STATE OF INCLUSION IN THE ACADEMY

Survey of Inclusion

Summary Report of Key Findings for Division and Interest Groups

Prepared by:

Diversity & Inclusion Theme Committee
March 2015
About the Diversity and Inclusion Theme Committee

The Diversity and Inclusion Theme Committee (D&ITC) was established in 2010 by AOM President Susan Jackson and the AOM Board of Governors, with a charge to ensure that the Academy fully supports and leverages the scholarly contributions of its diverse members and contributes to their professional development.

The D&ITC’s mission is to provide learning and outreach opportunities that foster a more diverse and inclusive AOM community. The Committee’s work is guided by the following core values:

1. Diversity is all of the multiple lines of difference that characterize our current and future membership;
2. Inclusion means that all members have the opportunity to be represented, to have their voices heard and valued, and to have influence on the AOM;
3. Inclusion requires identifying and removing barriers to all members’ full participation in the activities and decision-making of the AOM;
4. The growth and success of the AOM are dependent upon having a globally diverse perspective and broadening the scope and impact of our field; and
5. The AOM will be strengthened and improved to the degree that we incorporate the knowledge and perspectives of its diverse membership and constituents.

Specifically, to accomplish its mission, the D&ITC can:

- Assist the Board and Division leaders in collecting and analyzing data concerning the professional needs of members from diverse backgrounds;
- In collaboration with the Divisions and other Theme Committees, provide opportunities for positive and appropriate interactions among members from diverse backgrounds;
- Respond to requests from Program Chairs and Journal Editors seeking names of reviewers from diverse backgrounds;
- Respond to requests from AOM leaders for possible nominees to be considered for governance positions;
- Assist in the identification and development of data that can be used to monitor members’ experiences vis-à-vis our stated values and promote an inclusive organizational climate;
- Sponsor or co-sponsor PDWs that reflect the Committee's charge;
- Serve as a liaison to AOM Affiliates, to obtain ideas and disseminate best practices;
- Provide input to the Board on Academy-sponsored initiatives related to the domain of the committee;
- Develop proposals for consideration through the AOM Strategic Doing website; and
- Recruit new members to build a robust pool of energetic committee members who will contribute to the committee’s ability to carry out its charge.

Since our founding, we have also arrived at activities beyond these tasks. Over a relatively short time, the Executive Committee has been working to create a greater awareness of D&ITC and to encourage greater participation among all members at the Academy. We accomplished this by organizing Town Hall meetings at the Annual Conference, working with divisional officers and leaders to inform them of our work (through PDWs), reaching out to AOM members at the African Conference, organizing a Connections Café, and more recently conducting a survey to assess the Academy’s inclusion/exclusion climate, which is consistent with our charge to help the Board of Governors make the Academy a truly inclusive organization.
General Information about the Survey

The survey (see Appendix 1) was sent out to 50% of the AOM membership (18,756 members) via e-mail in March, 2013. A total of 1,077 members participated in the survey (11.8% response rate), with approximately 800 usable surveys. Below are some basic demographic characteristics of the sample. Demographic categories were chosen for inclusion in the study based on key areas of difference identified by sample respondents as potential exclusionary factors (e.g., non-U.S., non-academic).

Given that the sample differed significantly from the overall AOM membership on the International Status demographic, is hard to determine if the sample is representative of the AOM membership as a whole.

Note: Because the Management, Spirituality, and Religion Division, Research Methods Division, and Strategizing, Activities, and Practice Division had fewer than 10 responses to the survey, these divisions were not included in the results below.
Divisional Findings

Business Policy & Strategy (BPS) Division (N = 90)

The BPS division is concerned with the roles and problems of general managers and those who manage multi-business firms or multi-functional business units.

Divisional Officers
Christoph Zott, Chair
Alfonso Gambardella, Chair Elect
Brian Silverman, Program Chair
Mary J. Benner, Asst Program Chair
Rajshree Agarwal, Past Chair

BPS members report lower perceived inclusion in their division, compared to other AOM members.

BPS members feel they have lower perceived insider status within their own division, as compared to the average AOM member.

Overall, BPS members report lower perceived organizational support from their division, compared to other AOM members.
Careers (CAR) Division (N = 10)

The CAR division addresses people’s lifelong succession of work experiences, the structure of opportunity to work, and the relationship between careers and other aspects of life.

Divisional Officers
Kimberly A. Eddleston, Chair
Tania Casado, Chair-Elect
Corinne A. Post, Program Chair
Bert Schreurs, PDW Chair
Peter Heslin, Past Chair

CAR members’ feelings of inclusion and exclusion are not significantly different from AOM members’ in other divisions.

CAR members have higher perceived insider status in their division.

CAR members also report higher perceived organizational support from their division, and report greater organizational commitment to their division than the average AOM member.
Conflict Management (CM) Division (N = 15)

The CM division supports research, teaching and practice in the areas of conflict, power, and negotiation. It focuses on the nature and management of conflicts at the individual, group, organizational, interorganizational and societal level.

Divisional Officers

ENT members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
Gender and Diversity in Organizations (GDO) (N = 34)

The GDO division aims to generate and disseminate knowledge about gender and diversity within and outside of organizations, to embrace diverse perspectives in organizational research and education, and to support social justice through the inclusion of marginalized voices in members’ research and practice.

Divisional Officers
Charmine Hartel, Chair
Lisa H. Nishii, Chair-Elect
W.E. Douglas Creed, Program Chair
Patrick F. McKay, Program Chair-Elect/PDW
Stacy Blake-Beard, Past Chair

GDO members report higher perceived organizational support from their division, and greater affective commitment to their division than the average AOM member.

Perceived Inclusion/Exclusion

GDO members have higher perceived inclusion within their division, compared with the average AOM member. They also report greater perceived insider status within their division.
Health Care Management (HCM) Division (N = 12)

The HCM division is dedicated to understanding the role of professionals and organizations in providing health care both locally and internationally.

Divisional Officers
Rebecca S Wells, Chair
Ann Scheck McAlearney, Chair-Elect
Victoria Parker, Program Chair
Amy Yarbrough Landry, Program Chair-Elect
Eric W. Ford, Past Chair

HCM members’ scores on all constructs except for Access to Information are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.

HCM members report feeling they have significantly greater access to information within AOM than do AOM members in general.
The HR division is dedicated to a better understanding of how work organizations can perform more effectively by better management of their human resources.

Divisional Officers
Frederick Morgeson, Chair
David P. Lepak, Chair-Elect
Maria Kraimer, Program Chair
Deidra J. Schleicher, PDW Chair
Tamara Lynn Giluk, Past Chair

HR division members feel they have less Access to Influence in the AOM than do all AOM members in general. On the other hand, they report having greater Access to AOM Information.

HR members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores with the exception of Access to Influence and Access to Information.
International Management (IM) Division (N = 35)

The IM division focuses on content pertaining to the theory, research, and practice of management with a cross-border or cross-cultural dimension.

Divisional Officers
Sea Jin Chang, Chair
Alvaro Cuervo-Cazurra, Chair-Elect
Jaideep Anand, Program Chair
Aya S. Chacar, PDW Chair
Jennifer Spencer, Past Chair

IM members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
Management Consulting (MC) Division (N = 18)

The MC division aims to advance knowledge and understanding of management consulting, and to aid in the development of consultants from the perspectives of research, practice and teaching.

Divisional Officers
Kathleen A. Edwards, Chair
Soeren Henning Jensen, Program Chair
Rosa Nelly Trevinyo-Rodriguez, PDW Chair
Joanne Preston, Past Chair

MC members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
Management History (MH) Division \( (N = 10) \)

The MH Division is concerned with the chronological tracing of the development of contemporary managerial concepts, techniques, behaviors, and practices with the intent of demonstrating (in) effectiveness within a given context, setting, or organization; reviews of how the discipline might learn from and avoid making the mistakes of the past;

Divisional Officers
Roland E. Kidwell, Chair
Stephanie Case Henagan, Chair-Elect
Bradley Gerald Bowden, Program Chair
Stephanie Pane, PDW Chair
Milorad Novicevic, Past Chair

MH members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores with the exception of perceived organizational support from their division.

MH members report higher perceived organizational support from their division as compared to the average for all AOM members.
Managerial and Organizational Cognition (MOC) Division (N = 15)

The MOC Division is devoted to understanding individual, relational, and collective cognition in organizational contexts. It provides innovative developmental support for a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches to studying managerial and organizational cognition.

Divisional Officers
Elizabeth George, Chair
Kevin W. Rockmann, Chair
David Sluss, Program Chair
Spencer Harrison, PDW Chair
Kyle Lewis, Past Chair

MOC members' scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members' mean scores, with the exception of Access to Information from AOM.

MOC members report having more access to information from AOM compared to the AOM member average.
Organizational Behavior (OB) Division (N = 136)

OB is devoted to understanding individuals and groups within an organizational context. The field focuses on attributes, processes, behaviors, and outcomes within and between individual, interpersonal, group, and organizational levels of analysis.

Divisional Officers

OCIS focused on the study of behavioral, economic, and social aspects of communication and information systems within and among organizations or institutions.

Divisional Officers
Youngjin Yoo, Chair
Paul Leonardi, Chair-Elect
Mary Beth Watson-Manheim, Program Chair
Emmanuelle Vaast, Program Chair-Elect
Kevin Crowston, Past Chair

OCIS members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
Organizational Development and Change (ODC) Division (N = 30)

The ODC division is devoted to empirical research, theory development, and practical application concerning all forms of organization change. The content domain focuses on the processes and outcomes of organization change and development at the individual, group, organizational, and institutional levels using multiple methods and perspectives.

Divisional Officers
Sonja Sackmann, Chair
David Grant, Chair-Elect
Julie Wolfram Cox, Program Chair
John Matthew Amis, PDW Chair
Jeffery D. Ford, Past Chair

ODC members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
Operations Management (OM) Division (N = 10)

Operations Management focuses on the management of the transformation processes that create products or services. Major topics include operations strategy, product and service development, supply chain management, project management, and quality management, as well as international, human resources, environmental, and IT issues facing operations.

Divisional Officers
Stephan Vachon, Chair
Dayna Simpson, Chair-Elect
John Gray, Program Chair
Manpreet Hora, PDW Chair
Kevin Linderman, Past Chair

OM members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
Organization and Management Theory (OMT) Division (N = 64)

OMT involves building and testing theory about organizations, their members and their management, organization-environment relations, and organizing processes. The division celebrates theoretical activity, methodological pluralism and linkages between theory and practice.

Divisional Officers
Candace Jones, Chair
Ann Langley, Program Chair
Marc-David Seidel, Program Chair-Elect
Michael Lounsbury, Past Chair

OMT members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
ONE involves research, theories and practices regarding relationships of organizations and the natural environment. As the natural environment is integral in all individual, organizational and societal activity, the interest group encourages holistic, integrative, and interdisciplinary analysis.

Divisional Officers

George Alexander Boyne, Past Chair

PNP members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores, with the exception of perceived organizational support from their division.

PNP members feel greater organizational support from their division, compared with all AOM members across divisions.
Social Issues in Management (SIM) Division (N = 20)

SIM encompasses the exploration and analysis of various environments' and stakeholders' influence upon the organization and the organization's effect upon these groups.

Divisional Officers
Michael L. Barnett, Chair
Harry J. Van Buren, III, Chair-Elect
Jamie R Hendry, Program Chair
Douglas A. Schuler, Program Chair-Elect
Jennifer Griffin, Past Chair

SIM members' scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members' mean scores, with the exception of affective organizational commitment to their division.

SIM members report higher organizational commitment to their division, compared with all AOM members across divisions.
Technology and Innovation Management (TIM) Division (N = 21)

TIM encourages interdisciplinary scholarship and dialogue on the management of innovation and technological change from a variety of perspectives, including strategic, managerial, behavioral, and operational issues.

Divisional Officers
Dianne H. B. Welsh, Chair
Mary Triпасas, Chair-Elect
Keld Laursen, Program Chair
Aija Elina Leiponen, Program Chair-Elect
Riitta Katila, Past Chair

TIM members’ scores on all constructs are not significantly different from all AOM members’ mean scores.
Conclusion

Based on the interpretable findings, it appears that there are divisions which are doing very well on the diversity and inclusion dimensions, most likely based on innovative programming and initiatives, as well as some divisions which may benefit from the adoption of other divisions' best practices. The Diversity and Inclusion Theme Committee’s Best Practices subgroup will work toward gathering information about these best practices in 2015-16, to disseminate this information throughout AOM.
