for this PDW).

On Sunday, the \textit{Doctoral Student Consortium} (organized by Jing Li and Charlie Stevens) and the \textit{Junior Faculty Consortium} (organized by Srividya Jandhyala and João Albino-Pimentel) will run from 8 am onwards at Loyola University Chicago’s Quinlan School of Business. We are grateful for their generous hospitality and support! (Participation in the consortia is based on being accepted for the events). The consortia will be followed by a \textit{Meet the Editors} session (3:30 pm) back at the Hyatt Regency organized by Stephanie Wang. Finally, we wrap up Sunday with the \textit{IM Division Hyundai Motor Eminent Scholar Award} session where the contributions of Yadong Luo to the field of international management will be discussed and celebrated.

I hope you will enjoy these 11 PDWs and 2 consortia, which jointly add up to 36 hours of interesting sessions. See you in Chicago!

PWD Chair
At the Doctoral Student Committee, we are pleased to provide a platform for IM PhD students from around the world to connect and enrich their academic experiences within our community. Throughout the past year, the Committee has organized a series of webinars tailored to address important questions faced by PhD students.

We had the privilege of hosting distinguished speakers, Prof. Tine Köhler (University of Melbourne) who discussed the use of templates in qualitative research methods, and Prof. Tim Pollock (University of Tennessee-Knoxville) who shared insights into storytelling in academic writing. We extend our sincere appreciation to both speakers for their informative and engaging presentations. The significant attendance and the positive feedback received from attendees are indicative of the value these webinars provided.

At the AOM 2024, the Committee is organizing the IM Doctoral Student Social. This event, scheduled for August 9th, provides IM PhD students with an opportunity to develop connections and broaden their networks among fellow PhD students. Registration for attendance at this social event is required, and we encourage all interested students to register soon.

For further information or inquiries about the Committee and its initiatives, please contact me at afshin.hamrabadi@unitn.it.

Finally, I would like to thank my colleagues on the Committee: Kijong Kim (University of South Carolina), Pablo Leao (Copenhagen Business School), and Rany Salvoldi (Newcastle University) for their dedication and contributions to advancing the goals of our Committee.

Afshin Hamrabadi
AOM IM Division Doctoral Student Committee Chair
The Scholarship and Engagement Committee hosts several research webinars throughout the year as well as the annual gala event during the AOM conference. We are happy to announce that our gala event in Chicago will take place on Monday, August 12 from 8pm -11pm at the House of Blues, 329 N. Dearborn St. Chicago, IL. There will be a live band and refreshments. The gala event has always been a wonderful opportunity to meet up with old friends and make new ones in a festive and social setting.

Looking forward to seeing everyone in Chicago,
Denise Dunlap
