Digital technology is disrupting the workplace by opening a new frontier of work experiences, redefining how we work and blurring the lines between work and life. The pace and magnitude of the current digital transformation, and its effects on people and organizations, is unprecedented.

SAVE THE DATE

The Digitalization of Work and Life: Managing People and Organizations Up Close and at a Distance

MARCH 21 - 22, 2024

Preconference Evening Event: March 20
Purdue University, West Lafayette
$99 registration fee will be waived if your abstract is accepted.

Registration opens in February.

Visit the conference webpage for full conference details and updates. Registration for the conference opens soon, but abstracts are currently being accepted.
FEATURED SPEAKERS

JENNIFER GIBBS
University of California

TERRI GRIFFITH
Simon Fraser University

N. SHARON HILL
George Washington University

ARIANE OLLIER-MALATERRE
University of Quebec

LORI NISHIURA MACKENZIE
Stanford University

CRISTI TOBELMANN
Senior Vice President Human Resources
DaySmart Corporation

PATRICK K. LENIHAN
Associate Vice President & Leader of Lilly’s
Business Transformation Office
Eli Lilly & Corporation

Additional speakers are being added regularly. See the full list of expert research and business thought leaders committed to the conference.

SUBMIT AN ABSTRACT

Now accepting abstracts from scholars interested in participating. Authors whose abstracts are accepted will be invited to present their working papers in a small discussion group setting at the conference and receive developmental feedback on their ideas. The deadline to submit an abstract is February 2. Once your submission is accepted, we will contact you within the first full week of February with information on how to register.

Submission preparation:

- A cover letter with the title of the paper; and the authors’ names, affiliations, and email addresses
- Abstract with the title of the paper (750 words maximum)

Questions about submission?

Contact conference organizers Ellen Ernst Kossek or Brad Alge

VISIT THE WEBSITE

SUBMIT ABSTRACT